The Editor's column

By S. R. PADDOCK

North Western railroad after hollering long and loud over the money it loses handling commuters now joyfully announces that with the abandonment of west coast service, it will give more attention and better service to their commuter business.

Are they turning the other cheek or are they just gluttons for punishment?

It would certainly be great if some of those old cars were sent to the junk heap.

We believe that sooner or later all suburbs will recognize their water and sewer burdens have become too great for lone municipalities to handle them. They will ask for help on a county-wide basis.

Park Manor, east of Laurinwood, is now officially a part of Arlington Heights and entitled to all its rights and privileges.

The village has bitten off something. Lots on the east and south, 25 ft. in width, were originally designed for business. They are not acceptable for residential. What is their status?

The old days are fading fast. The Illinois legislature, in its last session, approved a bill providing that cuspidors need not be provided in public buildings.

Ash trays have taken their place but a lot of smokers still fail to use them.

While we personally preferred the village manager plan under an ordinance plan, we are glad that Arlington Heights voters will have the opportunity to express their preference.

The referendum can be considered an answer to our inquiry last week, "where do we go from here?" — the ballot booth.

The biggest news we received this week came from President Olis of the Chicago Sanitary District. We do not know if the municipalities of Des Plaines, and Mt. Prospect are aware that the state legislature has given the district authority to handle drainage as well as sewage.

Olis told us that there is no reason, he knows of, why the sanitary district can not take over Weller Creek. It can also now construct sewers in unincorporated areas. What are we waiting for?

Bensenville has reason to be rather proud of its new high school building which was dedicated Sunday. Its architect found new ways to save on construction costs. We suggest that school boards in Cook county make a tour of that school.

For the benefit of those who often say, "single story construction is expensive," we quote from the dedication brochure:

"The streamlined basic pattern with its compact modular construction, its lighter weight walls and footings, and without stairways, has resulted in substantial ecomomies in building. The use of painted concrete block walls exposed steel girders, minimum classroom size and ceiling heights has also helped to reduce costs."

Are we moving fast? Vernon L. Nickell, state school superintendent, speaking at the Bensenville high school dedication Sunday, said that the average high school graduate of today knows more than did the college graduate 15 years ago.

Perhaps we old timers who are thirsting for knowledge should go back to high school if we desire to catch up with the world.

A physician told us this week that the doctor of today has to do a lot of learning if he is to keep up with modern medicine. Those sulfa drugs were considered a miracle a short time ago. Today the doctors know they are not a cureall and to get the miracle the physician must know how to use them and the new miracle drugs that are appearing almost daily.

Is the expression "mature judgment" to be thrown out the window? Some of these old time politicians do not like to admit that the struggling young voter seeking a foothold upon the political ladder has any right to be there.

* * *

Newsprint is getting short in supply. We have been informed Paddock Publications cannot increase its quota for 1956. We must either stop circulation growth, cut the length of stories and news matter or curb the use of pictures.

Contributors are asked to bear with us if our editors are compelled to use shears on articles submitted for publication or limit the number of pictures used.

Mention of a county-wide police force in some of our municipalities is like waving a red flag before an enraged bull. They think that home rule would be threatened by any such action.

Too many people are so strongly "America First" that they will not admit many of the municipal problems are becoming too big for home rule.

Sheriff Lohman and Mayor Daley told the Cook county suburban publishers last Friday that they are not conspiring against the suburbs. They have no intention of "eating them alive." They are just offering to help them overcome the obstacles that confront them.

Arlington To Vote On City Manager Plan

Four Trustees in Angry Debate On Village Manager Ordinance

Tempers flared and debate was tense Tuesday night in a town meeting discussion of village manager government for Arlington Heights.

Four trustees of the village board appeared before the Eastwood Community association in Arlington Heights field house to explain their stands on repeal of the village manager ordinance.

Participating were Trustee Forrest Davis, who initiated the move to eliminate the ordinance, Trustee John Hoover, one of 3 board members who supported the motion, and Trustees Richard Bronwell and Robert Bishop, vigorous supporters of manager government.

"THIS PRESENT board does not feel it must inherit without question the set of laws established by a predecessor board," Hoover told the 75 citizens. He said the board worked 5 months with the ordinance and manager before realizing "just what we had inherited."

Charging that the manager plan as practiced here has created "chaos in Arlington Heights," Hoover explained that the board "cannot in good conscience tell people that a village manager is good for them."

TRUSTEE Robert Bishop told the group that opponents to a manager are supporting a referendum because the "uprising from the people has prompted the willful majority (on the board) to change their minds."

Pointing out that "immediate action" on the manager question was a campaign promise in the last election, Bishop asked why the board waited 5 months to act and then at 2 a.m.

"Is it just coincidence," questioned the trustee, "that the motion was made the day after voter registration books were closed, thus robbing many citizens of the right to vote in a referendum?"

He accused the village president and majority on the board of "deliberately ignoring the village manager and not permitting the plan to operate."

DECLARING that there is "complete incompetency in the village office with financial books in a sad case," Trustee Forrest Davis accused Bishop of "wild statements not factual," "outright untruth," and "outright lie."

"The village manager hasn't accomplished his job," said Davis. "The plan is not workable in Arlington Heights."

Stating that the village faces "complex problems that some members of the board do not understand," he said there needs to be a "Christian spirit of fairness" among trustees.

"LET'S HAVE things done for the good of the community and not for the good of votes," urged Trustee Richard Bronwell. "Running this village is nearly a million dollar proposition which requires efficient business management."

He cited the plan for a village comptroller a "hoax" and an "effort to get a puppet."

"The board majority has used scare tactics and lied about the village manager's accomplishments," said Bronwell, adding that they want to get rid of Buechner because "he can't be controlled."

"The issue," concluded the trustee, "is honest government versus puppet shows."

IN REPLY to a question from the floor, Davis said he waited until 2 a.m. to make his motion because it "came up at the proper time on the agenda under new business."

Although Hoover declined to commit himself on manager government because of the "present hysteria," Davis stated specifically that he is opposed to a village manager in Arlington Heights because "it is premature at this time and not a cure-all for municipal ills."

In Philadelphia

Arlington Heights Police Chief Carl H. Skoog and Mrs. Skoog left Wednesday for Philadelphia, Pa., where the chief will attend the annual international police convention.

He has combined the meeting of the professional police society with his regular vacation.

Girl, 21, Hurt In Rand Road Wreck

A 21-year-old McHenry woman was critically injured Sunday night when she was hurled from an auto in a collision at Palatine and Rand rds.

It was the latest in the series of serious accidents which plague U. S. 12.

Confined to Resurrection hospital is Miss Betty Teter of McHenry. She was thrown from a car driven by Wayne Krause, 23, of route 1, McHenry, when it crashed headlong into 2 others at the Palatine-Rand intersection north of Arlington Heights.

Eleven Drivers Are Fined $270 For Local Traffic Violations

Eleven motorists were fined $270 Monday night in Arlington Heights police magistrate's court.

Judge William F. Neumann presided with Stanley Billick, Village prosecutor, presenting the cases.

A 20-year-old Chicago youth was fined $45 and costs on charges of disorderly conduct, unnecessary noise with a motor vehicle and failure to have a second state license plate.

An Arlington Hts. man was fined $100 and costs for drunken driving and an additional $10 for driving without tail lights.

A 24-year-old apprentice machinist was fined $10 for driving recklessly through a service station on Northwest hwy.

Other violations included failure to yield the right of way, going through traffic lights and stop signs, improper left turn, and speeding.

Final Selection of Hospital Site Withheld Two Weeks

BULLETIN

The board of trustees of the Northwest Community Hospital center has postponed until after October 7 an announcement of the site for the proposed hospital.

Earlier, the board had said it would select a site this week.

A spokesman for the trustees told Paddock Publications that "certain details" must be settled before the board can make a final decision.

The hospital snowball kept rolling bigger and bigger this week as residents of the northwest towns continued their campaign to promote a community hospital for this area.

"Kaffee Klatsches so far have netted $1,040.35 with more than 1,700 persons participating. With scores of envelopes still out, it is almost certain that the $2,000 mark will be reached.

Arlington Heights Newcomers club is sponsoring a benefit card party tonight with tickets available at the door.

AN ADULT dancing class, with tuition turned over to the hospital fund, is being promoted by Arlington Heights VFW.

A program by the Arlington Heights Barber Shop Quartet singers is being sponsored by the Womans club.

Two young musicians—a concert pianist and a dramatic soprano—will combine their talents November 27 for a mammoth concert with all proceeds going into the hospital fund.

Kappa Delta Northwest suburban alumni are having card parties to raise funds for the hospital.

Palatine firemen collected $10 at a picnic last week, and a group of Palatine boys lead by Conrad Bergo, 254 N. Plum Grove, has donated the $5 they made from a molding business they started.

THE ORCHARD HILL Community association is planning a rummage sale Saturday to aid the fund.

Details on these and other hospital activities may be found elsewhere in this week's editions.

Historical Pageant to Depict 100 Years at Presbyterian Church

Past trials and triumphs of the First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights will come to life once more as highlights of church history are enacted in an historical play, "The First One Hundred Years," which will be one of the features of the church's Centennial observance week, October 9 to 16.

A cast of more than 40 persons is being selected and coached by Mrs. Dennis Malcolmson, of the Village Theatre, and the script for the play was prepared by Mrs. Robert Hawley and based upon authentic reports from the historical files of the church.

ONE SCENE will show the meeting at which the church was formally organized, and another will depict the arrival of a new minister to take over his pastorate in a new church building which was only partially constructed. Among other amusing scenes will be one in which the organization of the Ladies Aid society is shown – back in the days when men were also members of the ladies' society.

More recent scenes will also be recalled, with one showing the dedication of the new sanctuary on north Dunton, with a flashback featuring the Rev. C. Victor Brown, pastor of the church here from March 1, 1947, to February 1, 1955.

Characters performing in the earlier scenes representing the formative days of the church will be costumed in clothing typical of the period. Choir music called for in certain of the historical scenes will be performed by a special choir directed by Earl Auge, who also directs the regular church choir.

Performance dates for the historical play have been announced as follows: Wednesday evening, October 12, at 8 o'clock; Thursday evening, October 13, at 8 o'clock, and Sunday afternoon, October 16, at 3:30 o'clock.

TICKETS will be made available at the church office next week. All performances will be held in the church gymnasium. Tickets will be distributed on a first-come, first-serve basis until the capacity of the gymnasium is exhausted for the 3 performances.

Also highlighting the Centennial observance week will be the special commemorative services Sunday, Oct. 9, and Sunday, Oct. 16. On the latter day, there will be 3 services, to provide accommodations for all who may wish to attend. The sermon at all 3 services will be delivered by Reverend C. Victor Brown, who is now serving as pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Gary, Ind.

Also returning to Arlington Heights for the Presbyterian church centennial will be 2 other former pastors: Rev. Herman A. Kossack, who is now pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Iron River, Wis., and Rev. Herman G. McCoy, who is pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Highland, Ind.

Citizens Hear Final Plans For New High School

A final review of plans for the proposed second high school building on Foundry rd., was made Tuesday at a joint meeting of the high school board of education and the citizens lay advisory committee.

George H. Sheppard and Nicholas J. Lattoff were co-chairmen. Charles Nicol, senior partner of the architectural firm of Nicol and Nicol, presented plans and discussed in detail construction methods, schedules and costs.

Plans, both architectural and financial, which follow the recommendations made to the board by the citizens committee as step 2 in solving the district's pressing enrollment problem, were unanimously approved by the committee. Support in the forthcoming bond issue referendum was pledged.

Details with respect to the building itself, cost and referendum schedule will be announced next week following formal adoption of the plan by the board of education, which has been unanimous in its support of the plan as the best and most satisfactory solution of the problem.

Local League Shows Power Of Women

Since 1920, when the fight for women's right to vote was ended with the 19th amendment, the League of Women Voters has been convincing women that it wasn't enough to get ballots in their hands and wave them like flags of victory.

THEY WANT WOMEN to use their votes like tickets — to go places.

The League has also recognized the need for supplying women with accurate facts on important issues and with a medium for intelligent group action.

Today there are more than 960 local Leagues in 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii, and the District of Columbia.

One of the newest is in Arlington Heights, which will complete its provisional period in April and become a regular local League.

THE ORGANIZATION — which has 10,000 members in Illinois — is non-partisan and seeks only to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation in government.

When it feels that in the public interest certain laws are needed, the League campaigns, and vigorously. In Illinois, the organization was instrumental in achieving better maternal and infant care, mothers' pensions, child labor laws, an 8-hour working day, a state reformatory for women, equal rights for women, state civil service, school aid, city manager government, jury service for women, and modernization of public welfare facilities.

Its current agenda includes studies of U. S. trade policies and the relationship between individual liberty and the public interest.

Head of the Arlington Heights League is Mrs. Marc A. Law Jr., CLearbrook 3-5916.

St. James Pupils Will Visit Capitol, Shrine October 21

A pilgrimage to Washington, D. C., will be made October 21 by 122 pupils of St. James Catholic school, Arlington Heights.

Accompanying the youngsters on the trip will be 7 adults and 6 nuns from St. James convent. They will return by train October 24.

In Washington, the group will see foreign embassies, Lincoln Memorial, Pan American union, the Capitol, Supreme court, Smithsonian Institute, Washington Monument, Congressional library, and other national shrines.

Also included in the intinerary is a visit to Mt. Vernon and the famous shrine of the Immaculate Conception at Catholic University of America.

College Student Is Stricken With Polio; In Iowa Hospital

A college freshman from Arlington Heights is confined to a Des Moines hospital with bulbar polio.

He is Peter Holloway, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Holloway, 1004 Oakton st., and a student at Grinnell college, Grinnell, Iowa. A 1955 graduate of Arlington Heights high school, the youth is at Iowa Lutheran hospital, where he was taken September 22 and is still in critical condition.

Vienna Chorus Opens Concert Association Season October 9

The first concert of the Arlington Heights community concert association will be October 9 in the new high school gymnasium.

Featured will be the Vienna academy chorus, acclaimed as one of the finest singing groups in the world. The 24-voice group is composed of graduates of the Vienna Academy of Music.

The program will include works from great choral literature, Viennese music, and a collection of Austrian folk songs.

Now in its third American tour, the chorus has sung at the Edinburg and Salzburg festivals and has done extensive recording work.

New residents who have moved into the Arlington Heights area since April have an opportunity to become members of the association. The program includes 4 concerts during the fall and winter season.

Interested persons should contact Mrs. Arthur Franzen, CLearbrook 3-0525.

Two Groups File Petitions; Organization Formed in Support

The issue of village manager government for Arlington Heights will be settled at the polls, probably sometime in November.

Petitions signed by more than a thousand residents were presented Tuesday to County Judge Otto Koerner, who set a hearing date for October 18 at 10 a.m. in county court.

BULLETIN

In a statement to Paddock Publications Wednesday afternoon, Trustee John Hoover said:

"During the recent election campaign, I stated that if there were to be a referendum on the question of whether we should have a village manager system in Arlington Heights, I would personally support the affirmative proposition. My experience since having been on the board has not altered that. In fact, it has intensified it.

"During the coming campaign, I will speak in behalf of the village manager referendum."

The petitions, requesting a referendum on the village manager plan, were submitted to Judge Koerner by trustees John Hoover and Fred Weber, and by Gerald Chapman, co-chairman of Citizens for a Village Manager.

If the court finds the signatures authentic, an election date will be set.

TRUSTEE HOOVER Tuesday night said he thought the voting may be the third Tuesday in November, although he added it would be a "good idea" to have it on a Saturday to enable a larger turnout.

Controversy has been boiling since Trustee Forrest Davis moved at the Sept. 20 board meeting that an ordinance be prepared repealing the ordinance creating a village manager.

The motion was made at 2 a.m. shortly before the board adjourned.

Four trustees supporting the move released the following statement explaining their action:

"The action taken by the village board at its meeting September 20 was intended to bring about public discussion of the question of the continued desirability o. the village manager system in the village of Arlington Heights. We also mean to encourage expression on the relative merits of the systems by ordinance and by referendum.

"IF THERE IS TO be a village manager in our municipality, we prefer that the statutory method be implemented by the vote of the electorate. Otherwise, the talent and experience of such a professional tends to be exploited limitedly in the performance of tasks that could be more inexpensively done by department heads and clerical employees.

"In order that this philosophy might be given vitality and this question resolved, we have undertaken to call upon the county judge, Hon. Otto Koerner, to direct the holding of a referendum election on the proposition. The postponement of the pending repeal of the village manager ordinance shall be supported by us until the election mandate has been expressed. Without this, we feel that the respective roles of the village board, its president, the village manager, and the village officers shall remain uncertain and undefined."

The statement was signed by Trustees Davis, Hoover, Millay, and Weber.

MEANWHILE, an active organization to promote village manager government was being formed with Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Chapman, 903 N. Kaspar, as chairmen.

The group, known as Citizens for a Village Manager, had enlisted more than 200 active workers in less than a week.

Declares Mrs. Chapman: "We will organize our campaign for good government on a block level."

The Arlington Greens community association is sponsoring a public meeting Thursday, Oct. 6 at 8 p.m. in the VFW hall. Members of the village board will speak on the village manager controversy.

County-Wide Sanitary District Before Voters November 1956

Drainage problems of municipalities and rural areas may be solved if the voters of Cook county approve the formation of a county-wide sanitary district at the November election next year. Anthony Olis, president of the Chicago Sanitary District, so informed Cook county suburban publishers at its annual meeting Friday afternoon.

Olis told Paddock Publications Monday that there is little to stand in the way of the district's taking over Weller creek. Until enabling legislation was passed by the last legislature, the Chicago Sanitary District was limited to sewage operation. It can now handle drainage, which appears to be the answer to the many areas within the district, which are flooded every spring.

WITH FORMATION of a county-wide district, its name may be changed to the Sanitary District of the Metropolitan area. It is expected that the votes by residents of villages, cities and area subdivisions which have suffered heavy losses by the recurring floods, will give their approval.

If formed, it would also relieve Palatine and the Plum Grove area of their Salt Creek problem.

DUPAGE COUNTY expects to vote on a $5,000,000 bond issue for the operation of a sanitary district. The village of Wood Dale, through which Salt Creek passes at times, has raw sewage coming out of the ground.

Subdividers who are faced with questionable septic tanks will watch with interest the formation of the proposed district. If organized, the new district will presumably have the power to condemn land and to start special assessment proceedings in rural areas which are to be served by a system of sewer mains.

Dance Class To Benefit NW Hospital

Swing your partner — and at the same time support a hospital for the northwest suburbs.

That's the aim of Arlington Hts. VFW which starts an adult dancing class Oct. 13 under the direction of Muriel Mills, who is donating her time for the project.

The registration fee for 10 hours instruction is $10 per person — and it will be turned over to the hospital fund.

Enrollment is limited to 20 couples.

Instruction will include ballroom, rumba, tango, samba, mambo, and the "cha cha cha."

Classes will be Thursday evening in the VFW hall on the following dates: Oct. 13, Oct. 27, Nov. 10, Dec. 1, and Dec. 8.

Registrations may be made with Mrs. Alex Angeloff, CLearbrook 3-4205.

Navy Recruiting Branch Station Opens In Arlington

A team of Navy recruiters has been assigned to Arlington Heights and the surrounding area. Their office is located at 106 West Wing.

The Recruiter in charge is Fred J. Oehmke, Chief Aviation Machinist's Mate with 28 years of active Naval service. Assistant recruiter is Dennis C. Barber, steelworker First Class with 10 years of active navel service.

Everyone is invited to come in, ask questions about the Navy, Naval Reserve Officer's Training Corps or Naval Reserve. They also have free literature for anyone interested in the Navy. (B-5

Palatine Police Chief Captures Man Charged With Check Passing

Chief Meyer, Palatine, took Leonard C. Koets, Baldwin and Florence rd., into custody Sunday on warrant issued in McHenry County where he is in jail charged with passing checks. Other places of operation were Forest Park, Park Ridge, and Joliet. He is a bachelor and resides alone.

He is a garage mechanic and has been employed by Palatine Motors, George C. Poole, Roto Mercury, Eggert Nash, Park Ridge and was employed at time of his arrest by Elgin Mercury.

Ask Septic Tank Regulation In Incorporated Areas

Dr. John B. Hall, director of the Cook county health department, Monday called on the county board to regulate the installation of septic tanks in incorporated communities in the county.

The board is now considering more stringent regulation of septic tanks in the unincorporated areas.

Commented Hall: "There are a number of incorporated cities and villages in suburban Cook county where individual sewage disposal systems are used and where numerous failures are occurring."

Hall reminded the board that, in their capacity as county board of health, they can enact regulations enforceable by the county health department.

Dr. Hall asked the board to give his suggestion its "active consideration." He called on the board to "take such action as may be necessary to resolve this problem."

The board referred Hall's request to its building and zoning committee, which has been studying the septic tank problem in the unincorporated areas.

Here is Arlington's Park Plan To Solve Village Growing Pains

Arlington's master park plan is designed to augment present overcrowded facilities and provide an "oasis of green" for each of the village's neighborhoods.

Announced last week by the village park board, the plan encompasses plans for expansion and improvement of an already owned 23-acre site, located in the suburb's southwest section.

"This will permit the city to take advantage of park facilities on either side of the natural barriers of Northwest highway and the North Western railroad tracks," said Edward Wahl, park board president.

In addition to a new community park area, which will include a new swimming pool, Arlington's master park plan will also offer the village neighborhood parks in key spots chosen geographically to provide an "oasis of green" for each area, Wahl added.

IN THE COMMUNITY park, to be situated between Kennicott, Fernandez, Grove and Fairview aves., Arlington will boast a new fieldhouse designed not to duplicate present facilities but rather to widen the scope of already limited activities.

The new community house will include a large multi-purpose room for dances, youth meetings and adult lecture and discussion groups; facilities for small meetings, modern arts and crafts classes, and a small kitchen.

Architecturally, it will be in the modern suburban theme, a low rambling one-story structure of Roman brick and lannon stone, completely landscaped.

The new community park will also include a natural out-door amphitheatre for summer concerts, plays, and scout jamborees or other youth activities.

It will include 4 baseball diamonds; a full-size league diamond, and 3 smaller softball diamonds, suitable for Little League and youth teams.

NO LESS THAN 3 standard-sized tennis courts, plus 3 hard-surfaced game courts will be provided.

Following the most modern outline for park expansion, Arlington's master park plan will include improvement of 3 existing park sites, donated by local builders under recent ordinance powers, in the northwest, west and east sections of the village.

These areas will provide adequate baseball facilities, plus modern youth apparatus and tot play space, complete with landscaping.

Funds of the proposed bond issue will permit purchase and improvement of 2 additional neighborhood park sites in the northwest and southwest sections of Arlington.

Eastwood Events

Association News

The regular monthly meeting of the Eastwood association will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the field house. Residents are urged to attend as speaker for the evening will be J. Brown Hardison, publisher and author, and his subject will be the atom bomb blast. Mr. Hardison who witnessed the atom blasts, is well prepared to inform members of the ruins and destruction that lie in the wake of the bomb.

This October 4 meeting is not to be confused with the town meeting held this week arranged by Eastwood, with trustees Forrest Davis, John Hoover, Bob Bishop and Dick Bronwell giving their views on the village manager issue.

Bridge Tournament

Those in the bridge tournament can be expecting their October hostess to be calling soon to make the first bridge date for the season. Schedules have not been delivered as yet, but those entertaining have been notified by phone. Couples will meet at the homes of Jack Anderson, Chuck Bennett, Wally Ellertson, Garth Heisig, Foster Travis, Frank Patton and Bob Wallace.

Jackie Mutti celebrated his twelfth birthday last Saturday with a party attended by 7 friends. The boys, Bob and Rickey Harbour, Larry Jauch, Joey and Paul Heitz, Billy Kasper and Dennis Fitz-Patrick, enjoyed a barbecue supper after attending the late afternoon show at the Arlington theatre.

Treasure Hunt

A treasure hunt kept the youngsters busy who helped David Carlsen observe his eighth birthday September 24. Among those present were Howard Baker, Phillip Neas, Danny Roth, Nickey Tuttle, Billy and Charles Stewart, Alan Aspengren, Gary McCosh and Freddie Barker. David is the son of the Haldor Carlsens of Euclid ave.

The John Kelly family is happy to have Mr. Kelly's mother visiting with them for several weeks. She stopped here enroute from an Hawaiian vacation to her home in Sharpsville, Pa.

Family Celebration

Judy Babbs, daughter of the J. M. Babbs of N. Douglas was feted at a family celebration last Saturday honoring her 17th birthday. Judy is a senior at St. Pat academy in Des Plaines.

Bobby Inman especially enjoyed his 13th birthday as his did, Bill Inman, got tickets for the Northwestern - Miami game last Saturday. Bobby's guests were his brother, Greg, Rusty Walters, Paul Nurlen and Tom Clark.

Presbyterian Church Announces Leaders For University Of Life

Group leaders for the second annual University of Life program, sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights have just been announced by Paul C. Green, chairman of the program committee. The 4-week program will get underway at the local church Sunday evening, Oct. 23, he said.

The Rev. Paul L. Stumpf, newly-installed pastor of the Arlington Presbyterian church will lead a discussion group in one of the courses entitled Protestant church history. Rev. Stumpf comes to Arlington following a long and successful ministry at Roseland, Chicago, where he also held numerour important posts in the Chicago Presbytery which qualify him as a spokesman for the role of the Protestant church in modern times.

Returning to the University of Life again this year is Dr. Vartan Melconian, director of field work and associate professor of practical theology at McCormick theological seminary, Chicago. Dr. Melconian is recognized as one of the nation's outstanding authorities on New Testament literature and its interpretation and will lead a study group in a New Testament study course.

The Rev. Donald W. Deane, graduate student at the University of Chicago divinity school, will head a group in a discussion of the question: Developing a Philosophy of Life. Rev. Deane has held several pastorates and has also seen service in church field work. He is currently specializing in the field of pastoral counseling.

Completing the roster of group leaders for this year's University of Life program is Thomas T. Chapin, student pastor of the Hickory Hills Community church and a divinity student at McCormick theological seminary. Mr. Chapin will direct activities of participants in a course entitled Bible Times . . . Aids to New Testament study.

Green said that details regarding registration for the University of Life would be made available next week. He reported that each week's session would begin at 7:45 p.m. and conclude at 9:15.

St. James Mothers To Hear Talk On Handwoven Fabrics

Mothers club of St. James Catholic Womens guild, Arlington Heights, will meet in the school hall October 13.

Mrs. John Mutti, program chairman, has planned with Mrs. Edw. McGrath to present Mrs. Harold Housekeeper and her collection of handwoven fabrics. These designs in handloomed materials are from the well-known artist, Joyce Bramlett, owner of the Plaza Weavers studio, located in the plains of the Southwest. The patterns in color are many with an assortment of combinations and rich textures in cotton, wool and silk.

Several smart round-the-clock costumes designed exclusively by Joyce Bramlett will be shown. Mrs. Housekeeper, a hobbiest in weaving and ceramics and a former fashion artist, will give a talk on the art and craft of handweaving, also the advantages of handloomed fabrics in the home.

Arrangements for the evening are being made by Mrs. John Mutti, with hostessing by room mothers of seventh graders.

Over 200 mothers attended the first fall meeting of the organization September 15 when the faculty of the school was introduced by Sr. Agnetta, new principal. Announcement was also made of plans for a dance December 2 at Chevy Chase country club. Mrs. George Carr and Mrs. Dan Kresbach, as co-hostesses, represented eighth grade mothers in serving refreshments.

Newcomers Fur Fashion Show Attracts Large Attendance

Arlington Heights Newcomers club feels that its fashion show of furs, presented at last week's regular evening meeting, was a big success. Attendance was large, including many guests and new members. For the month of September, 55 new members have increased the membership roll, thanks to Mrs. Ted Fonfara and her membership committee. Newcomers to Arlington Heights wishing more information about the club, are asked to call the membership chairman, Mrs. Ted Fonfara at CLearbrook 3-6345.

A picnic for members of the club will be held at Deer Grove at 5 p.m. Saturday. This is to be a potluck affair, and will be for couples only. Those planning on attending will bring their own beverage, silver and plates, plus the potluck dish for which they have already signed. Plans have been made for dancing later in the evening. Those who wish to sign up for the picnic are asked to call the picnic chairman, Mrs. Charles Hultgren at CLearbrook 3-8079.

Of utmost importance is the benefit card party given by Newcomers club, with proceeds going toward the construction of the Northwest Community Hospital center. The card party will be held at the VFW club, Thursday, Sept. 29, at 8 p.m. Tickets may be obtained by calling the ticket chairman, Mrs. James Turner at CL 5-1396, or may be purchased at the door the night of the benefit. A coffee hour will be included in the price of the tickets, and added attractions will be featured throughout the evening.

The pinochle chairman, Mrs. Harry Gildemeister announces that a few members of the club are still needed to fill out tables of four in the pinochle group. This group will be playing the fourth Wednesday evening of each month starting in October. Beginners and advanced players alike are asked to join, and may have more information by calling Mrs. Gildemeister at CL 3-8037.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS PHARMACY Monthly News

A message from George Harris, 'Your Pharmacist'

NATIONAL PHARMACY WEEK, October 2nd to 8th, has been set aside to remind you and ourselves that "Your Pharmacist Works For Better Community Health."

THERE ARE MANY other services we perform, but essentially our training as a Pharmacist, is to provide with proper safety, medicines that help you to get well and keep well.

COMPOUNDING PRESCRIPTIONS important enough to mean the difference between good health and bad, often life and death, requires a great mental concentration to avoid any possible error.

OUR WORKING HOURS are long because our Pharmacy is often open evenings and holidays when others can play. At the end of a long day we may momentarily feel that there surely must be an easier way to earn our daily bread.

BUT THERE IS really nothing else we would rather be than Your Pharmacist, and we thank you for the privilege of being able to serve.

EACH NIGHT we have the comforting thought that because we are a Pharmacist, we can help folks like you enjoy a healthier life.

Village Theatre, Inc. Lists 'Harvey' Cast

"Harvey" a play about a man whose best friend is a 6-foot rabbit visible only to himself, will be produced by Arlington Heights Village Theatre, Inc. Friday and Saturday, November 4 and 5, 8:30 p.m. in the Arlington Heights Junior high school gymnasium.

This famous long-run comedy by Mary Chase will be sponsored by Arlington Heights PTA. This is the fourth consecutive year that PTA is sponsoring a Village Theatre production.

This whimsical play centers about Elwood P. Dowd and his "pooka" friend. His sister, Mrs. Veta Louise Simmons, decides he should have the care of a famous psychiatrist. In the confusion Veta Louise is mistaken for the patient (she does at times see "Harvey," too). There even comes a time when the psychiatrist sees "Harvey."

Mary Tindall of Village Theatre is directing this drama. Appearing in the cast are Bob Hawley as Elwood P. Dowd; Ruth Raasch as Veta Louise Simmons; Marian Malcolmson as Myrtle Mae Simmons; Al Wilcox as Dr. Chumley; Roger Burke as Duane Wilson; Tom Grissel as Dr. Sanderson; Kay Hawley as Mrs. Chumley; Harriet Smith as Mrs. Chauvenet; Sally Opela as Ruth Kelly; Anita Wilkins as the maid; Bill Foote as Judge Gaffney and Bob Tindall as E. J. Lofgren.

Rally Day Worshipers At Methodist Church

The annual Rally day services of the Arlington Heights Methodist church school were held last Sunday. At the first service at 9:30 a.m., the nursery pre-kindergarten-kindergarten and primary department presented a program for parents and friends of the children in these departments in the church sanctuary. Also at 9:30 a. m. a special program was presented at the field house by the intermediate and high school departments.

At 11 a.m. the church school sponsored a special service featuring music by the Wesleyan choir and a duet by Jane Brant and Sandra Barbour. The Rev. Raymond Kirk gave a message commemorating the beginning of Christian Education Week in the church. At the close a special rededication service was held for the church school teachers and officers.

A total of 134 students received attendance awards for the 1954-1955 church school year. A 9-year award was given to Marcia Myers and Warren Myers; 8-year awards to Ronnie Conrad and Marshall Crane.

Newcomers Club Makes Final Plans For Benefit Card Party

Arlington Heights Newcomer's club is making final arrangements for its benefit card party, to be held this evening September 29, at 8 o'clock at the VFW club. Proceeds from this affair will go toward the construction of the Northwest Community hospital center. Mrs. Allen Patten and Mrs. Raymond Nottoli are co-chairmen for this benefit, and wish to stress that the public is invited to play bridge, canasta, or pinochle. Tickets may still be obtained by calling the ticket chairman, Mrs. James Turner at CL 5-1396, or may be purchased at the door this evening. Tickets are $1 and a coffee hour later in the evening will be included. Several added attractions are also being planned as part of the evening's entertainment.

The pinochle group of the club will be playing the fourth Wednesday evening of each month, starting in October. Those interested still have time to call the pinochle chairman, Mrs. Harry Gildemeister at CL 3-8037. Beginning players and advanced players alike are asked to join. It has been decided to play partners and Mrs. Gildemeister points out that this is a social pinochle group, and not a tournament.

Newcomers next monthly luncheon will be held at Paul Petersons Supper club, October 12, at 12:30. Bridge, canasta, and pinochle will be played after the luncheon, and prizes awarded in each. Reservations may be had by calling the luncheon chairman, Mrs. Lester Cordes at CL 3-8075 before noon Wednesday, Oct. 11. Newcomers to Arlington Heights, with residence of a year or less are invited to attend. Those who may wish information on joining the club are asked to call the membership chairman, Mrs. Ted Fonfara at CL 3-6345.

The club feels that its fashion show of furs, presented at its last regular evening meeting, was a big success. Attendance was large, including many guests and new members.

Which is your wife on washday?

Let an ELECTRIC Dryer do the work on washdays—

(Costs less to buy—yet you get the cleanest, fastest, dryest heat there is!)

Hanging up a big, heavy wet wash is one of the hardest jobs your wife does.

And what for? Today you can buy an automatic electric dryer for as little as $2.43 a week, including installation!

An electric dryer does more than save work. You can dry a big wash for a few cents. And, electric heat is the cleanest heat there is. So everything comes out smelling sweet and fresh.

In many cases, the installed price of an electric dryer is so reasonable it's your best buy. And when you buy electric, you always get an automatic dryer.

Stop in and see your dealer or our stores for a look at the latest models. Washday will be easier at your house if you do.

NOW LOW AS $2.43 A WEEK WITH NEW SHARE-THE-COST INSTALLATION PLAN

When you install a new electric dryer, we share the cost of necessary wiring. You can save important money with our New Plan. For example, in a 1-family home, electric dryer installations now cost only about half as much as before. The Plan is available at all electric appliance dealer's. Yours will tell you how much you save. And you get more than a money saving. Your TV picture improves, lights brighten—everything electrical works better. And you can install an electric range, water heater or air conditioner (that requires a 240-volt circuit) quickly and cheaply.

Releases Money To Tax Bodies

The county treasurer, probably realizing the need of local taxing bodies for funds with few exceptions, allowed the local tax collectors to turn over their second period tax collections directly to them. There were only a few taxing bodies which did not participate.

In Palatine, collector Hart was instructed to withhold only $1500 due the park district.

In Elk Grove township, Arnold Scharringhausen only withheld the second collection due the township highway commissioner. - William Annen, Wheeling township collector, has received orders to withhold from distribution a total of $35,025. His second collection totaled $441,412. The amounts to be withheld and amounts to be remitted are:

Heights Federal Open House To Fete 'Savings'

"Open House" will prevail at Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan association next week, October 2-8, as the local institution joins 189 savings and loan associations in Chicago and Cook County in observing "Start to Save Week."

The open house will enable visitors to inspect Arlington Heights Federal's expanded facilities, now occupying the entire first floor of the 11 N. State road building.

Coffee will be served throughout the week from the friendly coffee pot, and souvenirs will be given to all visitors. Regular office hours will prevail — 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., including Wednesday and Saturday; Friday, from 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m.

THEME OF THIS year's "Start to Save Week" is "Today Never Comes Again." People will be urged not to postpone their savings plans for a "tomorrow" that may never come. They will also be reminded that saving for their future in a savings and loan association brings its rewards in higher income from their money.

The taking over of additional space was made necessary by the steady growth of Arlington Heights Federal investors, according to Paul E. Collins, executive vice president.

"The new space will be allotted to our loan and bookkeeping departments," he said. "This will provide more room at the investment counter for our savers."

WORKMEN have been busy remodeling the new quarters to have them in readiness for the opening of "Start to Save Week" next Monday.

Another recent step to handle the increasing volume of association business is the new parking lot adjacent to the 11 North State road offices.

Removal of a two-story house at 15 North State road made room for 6,000 square feet of off-the-street parking facilities extending from Wing st. to the association headquarters.

A sign has been installed and the parking-lot frontage landscaped with evergreens and lawn. Entrance to the lot is on Wing st.

'Autumn Sights' To Benefit Wheeling Braille School

Before the Braille classroom became a reality at Wheeling school, 10-year-old Keith Zingleman attended the Sight Saving and Braille school in Jacksonville, Ill. Residents of Palatine, Keith's parents traveled to southern Illinois to visit Keith on weekends. Instead of progressing at the school, Keith regressed, was unhappy and wanted to be home with his family.

Keith will be blind the rest of his life. He lost his sight at the age of 6 due to atrophy of the optic nerve and can now only distinguish light from dark. He is a blond, blue-eyed, healthy youngster with an older sister and brother.

Keith has progressed considerably since he has had his family environment and that of Wheeling Braille school. He learned to use the Braille writer at the school and now has one of his own. The government provides him with a "talking book machine," much like a record player. The government also furnishes half hour records which are always enroute to Keith while he has others at home. Records include educational, musical and story records.

To further equip the Braille classroom at Wheeling school, Seventh District Juniors will present their annual "Autumn Sights" benefit dance. The affair will be held at Elmhurst Country club from 9 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. Friday, Sept. 30. Tickets may be purchased by contacting Mrs. Ralph E. Hauptley, CL. 3-4807, Arlington Heights project chairman; Mrs. John M. Grady, CL. 3-6486, Rolling Meadows Junior Womans club project chairman, or Mrs. Harold Busse, CL. 3-5119, Seventh District Junior project chairman.

Male 'War Bride' To Speak October 5 To Arlington Women

Arlington Heights Womans club will hold the first meeting of the 1955-56 club season, Wednesday, October 5, 1:15 p.m., at the field house.

Mrs. Clarence Hendrickson, president, will preside at the meeting, and introduce to club members the executive board and committee chairmen who serve for this year. The 56 new members who have joined the club this fall will be introduced by Mrs. Paul V. Colianni, membership and courtesy chairman.

Program for the afternoon will be Dr. Henri Rochard, author of the book and movie, "I Was a Male War Bride." Dr. Rochard was a native of Antwerp, Belgium, and while a patient in a German hospital during the war, met a U.S. army nurse and tried to marry her. He tells of the endless red tape and confusion that followed, until finally the American government classified him as a war bride and sent him to this country with a shipload of army wives and babies. Now an American citizen, Dr. Rochard lives in New Jersey, and writes novels and articles on foreign affairs. Because of his broad education and ability to speak 7 languages, he is in demand as speaker, teacher and business consultant on international affairs.

Mrs. W. C. Inman, hospitality chairman, will have as tea hostesses, Mrs. John R. Hagerman and Mrs. Robert M. Schneberger.

Mrs. Ronald Christie To Address League of Women Voters

Mrs. Ronald J. Christie will address the League of Women Voters tonight on the subject, "Do we want more and better taxes?" The general public is invited to attend the meeting, which will be held at 8 p.m. in the cafeteria of South school.

Mrs. S. Fredric Marks, president of the local league, Mrs. John R. Hoppe, national resource chairman, and Mrs. Clyde Emrick attended the northern Illinois regional conference on the Freedom Agenda project in Chicago September 14. About 50 League of Women Voters representatives attended the conference, which was conducted by Mrs. Harper Andrews, state chairman in charge of the Freedom Agenda. The forenoon meeting was held at 116 S. Michigan ave. and the afternoon session was at the YWCA.

The Freedom Agenda, basically a study of the Bill of Rights and the Constitution, is part of the national program of the league, and was discussed in league workshops this summer in Arlington Heights.

Representatives to the conference from Park Forest reported on the successful community-wide discussion series that has been started in that suburb. In addition to the league, sponsors have been the American Legion, Kiwanis club, and the local B'nai B'rith.

A series of discussions has also been started in the near-by communities of Highland Park and Barrington, receiving a very favorable local reaction. The League of Women Voters of Arlington Heights plans to initiate such a discussion series here in the future.

Seventh District To Hold Fall Meeting In Chicago October 12

Seventh District of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs will hold its fall meeting Wednesday, Oct. 12, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Jefferson Park Congregational church, 5318 Giddings st., Chicago. Hostess groups for the day will be the Albany Park Womans club and the Past Presidents club.

The invocation will be given by the pastor of the church, the Rev. George Cooley. Mrs. Harvey Strickler Jr., president of the seventh district, will conduct the business meeting, which will include the introduction of officers and reports of chairmen. Speakers for the morning program will be Mrs. Harold McKinley, president of the Des Plaines Womans club, Mrs. Frank Ross, state art chairman, and Mrs. Walter Sutherland, first vice-president of the state federation.

Following luncheon, Dr. Frank Gross, accompanied by Mrs. Edwin Bracke, will offer several vocal selections. The following representative scholarship winners for the summer of 1955 will be presented by the presidents of the donor clubs: art school, Miss Donna Holzer, Franklin Park; conservation school, Jack Russing, Norwood Park; music camp, Miss Sylvia Linde, Edison Park.

Featured speaker of the afternoon will be Mrs. Elizabeth Marshall of the defense advisory committee on women in public service. Her topic will be "The International Aspect of our Common Problem."

Our Saviour's Guild To Hear Rev. Fresh Tuesday Evening

The Rev. James H. Fresh, assistant executive director of the Lutheran Home Finding society of Illinois, will speak to the Womans guild of Our Saviour Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, Tuesday evening when the bi-monthly meeting of the organization is held in Dryden school at 8:15 p.m. Mrs. Raymond Woodruff, president of the guild, will conduct the meeting.

Pastor Fresh's address will be entitled, "Our Responsibility to Children," and he will place special emphasis on those children often termed "dependent." A resident of Palatine, pastor Fresh carries on his work with the society, a multiple function child caring agency, from offices in Chicago.

Through the Lutheran Home Finding society, which also maintains an office in Springfield and anticipates the opening of a new office in Rockford, children are placed in foster homes, in adoptive homes, and case work and spiritual service is rendered to the unwed mother. Some 400 children are cared for each year. The society is owned and operated by members of the American Lutheran church, the Evangelical Lutheran church, and the United Lutheran church.

Members of Circle III of the guild will be hostesses for the evening. All women of the community are invited. Members of the guild are requested to bring good used clothing in sizes 4 to 20 for the children's home project.

St. Peter Mothers Club To Hold 15th Annual Smorgasbord Friday

"Too many cooks spoil the soup," is certainly not the rule during the preparation of the 15th annual smorgasbord by the 100 members of St. Peter Mothers club which will take place at the Lutheran school, 325 N. Highland in Arlington Heights this Friday from 5 to 7:30 p.m.

Since the inception of the dinner in 1941, when only families of children attending the Lutheran school participated, it has grown from the 150 people served to 1,250 persons purchasing tickets in 1954.

Though community advertising has been used, the growth is attributed to the good food served by the ladies of the club. Guests for many miles around attend and business people in the area have standing reservations for the smorgasbord.

The 12th annual dinner was cooked under difficult circumstances. A new cafeteria for the school was being constructed in 1952. The night before the dinner was scheduled, the stoves and sinks had yet to be connected. At serving time the "amateur waitresses" had to assist the carpenters in some last minute jobs, while the guests waited in line. However, 1,133 persons were served.

To serve the guests there are 10 waitresses assisted by 20 seventh and eighth grade girls from the school. The mothers, turned waitresses for the evening, must see that 6 people per minute are served, seated and then that the vacated places are reset. It is the task of 2 women to keep the settings for 300, which belong to the cafeteria and to other church organizations, running through the dishwasher and dryer. Plastic table clothes and paper napkins are used so that places may be quickly prepared for each new guest.

Six women are directing the affair this year. Mrs. Walter Krambeer and Mrs. Ben Maschoff are in charge of preparations, while Mrs. Barney Moehling and Mrs. Walter Hawnfeld direct the cooking. Mrs. Gilbert Deu and Mrs. Ervin Westfahl have the responsibility of serving the dinner.

The force which motivates the 100 mothers to sponsor the dinner is the Christian education of their children. They assist in supplying desks and equipment for the 10-room school with 455 students when they are requested by Adolph W. Obermann, school principal.

With The Blue Birds

Leader-Girl Picnic

Arlington Heights bluebirds participated in the annual camp fire-bluebird leader-girl picnic held Thursday, September 8 at Lions Park, Mt. Prospect. Two hundred girls and their leaders enjoyed the early evening hours with cooking hamburgers and hot dogs over the charcoal fires. Games, singing, folk dancing and the joys of roasting marshmallows made the opening event of the 1955-1956 season a day to remember.

Mothers' Meetings

The week of September 12 to 16 was devoted to individual group meetings for the mothers. At this time a PTA representative was chosen for each group and a mothers' committee of 3 mothers was established in each group. Bluebird groups now number 5 in Arlington. A camp fire group is now being planned; however, leaders are needed. Anyone interested in preparing for leadership of a camp fire group, is asked to call Mrs. Louis M. Schomburg, Clearbrook 3-7017.

Blue Angel Blue Birds

Mrs. James G. Stoll, assisted by Mrs. Warren L. Sands, lead the new Blue Angels group. The 11 second graders of South school picked their group name and elected officers at the first meeting. Officers chosen were Jennifer Behrens, president; Joyce Gulbrandson, vice-president; Lenor Hamburg, secretary and Cheryl Hanneman, treasurer. Patricia Sands was shosen to light the bluebird candle and Peggy Sidor will extinguish the candle. Program committee is Linda Hawkins, songs; Susan Jones, games; Carroll Kephart, handicraft, Barbara Nesheim heads the cleanup committee and Jeanne Swanson will be hostess.

Friendly Blue Birds

Mrs. John E. Flodin's Friendly bludbirds is the newly-formed Westgate group and number 10 in all. Members had their first meeting September 20 at which time the following officers were elected: Rhonda Aagaar, president; Jean Ann Collins, vice-president; Geralyn De Zoma, secretary; Mary Lu Flodin, treasurer; Linda Nicol candle lighter; Linda Pollitz, cleanup chairman; Ellyn Laughrin, games; Diane Lorenzen, songs; Cheryl Maley, handicraft. Linda Vetter will extinguish the bluebird candle. Mrs. Chris Lorenzen is coleader of the group.

Blue Bird Wings

Another new group of South school second graders number 8 new bluebirds. Mrs. Joseph Leimert is leader of the group, assisted by Mrs. Allen Jones and Mrs. Kenneth Wessner. Officers elected for the coming weeks are Susan Belcher, president; Kathleen Bird, vice-president; Diane Erickson, secretary and Georgina Leimert, treasurer. Susan Stoll was chosen to light the bluebird candle and Robin Mills and Barbara Wessner will head the program committee. Robin will be in charge of handicraft and Barbara, songs and games. Rita Sauve will be cleanup chairman.

The annual father-daughter cook out was a huge success as evidenced by the grand turnout of bluebirds and their dads in Deer Grove Saturday. Fathers and daughters explored trails and gathered firewood along the way for their campfires. Dodge ball and group singing gave the girls and their dads a chance to get well acquainted.

Model Home Hostesses

Arlington Heights bluebirds and camp fire girls have been hostesses Saturdays and Sundays at the Better Homes and Gardens Idea home built by Trude Land Development on S. State rd. The girls will continue to welcome guests through October 2.

Former Propaganda Officer To Speak At Our Saviour's

The Brotherhood of Our Saviour United Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, will have as guest speaker tomorrow, Friday, evening Dr. Laszlo Gero, former officer in the propaganda division of the Hungarian army. The meeting will be held in Dryden school at 8:30 p.m.

Dr. Gero, who is now enrolled at the Chicago Lutheran theological seminary at Maywood, holds a doctorate in law and politics from the university at Kolozsvar. During the war his articles and radio broadcasts against communism placed him on the "wanted" list of the Russian army, who twice tried to gain custody of him while he was in American prison camps, but through the intervention of the camp officers he was able to escape capture.

In November, 1951, Dr. and Mrs. Gero were one of 100 families to come to this country under the auspices of the First Hungarian church of Cleveland. After the completion of his ministerial education, Dr. Gero hopes to work among German displaced families in the larger cities of the country.

The Brotherhood invites all men of the community to attend the meeting to hear Dr. Gero's story of his experiences. Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting by a committee headed by Richard Brettner.

Holy communion will be celebrated at Our Saviour church next Sunday morning at the 10:45 worship service. The service will mark World Wide Communion Sunday, on which day Protestant churches all over the world unite in a great communion service.

First rehearsal of the fall season for the senior choir has been scheduled for October 6, according to Byrd Miller, chairman of the worship committee of the church council. The rehearsals will be held weekly in Dryden school at 8 p.m.

New Fiction: "Peace at Bowling Green" by Alfred Leland Crabb. A heart-warming story of life in a young Kentucky community—from the pioneer times of 1803. "Self Condemned" by Wyndham Lewis. A novel of exile. A brilliant young history professor at a large British university resigns his position, and turning his back upon his country, exiles himself and family to Canada.

"A Nail Merchant at Nightfall" by Mika Waltari. A fable of man's frailty and fickleness. "The Call from Calle Moreno" by Maria Flores. This powerful novel gives a shocking inside view of Peron's Argentina. The story of one man's fight against human injustice and the brutality of dictatorship.

"MIDPOINT" by Isabella Holt. A story of the twenties and thirties, and of what those decades of revolt and depression did to the genteel tradition. "Drinkers of Darkness" by Gerald Hanley. A new novel with a setting against the dark background of Africa and her brooding people. "The Years of the City" by George R. Stewart. The author has called up the spirit of the ancient world so vividly that his imaginary city of Phrax comes to have as much reality as ancient Athens itself.

"The Haunted Hacienda" by Madison Cooper. A novel brimming with excitement and love of life; a sort of West Texas trilogy. "The Golden Witch" by Zola Ross. A novel of the Northwest. "Bath Tangle" by Georgette Heyer. An entertaining comedy against a background of fashionable Bath.

"Good As Gold" by Alfred Toombs. A fast and funny novel about an atomic age alchemist-in-reverse, who succeeded in turning gold into dirt. "The Long Chance" by David Mark. With prose sharp as a surgeon's scalpel, the author vivisects the world of the gambler.

NEW NON-FICTION : "Future a la Carte" by Theresa A. Morse. Too young to retire, this adventurous couple said farewell to a successful New York life to start anew as innkeepers on Martha's Vineyard — and loved it! "Tornadoes of the United States" by Snowden Flora. The exciting book about nature's most spectacular storms! "The Caves Beyond" by Joe Lawrence Jr. The story of the Floyd Collins' Crystal Cave exploration.

"Protestant, Catholic, Jew" by Will Herberg. An essay in American Religious Sociology. "The Second Miracle" by Peter Greave. The story of Peter Greave's triumph over leprosy. "Portrait of Patton" by Harry H. Semmes. An intimate biography by one who fought under Patton in 2 world wars.

"Leopard In My Lap" by Michaela Denis. One of the few women in all the world who has lived the kind of adventure most of us dream about but seldom have the courage to try. "The African Giant" by Stuart Cloete. The story of a journey.

DU PONT ANNOUNCES CUSTOM COLOR PAINTS
mixed in just the colors you want

Your choice of 572 CUSTOM COLORS
Odorless,* too, for every interior

Matching Gloss, Semi-Gloss and Flat alkyd finishes; also Rubber-Base Wall Paint

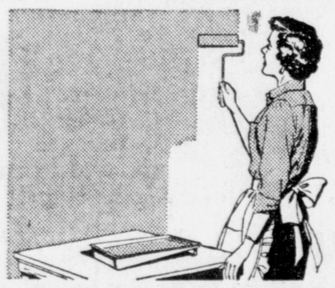
Now it's easy to find just the paint colors you've been looking for. New Du Pont Custom Color Paints, in finest-quality alkyd formulations, come in hundreds and hundreds of 1955 style-right shades . . . make it simple to get the very colors your rooms need to bring out their full beauty.

Here's all you do. Study the basic color scheme of your rug, drapes and furniture. Then, choose colors that match or harmonize with your present furnishings from the 572 stunning shades displayed on the Custom Color Selector Rack at our store. Or, if you prefer, pick out "take-home" color chips and defer final decisions until you're back "on the spot."

These new Du Pont paints are so easy to apply with brush or roller . . . extra-washable...extra-durable. They're odorless, too. You can paint indoors any time, anywhere without the irritation and inconvenience of "painty" smells. (*Though a mild resin odor may be noticed during the final drying stage, you can even walk into the room and not know that painting's going on.) Matching colors available in all 3 sheens—Gloss, Semi-Gloss and Flat—every type needed for interior painting. Choose from the palest of pastels to deep, rich modern tones. Most colors available in Rubber-Base Wall Paint.



Come in to see these lovely Custom Colors for your home today. We'll be glad to help you pick out your color schemes, give you free literature on "how to paint," help you with your painting problems or recommend a reliable painting contractor.

Also for exteriors

174 of these new colors are also available in exterior house paint, offering you exciting new color possibilities for the outside of your home.

New Counseling Program Aids Arlington Students

One major change in the program of Arlington Heights high school having no relation to the split shift schedule is in the counseling program.

The new counseling classes are group guidance units only. They are composed of members of physical education classes, and are either all boys or all girls. They meet once a week for a full class period under the supervision of a member of the counseling staff.

THE CLERICAL and administrative detail which was a part of the old home room system is now handled by first or eighth period classes, leaving the new counseling classes free to spend their entire time in group guidance activities.

Foremost among these activities are student discussions of common school problems and the search for answers to questions of importance to the student.

Counselors who supervise the groups hope to have the group initiate its own program of discussion, based on its own interests and needs, but each has outlined a list of suggested topics of discussion.

One such list includes the following: school records and their implications; understanding of grading systems; study habits and how to improve them; planning for college, vocations and employment; school policies, old and new; relations between student and school, past, present, and future, and an analysis of school and community citizenship.

One objective of the new program is to encourage the student body to make full use of the special counseling services offered by the school.

THESE SERVICES include an extensive testing program to help the student check on his own progress and capabilities; a placement service for full and part time work; assistance in selecting a college and preparing for college entrance; an orientation program for new students; specialized counseling for students with social-emotional problems; individual student counseling for vocational, educational, and personal-social problems; the developmental reading program, and health services. The school is without a speech-correctionist this year, but normally offers this service.

The student personnel department includes 12 persons, all engaged fully or part time in counseling activities. They are Martha Craig, counselor and physical education teacher; Mrs. Hazel Faulkner, placement counselor and business education teacher; Mrs. Ivah T. Hufnagel, school nurse; Nelson L. Lowry, dean; E. Eugene Oliver, administrative assistant to the superintendent and head of the department; Paul E. Opstad, counselor and common learnings teache; M. Ethel Riordan, social counselor; Arthur C. Serfling, counselor and biology teacher; Alfred H. Snap, developmental reading and English teacher; Mrs. Hazel B. Stewart, dean of girls and English teacher; John Strong, social counselor; and William D. Whiteside, counselor and math teacher.

Arlington Heights Ag Teacher Chosen For Advisory Group

Joseph D. Bryson, vocational agriculture teacher at Arlington Heights high school, has been appointed to the advisory committee for the division of agricultural education, University of Illinois.

This committee, made up of vocational agriculture teachers, makes recommendations to the university division on such matters as basic policites for development, housing and facilities, revision of professional courses, teacher supply and recruiting and requirements for approval of student teacher centers.

Bryson is now in his 9th year at Arlington Heights and his 27th year of teaching.

Juniors To Take State-Wide Tests

All juniors at Arlington Heights high school will participate in the Illinois state-wide high school testing program, sponsored by University of Illinois.

Tests will be given locally by the testing division of the school's guidance department, October 5 and 6. Scoring will be done by the University of Illinois testing service, and will be available for individual interpretations in 6 weeks. Parents are encouraged to attend these individual interpretation conferences.

The areas tested are abstract and verbal reasoning ability, knowledge of natural science and social science, and writing skills.

700 Participate In Teacher Parent Meeting

More than 700 parents attended the first meeting of the Arlington Heights high school Teacher-Parent council September 22.

Harold Slichenmyer opened the meeting in the gymnasium. The nomination committee reported, introduced the officers they had selected and their selections were approved by the parents.

A plea was made for churches, clubs and other groups to sponsor activities and provide space for the juniors and seniors who have free time in the afternoons. There are now 1739 students at the high school.

It was announced that the next meeting of the council will be January 26.

After the preliminary meeting, the parents split up according to the classes their sons or daughters were in. Parents of freshmen saw the movie "A Day At School," which was narrated by Larry Jenness, a faculty member.

Mrs. Paul Fellingham opened the sophomore meeting. Victor Beisler, Nelson Lowry, and Eugene Oliver were introduced. Lowry explained the difference between the new counseling classes which are being used this year instead of home rooms. These classes meet once a week and problems of the student and the school are discussed. Oliver spoke about tardiness and absenteeism. Parents participated in a question-and-answer period.

In the junior-senior parent session, Wade Everly, principal of Grant Community high school of Fox Lake spoke of double-shift difficulties. He said that it adds to curriculum planning difficulties, is an added expense and added expense and an added load on the teacher and bus schedules are hard to arrange.

Break Ground For New Methodist Sanctuary On Urbana Campus

Ground was broken in Urbana Saturday for a new sanctuary for the Wesley foundation, religious center for Methodist students at the University of Illinois. Church and university leaders participated in the ground-breaking ceremony presided over by Dr. Paul Burt, director of the foundation.

The sanctuary is being built to accommodate worship services for Methodist students and faculty members at the university and the resident congregation of Trinity Methodist church. These services have previously been held in the recreational hall of the present Wesley foundation social center building on the edge of the campus.

Hearing Tests At High School Start Monday For Frosh

Hearing tests for students will begin at Arlington Heights high school Monday and continue until all freshmen and juniors have been tested.

Group Maico tests are given to all students. When a possible hearing loss is indicated, the individual is tested with the Audiometer.

All hearing defects will be reported to parents by Mrs. Ivah Hufnagel, school nurse, who is directing the tests.

Freshman and junior classes are tested each year, providing 2 tests for each student while he is in high school.

First Baptist Church Holds Business Meeting Sunday

Enthusiasm and confidence keynoted the business meeting held Sunday by members of First Baptist church of Arlington Heights when they met for a church picnic at Lake ave. east forest preserves.

Gathered around a fire, the congregation enjoyed a song festival followed by a short talk by the pastor, the Rev. George I. Beckstrom. A property and building committee composed of B. Bergren, C. Brandon, H. Retske, J.W. Berchmans, Ben Bently, B. Berchman and R. J. Truelsen, was formed.

Charter membership is now open in the church. No names will be accepted after January 1, 1956.

This Week with PTA

Membership Open Monday

The annual PTA membership drive starts Monday and continues through the school week. Children will bring home the membership forms Monday, and parents are asked to fill these out and return them promptly. Prizes will be awarded in each school to the class which claims the largest number of parents as members of PTA.

The nominal membership fee of 50 cents per person brings a much greater reward both in the satisfaction of supporting the one organization which encourages understanding between parents and teachers, and in the pride which a child feels when his parents show an interest in his teacher, his class, and - in him.

Although it is not necessary to attend meetings in order to be a member of the PTA, both fathers and mothers are urged to attend whenever possible. An outstanding series of programs has been scheduled for the coming year — featuring educators, sociologists, theater actors, a physician speaking on sex education, a combination Ph. D., educator and public relations executive explaining the opportunities of Channel 11, and panels from the school faculty (including Superintendent Ralph Clabaugh) discussing reading, television, methods of teaching, and parental guidance.

First Pre-School Program Tuesday

Tuesday evening will see the inauguration of the pre-school study group for parents, with Mrs. Pauline Hartrich speaking on "The World of the Pre-Schooler". The meeting will be held at North school at 8:15 p.m.

Formerly with the Association for Family Living, Mrs. Hartrich is now a case worker, lecturer, and author; her latest published work is entitled "You and Your Child's Health." Her considerable experience in working with young children should provide an interesting evening for all those able to attend.

Parents Hear Principals, High School Speakers

At elementary school PTA meetings last week, parents heard principals Dorothy Sodt of North school Robert Campbell of Dryden, Philip Worland of South, and Dennis Malcolmson of Ridge explain the methods of teaching, the reasons behind them, and the regulations under which each child is required to live.

The method of relating specific areas of learning (reading, mathematics, geography, spelling, etc.) to a common field of study, such as the westward movement or the development of language and communications, was described. The system of reporting the child's progress by letters to, and conferences with, the parents was also explained.

The faculty was introduced by the principals, and parents had an opportunity to inform the teachers of each child's idiosyncracies (a bundle of information which, one may be sure has been wholly retained and treasured).

High school representatives also appeared, to present the facts behind the upcoming bond issue for a new high school building. To those who should be most concerned, parents of children now in elementary school, these men described the present lamentable situation in the high school (double sessions are necessary this year).

Although the addition now under way is expected to accommodate next fall's enrollment, the number of children now in the elementary grades will require an additional building, the construction of which must be planned and financed immediately, said Kenneth Dougan, George Sheppard and Mrs. Robert Fontaine - all members of the high school board of education.

According to recommendations made by the citizens' lay advisory committee, the proposed new building will house the entire freshman class of 1957, with further expansion during the year enlarging its capacity to take care of both freshman and sophomore classes in 1958.

Listeners were assured that the bond issue, if passed, would be sufficient to finance the entire construction; that by having the financing assured in advance, the school board would be able to let contracts more advantageously. Any parents wishing further information on this important issue may call the high school or Kenneth E. Dougan, CL 3-7226.

Songbirds Respond to Call

A number of women have signed up for the PTA women's chorus, including a couple of needed accompanists. Anyone unable to register at her PTA meeting, but would like to join the group, is asked to call Mrs. Robert Schultheis at CL 3-5178.

Bakery To Open October 15 In Elms Shopping Center

The Elm Shopping Center is expected to be in full operation next month with all stores occupied.

The bakery shop will open for business October 15. It will be known as Ottenheime's Bakery. Its proprietors are Joseph and Betty Ottenheime, who have been operating a shop in Lowell, Ind.

Mr. Ottenheime fell in love with this area while stationed in Glenview in 1943-45. He says he and his wife are happy to come to Arlington and are looking forward to happy business and social relationships with its people.

He has had 12 years' experience as a baker. "Equipment will be the latest and we will cater to those who want the best in bakery goods," says Mr. Ottenheime.

Amelia Santarelli Weds Kenneth H. Wetendorf

Miss Amelia Santarelli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Armand J. Santarelli, 312 Meadow lane, Mt. Prospect, became the bride of Kenneth H. Wetendorf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Wetendorf, 203 N. William st., Mt. Prospect, in a double ring ceremony at 2:30 p.m. September 3 in St. Paul Lutheran church, Mt. Prospect.

Baskets of white gladioli and green ferns decorated the church as the Rev. J. E. A. Mueller officiated. Organist was Elmer Jackisch and Miss Carol Faulstich was the soloist. Selections were "The Lord's Prayer" and "O Promise Me."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of chantilly lace and tulle over satin fashioned with mandarin collar, long fitted sleeves and a cathedral train. Her fingertip veil was held in place with a juliet cap trimmed with tiny seed pearls. White stephanotis and tiny pink roses with ribbons of stephanotis and green ivy made up her bridal bouquet.

Miss Patricia Eaton of Arlington Heights was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Donna McLain of Bensenville, cousin of the groom, and Mrs. Virginia Krieger of Melrose Park. All wore identical gowns of coral crystalette fashioned with scoop necklines and pleated inserts in the skirt. Their bouquets were cascades of white carnations, mums and blue batchelor buttons with white satin leaf backgrounds. The maid of honor's bouquet also had yellow carnations.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Santarelli wore an imported lace and taffeta dress in mauve color with a white orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore an irridescent pale green acetate and taffeta dress with rhinestones. Her corsage was also a white orchid.

Leon James Nolte was best man to the groom and the bride's brother, Thomas Santarelli, and Frank Krieger were the ushers.

At 5:30 o'clock dinner was served to the wedding party at Hapsburg Inn, Wheeling. This was followed by a 7:30 reception for 175 guests in the Mt. Prospect VFW hall. The couple honeymooned for 2 weeks at the Wisconsin Dells, Michigan and Canada. They are temporarily making their home with the bride's parents.

Both Mr. Wetendorf and his bride were graduated from Arlington Heights township high school. The bride is employed by Prudential Insurance Co. of Chicago and the groom by Collignon Nash in Des Plaines.

Wed in 4 o'clock Ceremony September 10

Wearing a traditional wedding gown of light ivory silk satin and alencon lace, Miss Joyce M. Becker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Becker of Des Plaines, became the bride of Joseph M. Marsiglia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Marsiglia, 17 N. Greeley st., Palatine, in a 4 p.m. ceremony September 10 in Immanuel Lutheran church, Des Plaines.

Vases of white mums and gladioli decorated the altar as the Rev. Allen Fedder read the nuptials. Fred Hutchinson of Minneapolis was the soloist and sang, "The Lord's Prayer." He was accompanied at the organ by Henry Becker of Des Plaines.

The bride's gown was fashioned with a scalloped neckline of alencon lace and this motif was carried out at the waist. The dress had tapered long sleeves and a long train. A pearl necklace and single pearl earrings, gifts of the groom, were worn by the bride. Her fingertip veil of silk net was held in place by a headpiece of satin and lace to match her gown and she carried a bouquet of ivory glamellias and pompons with lemon leaves and ivy. Mr. Becker gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Dorothy Findall of Des Plaines was maid of honor. She wore a waltz-length mint green crystalette dress and a headpiece of white feathers and sequins. Her flowers were bronze and yellow pompons with lemon leaves. The bridesmaids were gowned identically to the maid of honor and carried sprays of yellow pompons with lemon leaves. Mrs. J. W. Kindschi and Miss Lois Schulze, both of Chicago and Mrs. William Lambert of Mt. Prospect were bridesmaids.

Robert Koch of Mt. Prospect was best man and Robert Stem of Palatine, the bride's brother, John Becker Jr. of Des Plaines and William Lambert of Mt. Prospect were ushers.

Open house was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. This was followed by a reception for 200 guests at the Des Plaines VFW club house. Mrs. Becker received in a mink brown lace-trimmed taffeta dress with beige and brown accessories. Her corsage was of orange-yellow roses and yellow pompons. The groom's mother was in a rose colored changeable taffeta dress with accessories of pale rose. Her flowers were pale rose colored roses and pompons.

New Orleans and Biloxi were visited by the bridal couple on their wedding trip. They will reside in their new home at 106 Kenilworth ave., Mt. Prospect.

The new Mrs. Marsiglia was graduated from Maine township high school and is now a secretary at the DoAll Co., Des Plaines. The groom was graduated from Palatine high school and is employed as assistant manager for Jewel Food store in Northbrook.

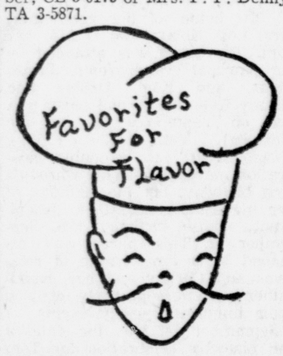
Book Review To Feature Delta Gamma Meeting October 3

Northwest Suburban Delta Gamma alumnae will meet October 3 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Henry B. Puff, 414 S. Wille st., Mt. Prospect. Cohostesses for the evening will be Mrs. J. Porter Gardner Jr., and Mrs. Samuel L. Faraone, both of Mt. Prospect.

The program will be a book review by Mrs. W. L. Fellingham of Arlington Heights.

Any Delta Gammas in this area interested in attending the meeting may contact Mrs. V. M. Barber, CL 5-0179 or Mrs. F. F. Denny, TA 3-5871.



A prize-winning recipe is our special feature this week.

Recently Mrs. Roy A. Moore submitted a household hint for a quick dessert to the TV program, "Shopping with Miss Lee." She was awarded a lovely $30 hat by Lemington for her recipe, Pineapple Delight.

Mrs. Moore's mother has made this dessert for years, and Mrs. Moore first prepared it as a child just learning how to cook. It has remained a favorite of hers through the years.

The recipe merely contains three ingredients: cooked rice, crushed pineapple and whipped cream. It can be prepared quickly, is rich and delicious.

Mrs. Moore also described another variation of this dessert, a combination of cubed pineapple and marshmallow bits with whipped cream, omitting the rice.

The Moores moved from Boston, Mass., a year ago to their new home at 812 S. McKinley st., Arlington Heights. An active woman, Mrs. Moore likes to keep busy, and thus in addition to caring for her home and 2-year-old daughter, Cynthia Anne, she works part time as a fashion show director for Emmons Jewelers.

She is also a member of the Newcomers club, Arlington Heights Junior Womans club and Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic Womans club.

Pineapple Delight

1 cup Minute Rice
1 medium-size can crushed pineapple
½ pint whipping cream

Prepare rice as per directions on package. Chill for 15 or 20 minutes. Add pineapple to rice. Beat cream and stir into mixture. Chill until ready to serve.

Top each serving with a maraschino cherry. Serves 6.

Seek To Organize Arlington Chapter Of Beta Sigma Phi

Mrs. Ervin T. Allison of the international membership committee for Beta Sigma Phi, cultural, social and service organization for women, is completing details toward establishing a charter founder chapter in Arlington Heights.

Beta Sigma Phi is the largest non-academic sorority in the world and is for women interested in widening their cultural interests, making new friends and taking an active part in affairs of the community.

The organization was founded in Abilene, Kan. in 1931 and now has 120,000 members and 4500 chapters around the world. There are 240 active chapters in Illinois with membership limited to enable individual participation.

In addition to lifetime cultural programs, the organization sponsors community, state and national philanthropic projects. Girlstown, located in west Texas, is an example of such a project. The organization sponsors area and state conventions, creative contests in short story, poetry, art, lyric and song writing. Beta Sigma Phi has its own official travel counselor and 2 planned and conducted "Ramble Tours" each year. These tours have included Hawaii, Mexico, Europe, Jamaica, Bermuda, Canada and the Mediterranean.

Membership in Beta Sigma Phi is by invitation only, Mrs. Allison stated. Mrs. Allison resides at 510 S. Chestnut, Arlington Heights.

Propagation Will Be Saintpaulia Society Subject Wednesday

"Various Methods of Propogation of African Violets" will be the subject of the program at the next monthly meeting of the Suburban Saintpaulia society October 5, 9:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. George Vogeler, Kirchhoff rd., Palatine. Mrs. Hugo Thal will be co-hostess.

Theme of this meeting is of particular importance and interest because the facility of propogation of the African violet is one of the chief reasons for the growing popularity of this house plant.

Herbert J. Van Driel Weds Minnesota Girl

In a double ring marriage service at 11 o'clock September 17, Miss Shirley Marie Forster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Forster of Edina, Minn. became the bride of Herbert J. Van Driel, son of Mr.and Mrs. H. A. Van Driel of Mt. Prospect. The ceremony took place in Our Lady of Grace Catholic church in Edina with the Fr. John Crowley S.J. officiating.

Nuptial selections included "O Beautiful Mother," "Ave Maria," "Panis Angelicus" and "O Lord I Am Not Worthy." White gladioli and mums with green ferns decorated the church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown fashioned of white satin with tulle bodice and overskirt with chapel train. She wore a fingertip veil and carried white orchids and stephanotis on a white prayer book.

Miss Patricia Tuohy, cousin of the bride from Chatfield, Minn., was maid of honor and wore a cranberry red crystalette dress with matching shoes. She carried bronze mums. Bridesmaids were Miss Arlyne Giessel of Minneapolis, Miss Barbara Geiger of West Bend, Wis. and Miss Mary Rafferty of Highland Park, Ill. Their gowns and flowers were identical to the maid of honor's.

Six-year-old Annette Ripple, niece of the groom, of West P— was flower girl. Her gown was made with a white lace bodice with net overskirt. Pink rosebuds and pearls trimmed the ruffles of her skirt and she carried bronze mums. A white dinner coat and black trousers were worn by the Bride's cousin, Bernard Tuohy, 5, of Chatfield, who served as ring bearer.

The Calhoun Beach hotel in Minneapolis was the scene of the wedding breakfast and reception which was attended by 115 guests. Mrs. Forster received the guests wearing a rose grey taffeta dress with a corsage of pink rosebuds. The groom's mother received in a mauve lavender faille dress with a corsage of pink rose buds.

George Kovacik of Arlington Heights was best man and ushers were Joe Alexander of Mt. Prospect and Jim Intravartolo and Herb Slottag of Arlington Heights.

After a wedding trip to Madison, Wis. the bridal couple will be residing in the Meadow Brook apartments, 6920 Meadow Brook blvd., St. Louis Park, Minn., after October 3.

The bride attended Marquette university from where her bridegroom was graduated. He was previously graduated from Arlington Heights township high school. He is now associated with the Edina-Morning Courier.

The group discussed plans for the coming year. Three troop committee members were selected. Mrs. Durec, although not having a daughter eligible for the brownies, has offered the use of her basement for the more active brownie meetings. The first brownie meeting is scheduled to be held October 4.

Cubs

Cub scout den 12 held its meeting September 22 at the home of Ralph Wills, 400 Larkdale. Mr. Wills has held the meetings in his basement and has also been working with Mr. Moeller as den father. Cubs attending were Bobby Webber, denner, Dean Valentine, assistant denner, Richard Moeller and Danield Wills. Two new members were admitted into the den, Tommy Hemesath and Richard Hehnen. Two guests, Nicky and Sam Abinanti, attended the meeting. Also present was Daniel Smith who filled out an application for membership to den 12.

Cub theme for the month of September is "Robin Hood" and the boys have been making swords and bows and arrows typical of the Robin Hood era which will be displayed at the coming pack meeting to be held at North school, September 30.

Den 13 held its first meeting of the year at the home of Ray Doyle, the den father. In attendance were cubs Mike Doyle, Bill Cody, Tommy Seymour and Wayne Harland. Mr. Doyle talked to the boys about the dangers of fire and taught them the proper method of making camp fires and burning trash to help prevent accidents along this line.

Board Meeting

Friday, September 23, board members of the women's auxiliary of the Prospect Meadows Home Owners association met to discuss plans for future meetings of the women's auxiliary. Present were Joyce Ruther, president; Kay Wilson, vice president and program chairman; Ginny Richardson, secretary; Pat Wrath, treasurer; and Marie Robotkay, refreshment chairman. They met at the home of Millie Webber, correspondence secretary, who wound up a very productive meeting with refreshments.

Connie Heurlin found it necessary to resign from the welcoming committee and has been replaced by Nora Roths, 607 Bob-O-Link. Nora will join Anne Incinelli and Ethel Larson in welcoming new residents in Prospect Meadows. Nora herself is a newcomer as the Roths family moved to the Meadows in August.

Several children of the Meadows attending North school were represented by their mothers, Edith Schroder, Betty Nelson, Lisa Wells, Joyce Ruther, Pat Wrath, Lois Kandul and Jane Harland, at the PTA meeting September 20. The mothers found the meeting interesting, enjoyed the refreshments and were pleased that they had taken time to attend. Anyone with children in the North school who has hesitated attending PTA meetings because of transportation or companionship is invited to contact anyone of the above ladies and join the group at future PTA meetings.

Kaffee Klatsch

The chain of "Kuarter Kaffee Klatsch" is still active in the Meadows and the following women entertained this week.

Ginny Richardson of Larkdale entertained September 22. Her guests were Kay Bischoff, Helena Woodruff, Barbara Schlegel, Dolores Soduski, Ellie Horcher, Dorothy Walsh, Lisa Wells and Lois Kandul.

Lorrie Brazeau of Foundry rd. entertained September 20. Her guests were Jean Seeber, Jean Kamps, Elsie Leonhardt, Gert Derning and Betty Sabitt of Prospect Heights.

Birthdays

Last Sunday Ray and Elaine Thude entertained friends and neighbors with an outdoor picnic supper to celebrate their son, Don's, second birthday.

The Ruthers, Bert, Joyce, Valerie and Chipper enjoyed a turkey dinner Saturday at the home of Bert's mother, Mrs. Helen Ruther. Also invited to enjoy the dinner were Bert's 2 aunts, Bonnie Laughran and Mae Kennedy and his uncle, Carland. The group gathered to celebrate a number of events including the coming birthdays of Chipper and Bert, September 29 and 30 respectively; the birthday of Mrs. Laughran; and belatedly, Valerie's birthday and Bert and Joyce's anniversary which were both September 4.

Anne Incinelli celebrated her birthday September 20 and Mr. and Mrs. P. Rippel of Chicago spent the evening with the Incinellis. The previous Sunday, Anne was entertained with a surprise party at the home of relatives in Chicago.

Pat and John Wrath invited Pat's sister and her husband, Dorothy and Bill Seitz, and her father, Mr. Sweitzer to join them Sunday at a birthday celebration in Deer Grove Woods. It was Joyce Wrath's third birthday and she and her brother, Timmie, and sisters, Jane and Peggy, enjoyed the outdoor picnic, which included a festive birthday cake and a number of presents.

Reunion

Lorrie and Chuck Brazeau and their children enhoyed a buffet dinner and a family reunion Sunday at the home of Lorrie's uncle, Jim Scheiden in Des Plaines. The group included Mr. and Mrs. Buescher, Lorrie's grandparents and their descendants. Mrs. Buescher had 10 children: Mr. and Mrs. H. Bandow, Northbrook, Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Scheiden, Franklin Park, Mr. and Mrs. P. Scheiden, Des Plaines, Mr. and Mrs. R. Peterson, Evanston, Mr. and Mrs. F. Raube, Evanston, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bachechi, Evanston, Mr. F. Scheiden, Evanston, Mr. and Mrs. A. Scheiden and Mr. and Mrs. J. Molitor, Chicago, Lorrie's parents. These couples' children and their children brought the group to 65 and a family portrait was taken of the group which will be a wonderful remembrance for everyone in the family.

Our of Army

Peggy Orlowski's brother, Alden Rinehart, went through the separation center at Fort Sheridan Saturday and is now officially out of the army. He had just returned from an 18-month tour of duty in Korea. Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Rinehart, Peggy and Alden's parents, live in Varna, Ill. Henry Orlowski, accompanied by his family, drove Alden home to Varna last weekend. Alden's homecoming brought together the Rinehart's 4 sons and 3 daughters and their families for a reunion which is the first they have had in several years.

Last Tuesday Elsie Leonhardt entertained her canasta club. Present to enjoy the card game and the refreshments which followed were Lorrie Brazeau, Peggy Orlowski, Jean Seeber, Marie Robotkay, Marie Stanke, Pearl Moeller, Joyce LeBrun and Lillian Kunz.

Back To College

The oldest son of Evelyn and James Cummins, Jim, began his senior year at Southern University of Illinois where he is majoring in chemistry, this week. The school is located in Carbondale, Ill. and is a branch of the University of Illinois. Evelyn and James drove their son to Carbondale last weekend and extended their trip to Paducah, Ky., where both of their mothers, Mrs. Hattie Hernon and Mrs. Kate Cummins, reside, and spent a short time visiting before heading for home.

Monday, September 19, George and Nancy Hehnen and their children, Tom, Joanne, Richard and Gary, drove to Madison, Wis. to visit friends who have a cottage on Lake Kegonza. The family had a wonderful time, managing to crowd fishing, boating and swimming all into one day.

Cal Campbell has just reached the end of a 3-week vacation reporting back to work Tuesday morning. Gloria and the children, Diane and Debra, joined him in several outings during the 3 weeks. They spent one day at Brookfield zoo and also went downtown another time to see Powerama. Daughter Dawn, who is only 8 weeks old, stayed home with grandma, Mrs. Schune.

Entertaining

September 17 George and Charlene Hampe served as attendants at the wedding of Charlene's sister, Winifred Kestner of Arlington Heights, Winifred, who is now Mrs. Joseph S. Cipriani, was married at Our Savior English Lutheran church in Chicago. A dinner reception for 125 guests, was held at the home of the girls' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kestner in Arlington Heights. The young couple will make their home in Chicago. Last Wednesday George and Charlene entertained Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kestner and the new bride and groom.

Installation

Saturday evening the installation of new officers was held by Merle Guild Post 208 at the Legion hall in Arlington Heights and several of the local residents were featured in the ceremony. Art Nelson was the retiring commander and he was presented with a gold, engraved wristwatch. The new commander is Harold Klingner of Arlington Heights. Vic Incinelli is the new senior vice commander and Don Walsh, the new junior vice commander. Betty Nelson and Dorothy Walsh and her children were present to watch the ceremony and enjoy refreshments served later in the evening by the Ladies auxilliary of the post.

Sincere condolences are offered to Bob and Kay Wehrheim and family. Bob's father, John Wehrheim, died Thursday, Sept. 22 in St Francis hospital, Evanston.

Dick and Elaine Tanney entertained Dr. and Mrs. Robert Smick last Friday evening. The girls friendship goes back to their high school days. Dr. Smick is serving his internship at a hospital in Des Moines, Iowa, and the couple has been staying in Chicago visiting Mrs. Smick's family. Dr. Smick, an osteopath, hopes to open a practice next year in Milwaukee.

Since August, Elaine Tanney has become a full-time housewife and is no longer working for the Plumbing Fixtures Corp. of Chicago where she was employed for 8 years as secretary to the president.

Last Wednesday Harold and Doris Bethke entertained friends, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hansen with a farewell dinner. The Hansens, formerly of Des Plaines, are planning to make their home in Albuquerque, N. M.

Sunday the Bethke family enjoyed a birthday supper at the home of Dori's parents Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wille in Des Plaines. Also present was Doris' brother, Rodney Wille and his family of Arlington Heights. The group gathered to celebrate Mrs. Alfred Wille's birthday.

Don and Dorothy Papendick and family of Chicago, enjoyed dinner last Sunday with Fabe and Maxine Myslinski and their children. Don and Fabe have been friends since their school days at Taft high school.

Jane and John Harland entertained John's sister, Paula Little, and her grandson last Sunday when they came out to spend the day and enjoy dinner with the Harland family.

Marge and Bob Blim gave a birthday supper in honor of Marge's brother, James Duffek. Also present for the occasion were Marge's mother, Mrs. Duffek, her sister's family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kronquist and their twin daughters, Marlene and Charlene, and the senior Mr. Kronquist of Florida, who came up for a visit with his son and his family.

Saturday Marge and Bob joined Kay and Jim Wilson and Evelyn and Jim Cummins for an evening of bowling at the new alleys on Rand and Rt. 83. The men challenged the women and the girls report that the men ran a poor second.

Carol and Fred Jarm and Marge and Art Drake of Foundry rd., went to the races at Maywood Park Friday evening. After a poor start they were lucky to break even. After the races they enjoyed refreshments at the Chuck Wagon in Villa Park.

Employ The Handicapped Week October 2-8

Employers are urged to remember that October 2-8 has been designated "national employ the physically handicapped week." These workers are a stable group which can do many things in every factory and business and are an asset to any industry. The national week has been proclaimed to give employers an opportunity to make plans for employing more of the physically handicapped.

PTA News

Another service project for the Kimball Hill school has been completed by the local PTA chapter. There is available an insurance program available to all school children covering them for accidents while in school. The local PTA has volunteered to assist the school system in checking collections and setting up the records on the insurance program, thus enabling the limited office personnel of the school to concentrate on more important matters.

Good news from the boy scout committee! At last the organization has found a scoutmaster for troop 68. He is Howard Christensen, 2200 Jay lane, who accepted the appointment as scoutmaster effective October 1. His appointment ends a search for someone to fill this job.

A new program of meeting procedures has been set. Every alternate Wednesday, adult supervisors will counsel with their regularly assigned patrols. The objective of these patrol-corner meetings is better scouting and advancement. A great spirit of competition exists between the various patrols and is helping greatly to inspire the boys to even harder work on their scouting advancement.

Next Friday, Saturday and Sunday Troop 68 will attend the Signal Hill District fall camporee at Bateman Woods near Barrington.

And Still More Birthdays

There were 2 important celebrations to honor Joyce Potempa, 2501 South st. on her fifth birthday. On September 16, Joyce treated fellow classmates at Kimball Hill school kindergarten to cake and ice cream. On the following Sunday, her parents, Kenneth and "Dolly" Potempa, held a party for her with neighborhood playmates attending. The children were Diane Keller, Patsy Mellon, Patsy Frey, Karen Carlson, Nancy Kurtz, Betty Stark, Jimmy, Johnny and Ricky Roombus, and Cathy Kitterman. The children enjoyed an outdoor barbecue as well as ice cream and cake. Later in the evening both her paternal and maternal grandparents as well as her aunts and uncles joined in a celebration in her honor. The highlight of the gathering were the movies which her grandfather showed at the party.

It was the third birthday which was celebrated at the home of Gary and Irene Chomuk, 2302 Rohlwing rd., Saturday. The party was in honor of their little son, Bobby, 3 years old September 25. The event was attended by 12 friends from Chicago with their mothers as well as new Rolling Meadows friends and neighbors, Joey and Joanne Piro. The children had lots of fun with the birthday hats made by Mrs. Chomuk.

Eight long years have passed for Karen Carlson, young daughter of Lil and Harold Carlson, 2415 South st. The event Saturday was marked with a party for a group of her friends, including Karen Garrity of Bluebird lane, and Linda Kitterman, Jackie, Judy and Joyce Potempa, Janis Zehner, Patsy and Mary Mallon, Patty Frey, Nancy Kurtz and Diane Keller, all of South st. Cake and ice cream were the highlights of the menu with prizes and chocolate, too. The cake was baked and decorated by Lil Carlson especially for the important occasion.

An adult party was held Sunday for Karen with members of her family and friends in attendance. On hand for this party were her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Muka of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Carlson of Lake Geneeva, Wis. Also present were her aunts, uncles and cousins — Mrs. John Muka and her children Gary, Dean and Jeryle, Mrs. Leon Muka and her son Scotty, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Carlson and their children Christine and Tommy, as well as Karen's great-uncle, Otto Ahlers, and her godmother, Miss Marvella Ahlers. Mr. and Mrs. Warren Fromm and their children Corrinne, David and Stevie of Bluebird lane, were also on hand for the celebration. A lovely buffet supper was served for the guests and 3 homemade birthday cakes were made by Mrs. Carlson for the birthday celebration.

Guys & Dolls Teen Club

Recent activities of the Guys and Dolls teen club have resulted in the formation of an employment agency for part time work. If anyone knows of or has work available for a teen-ager, get in touch with Mrs. Frances Brown, 2108 Robin lane, Clearbrook 3-6173. Mrs. Brown will have a list of available young people.

Other important developments in the club include selection of Jim Jaeger as head of all work for club members to be done on the "chicken coop," which will be turned into a youth center for 2 teenage clubs. An athletic group has been started with Mickey McClaskey in charge of work and equipment for the girls sports and Don Snodgrass in charge of the same work for the boys. Plans are now being laid for a boys' basketball team and the group plans to make a temporary basketball court near the barn.

Meeting nights for the club have been changed from Tuesday to Thursday at 8 p.m. It is planned to make Saturday a social night. If an event has been planned for Saturday, the club will forego the regular Thursday meeting and hold a short business meeting before the outing on Saturday. New young people in the area are invited to attend meetings open to all teenagers of Rolling Meadows between the ages of 15 and 18. The group has no religious affiliations and teen-agers of all faiths are welcome. Thec lub members are reminded initiation fees should be paid by the second meeting in October. Weekly dues will be due and should be paid each week thereafter. They are only 25c and the initiation fee is $1.

Police Matron Wanted

The Rolling Meadows police department is now looking for women. They want 4 women to serve as police matrons. This will not be a full-time job, but merely put the women on call such as special officers are. When needed, they will be asked to serve at standard special police compensation. Any women in the city who are interested are asked to apply for the position with police chief Tom Ullock at city hall, 2207 Campbell st.

Woman's Association Invites Men To Hear W. P. McDowell

The Woman's association of the Community church of Rolling Meadows is extending an invitation to the men for Thursday, Oct. 6, at 8 when W. P. McDowell, sponsored by the Oak Park Federal Savings and Loan association, will present his current subject "Builders and Destroyers".

Because of his ability as a speaker he is in demand to appear before Rotary clubs, chambers of commerce, and many civic groups. Barbara Schneider, program chairman, of the Women's association promises the men as well as the ladies an interesting evening.

Sitter service will be available in the nursery. Refreshments will follow the address.

To Solicit For Community Fund

Thomas L. Bouchard, 2603 Flicker lane, Rolling Meadows, an executive board member of the commercial telephone workers' union, has been appointed to direct the joint union-management 1955 Community Fund campaign among the 2,000 commercial employees of the Illinois Bell Telephone company.

Bouchard programed the drive activities so as to include an instruction course for the union stewards who will do the solicitation. The course was implemented by taking the stewards on a tour of the Childrens' Memorial hospital, Goodwill Industries, Lighthouse for the Blind and Kenwood Ellis House. These four are participating Community Fund organizations.

"Telephone people by nature are generous" said Bouchard. "Our goal," he said, "is 100 per cent participation and this our people will attain. The drive starts October 3rd."

Association Meeting

September 21 the Arlington Terrace Owners association held its first meeting since new officers were elected in June. President Emmett Quill appointed chairmen to the following committees: civic relations, project, membership, social, and publicity. Several neighborhood and civic matters came up for discussion and were delegated to the proper committees for action. A complete report will be given at the next regular meeting which will be held in October. Plans for a Halloween party to follow the business part of the meeting are underway. Watch this column for further details.

Christening

Kathleen Mary Kreusch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kreusch, 1006 N. Beverley, was christened 3:30 p.m., September 25, at St. James church with Rev. Robert A. Reicher officiating. Godparents were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Merges of Arlington Heights. Among the guests present were Kathleen's grandfather, N. De Marco, of Maysfield, Ky., her aunt and husband, Mr. and Mrs. E. Nelson of Palatine. Dinner was served at the Kreusch home following the christening.

The monthly get-together of the ladies on the 900-1000 block on Douglas was held at the home of Mrs. Grant Johns, 1017 N. Douglas, Tuesday evening. Refreshments were served after the guests spent an evening of playing cards and chatting.

Baby Shower

Mrs. Everett Nelson, 817 N. Hickory, and Mrs. R. A. Julien, 811 N. Hickory, had a baby shower for Mrs. Raymond Nitch, 813 N. Hickory, September 22. The shower was attended by the ladies of the 800 block on Hickory who gave Mrs. Nitch a bunting for the baby-to-be.

Three Parties

Judy Johns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Johns, 1017 N. Douglas, had 3 parties to celebrate her ninth birthday. Saturday before Judy left the hospital for her weekend at home she was given a surprise party by the nurses complete with birthday cake and candles. Karen Herr, Janice Kay Sitarz, Janice Guttenberger, Susie Quill, Naomi Camin, Barbara Johnson, Vicky Cole, and Bonnie Korn helped Judy celebrate Saturday evening at home. After games the guests had supper and birthday cake. Judy's grandmother, aunts, uncles and cousins came for the family party Sunday.

The garage-warming at the R. A. Juliens, 811 N. Hickory, September 24 was a gala event. Twenty-five neighbors and friends came for an evening of dancing on the new concrete floor and to share the fun. A cooperative lunch completed the evening.

Judy Kuehn, daughter of Mrs. Emmett Quill, 921 N. Douglas, went with the group of Junior and Senior Tuxis of the Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights to the Westminister Fellowship district fall rally at Evanston Sunday.

First Birthday

Grandparents, aunts and uncles came to celebrate Marian Elwart's first birthday Sunday. Marian is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Elwart, 1013 N. Douglas.

Presbyterian Men Will Hear Story Of Skid Row Victims

The story of Chicago's Skid Row —and what is being done about it —will be told Oct. 17 at a meeting of the Presbyterian Men of Arlington Heights.
Speaker will be Dr. William Seath, executive director of the Chicago Christian Industrial league and member of the Mayor's Committee on Skid Row.
He will address the meeting to be held in the First Presbyterian church dining room at 7 p.m.
James R. Wellman and Warren White are handling arrangements.
"Dead Men Live" is Dr. Seath's topic. His league, located at Madison and Halsted sts., serves 400 meals daily and provides sleeping accommodations for more than 300 men each night. Widely known for charity work, he has been director of the league since 1931 and in rescue mission service since 1920.

Girl, 10, Loses Her Fight Against Luekemia

When 10-year-old Vivian Brookhouzen became ill with luekemia a year ago, her friends and neighbors in Feehanville community responded with prayers and donations of blood.

Despite their efforts, Vivian passed away early Tuesday morning in Elmhurst hospital.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar L. Brookhouzen, Arlington Hts. They have 4 other children.

The story of Vivian's struggle against the dread disease prompted 10 employees of Paddock Publications to also contribute blood to the child. Among those donors was her uncle. Residents of the Feehanville area rersponded in large numbers to requests for blood donors.

Funeral services will be Friday at 10 a.m. in St. Raymond church, Mt. Prospect. Interment at All Saints cemetery.

Dr. Carl Peterson

Funeral services for Dr. Carl Peterson, 55, of Inverness, will be held at 11 a. m. Friday at Tharp funeral home with Fr. Sheldon B. Foote and Dr. Peterson's nephew, Philip Johnson, officiating.

Dr. Peterson, a long time resident of Inverness Countryside, died Tuesday in Pardee Memorial hospital, Hendersonville, N. C., from injuries suffered in a plane crash Monday.

He was industrial health secretary of the American Medical association, a member of the Chicago Medical society, Illinois State Medical society, American Public Health association and the American Industrial Medical association.

He leaves 2 daughters, Natalie, a student at Wellesley college, and Judith, a student at Palatine high school, and 5 sisters, Mrs. P. Arthur Johnson of Palatine, Miss Ruth E. Peterson, Mrs. Albert E. Anderson and Mrs. Russell Lonsway, all of Rockford and Mrs. Ross Beckstrom of Coral Gables, Fla. His wife, Barbara, preceeded him in death in 1950.

Burial will be in Rockford.

Fred Krohn

Funeral services for Fred Krohn, 63, will be held at Lauterburg and Oehler funeral home in Arlington Heights Friday.

Mr. Krohn, who formerly lived in Mt. Prospect where he farmed, died September 28 in an Elgin hospital. Among those surviving him are a brother, Louis of Bensenville; a nephew, Irvin Piepenbrink of Bensenville and a cousin, Emma Noer of Long Beach, Cal.

The finest compliment that can be paid to a woman of sense is to address her as such.

Halloween Dance

The Halloween costume dance is just 3 weeks away, October 21, and tickets go on sale next week. The dance is for members and their guests only so anyone who is not yet a member is urged to call the membership chairman, John Funk, at Clearbrook 3-3980.

Bridge Round Robin

The round robin bridge schedule is now ready for distribution. However, it now develops that at one summer meeting of the association a list was passed around for interested parties to sign. Unfortunately this list never reached the bridge chairman and cannot now be located; therefore, if anyone signed for bridge on this list please contact John Coward by phoning CLearbrook 3-5891 at once.

Hay Rack Ride

Unfortunately there was not sufficient response to the invitation to take part in a hay rack ride Saturday night, Oct. 8 and therefore plans for the ride have been cancelled.

Happy Birthday

Two birthdays in 1 family in 1 week made last week a busy one for the Gordon Baer household. Robbie's third birthday was September 22 and Roger's seventh birthday was September 25. Both boys celebrated their birthdays together Wednesday when their mother, Rosemary, decorated their cake with 10 candles, 3 for Robbie and 7 for Roger. Surprise of surprises came when Roger Huffed and puffed and blew out 7 of the 10 candles leaving exactly 3 for Robbie. Rosemary's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ward of Peoria, spent last week with the family and so were on hand for the festivities. Saturday the party was repeated and this time the boys' paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Baer of Chicago, were present and also their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Baer cousins from Forest Park.

Donna Zaborowski, daughter of Vi and Ben Zaborowski celebrated her third birthday Sunday. Her uncle, Fr. Joseph Zaborowski, celebrated his birthday Sunday also and surprised her with a pink birthday cake in the form of a doll.

Another 3-year-old birthday girl is Nancy Epsky, daughter of Ruth and Ray Epsky. Nancy celebrated Friday by inviting her little friends to lunch. Invitations went to her sister, Marilyn, Keith Funk, Linda Davis, and Randy Buttstadt. Sunday Nancy's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Sandor, her aunt, Miss Nancy Sandor of Chicago and Miss Mary Korstanje of Kewanee and other friends and relatives came over for a second celebration.

"Ride 'em Cowboy" was the theme of Karl Buttstadt's seventh birthday party Friday afternoon. Karl, his brother, Randy, Scott Forpe, Rickey Bosso, Michael Coolidge, David Willy, Lee Anderson, Charles Haworth, David Manchee and Eddie Jensen were all dressed up in cowboy attire. However, none of the cowboys suspected what a wonderful surprise was in store for them until the arrival at the party of a pony all saddled up and ready to give the boys rides around the yard. By the way, the horse didn't crash the party but received a special invitation from Karl's folks, Rosemary and Karl, who hired him for the afternoon. Come Sunday and another party was in progress attended by his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Eric Buttstadt and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fuelner and his many aunts and uncles.

Baby Shower

Monday, Sept. 19, Adele Mitchell, June Carlson, Lee Hoover and Ginny Sims, all of Clarendon, gave a baby shower for Eleanor Goodman. Eleanor was surprised when she walked into Adele's home to see her mother, Mrs. Mina, Jean Smalek, Kay Galizia, Lois Anderson, Ann Danna, Shirley Fett, Alice Johnson, Terry Mueller, June Miller, Lorraine Saflarski, Shirley Heyer and Connie Flodin. Besides many individual gifts, 7 guests went together to buy the expected heir a baby crib which was about the biggest surprise of all for Eleanor. The perfect end of a perfect evening came when the hostesses served an angel's delight salad, homemade cookies, nuts and coffee.

Special Delivery

It's a boy for Bette and Pete Bunnelle, 1115 Belmont. William Harold weighed 8 pounds 5 ounces when he arrived at Michael Reese hospital September 12. The Bunnelle's have 2 other children, Paul, 2, and Toni, 3.

There's a new resident for Haddow court at the home of Nancy and Mark Jenkins, 1111 Haddow court. Their new baby boy was born September 24 at St. Francis hospital and weighed 6 pounds 14 ounces. At the time of this writing the baby was so new that he had not as yet been named; however, he does have an older brother whose name is Jack.

Hospitalized

Evelyn Korff, 1179 Beverley, gave her husband, Chet, and family, not to mention friends and neighbors, quite a scare last week when she became ill and was taken to the hospital via ambulance. Her illness was diagnosed as polio but fortunately the non-paralytic type. Evelyn is in Evanston hospital and feeling better.

Kaffee Klatsch

Angie Keller, 1155 Douglas, started the chain of "Kuarter Kaffee Klatsch" parties in the Greens to benefit the proposed hospital. Angie served coffee and ice cream cake roll last Thursday to Marie Helbling, Kathy Hampil, Miriam Anderson, Kay Edberg and Dottie Graham in return for their quarter donation.

Spider Annihilation

In answer to our query on how to get rid of spiders in basements the best method has come from Harold Nelson, 705 Olive st. Harold says a bug bomb will do the trick provided the basement is first cleaned, then the bomb released and the last step is very important — leave the house for the day if you can and close it up. This spider specialist says he tried it and it works.

Association Meeting

Arlington Greens Community association will hold a meeting October 6, at 8 p.m. at the VFW hall to which the public is invited. Members of the village board will speak on the village manager form of government. It is important to note that this meeting will be the regular monthly meeting of the association which is usually held the first Tuesday of the month.

Elk Grove News

Sunday, Sept. 18 Elk Grove boy scout troop 58 met at school and scoutmaster Walter Gates escorted the boys to Powerama. Committee men Ray Woss, Dick Adams and Le Post accompanied the boys on the trip. They enjoyed the exhibits and the treat of cokes and hotdogs. Kay, Walter, and Tommy Gates; Jeanne, Mickey, and Gerry Adams; Pauline and Tommy Post; Irene Woss; and Will and Tommy Dixon also went with the boys on the trip. The troop is making plans for 2 overnight hikes to be held in October.

The Health committee of Mothers club checked the students vision last week. The hearing tests and height and weight measurement will be checked in the near future.

Winning Streak

Elk Grove baseball team extended its winning streak to 7 games by winning its second game of this school year 13-7. Prospect Heights was the victim of the defeat.

The first edition of the school newspaper, "The Voice of the Elks," will come out September 30.

All equipment for the home economics department of the junior high has arrived. The cabinets and the sink came last week, while the stove, refrigerator, and sewing machines were already at school. Linda Glassie donated a mirror for the home economics room.

Last week the sixth, seventh and eighth grades visited Powerama.

Mr. Schulze, school custodian, broke a bone in his foot last week. Everyone wishes him a quick recovery.

Former Teacher Hurt

Mrs. Paulus, a former Elk Grove teacher, broke her ankle. Sincere wishes for a quick recovery are extended by all of her many friends in Elk Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. V. N. Nunamaker recently returned from a vacation at Kirk's Lodge near Ely, Minn.

Mrs. Whytrykus celebrated her 75th birthday recently. Ernestine Martinez was 14 years old September 19, and Linda Lundquist was 8 September 22. Charlott Popp will celebrate her 13th birthday September 30.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kueking celebrated their first wedding anniversary recently.

Many Elk Grove residents went to Powerama last week. Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson, Mr and Mrs. Eddie Nelson, Mrs. William Carter, and Karen and Marilyn Anderson.

Final Reminder

Don't forget to attend the annual Mothers club rummage sale September 30 at the school. Bring or send used articles to the school today and tomorrow; they will be greatly appreciated.

Arlington Crest

Bob Nordstrom's famous car, affectionately called "Black Dragon" and performed so faithfully during the sub-zero wave last winter, is now replaced by the "Grey Dragon." The Black Dragon prefers to be known hereafter as "Reluctant."

Mrs. Zirko, Mrs. Shuler, Mrs. Thome, Mrs. Mogren and Mrs. Beth attended a quarter Koffee Klatsch at Mrs. Bob Nordstrom's Thursday.

The fifth annual dance and Halloween party of the Arlington Crest civic association will be October 29 at Fred's Place, Rand rd. near route 83. A "baby sitter exchange" will be made available for that night by Walter Twarowski, CL 3-9545. Interested parties please call several days in advance.

Mrs. Raymond Dietrich — CLearbrook 3-2793

Wedgewood Terrace

Del Franks will call at the Wedgewood Terrace Improvement association dance on October 8. The dance will start at about 9 p.m. and will be held at Fred's place.

The first Thursday in the month is the date for the regular meeting of the association and election of officers will take place in October.

Brownies

The first brownie meeting of the school year was to be held at the home of Mrs. John Revus, their leader, Tuesday. There are 9 girls registered this year. Mrs. Thomas Merritt will be co-leader. Words of appreciation come from the girls who had Mrs. Joseph DePasquale as co-leader last year. She is planning to move to Florida soon. (AM

'Nip Teen Crime Early:' Lohman

Former Rector Here Given Plane Tickets To Hawaii Triennial

Rev. Rob Roy Hardin, former rector of St. Philip Episcopal church, Palatine, was recently presented with plane tickets and expense money that enabled him to attend the triennial convention of that church in Honolulu this month. The gifts came from the women of his parish of St. John Episcopal church, Milwaukee, Oregon.

Schools Praise New Prevention Program

With a spirit reminiscent of the vigor of early New Deal days, Sheriff Joseph D. Lohman has launched a delinquency prevention program in cooperation with suburban high schools and police departments.

It is the first of its kind ever attempted in the U.S. and has the unanimous support of Arlington Heights, Palatine and other suburban schools.

To be coordinated through the office of the county superintendent of schools, the program is designed to give special attention to pupils manifesting truancy, incorrigibility, delinquent, and pre-delinquent behavior.

A TEAM OF specially trained juvenile officers will evaluate the individual problem cases and seek corrective action either through the pupil's re-entry into school or his referral to a community agency for further workshops in every area of the county. These will provide up-to-date and graphic techniques for recognizing pre-delinquent behavior and what to do about it for teachers, principals, and other interested persons.

In declaring his approval of the program, Eugene Oliver, administrative assistant at Arlington Hts. high school, said the school was ready to "cooperate fully" with the sheriff.

G. A. McELROY of Palatine high school also announced that they were "very much in favor" of the program.

Lohman hopes the new juvenile staff will be able to assist police and school officials to prevent chronic delinquency among suburban pupils by placing the facilities of his office at their disposal.

Although the program was not organized on a county-wide basis until this month, Arlington Heights and Palatine high schools had cooperated with the sheriff on an experimental basis last spring.

The staff of 15 juvenile officers who will work with the schools are college graduates trained in sociology or related fields.

33 Northwest Towns Hail New Four Point Delinquency Plan

Palatine and Rolling Meadows have enthusiastically approved a 4-point program for combatting juvenile delinquency.

The program was proposed by Sheriff Joseph D. Lohman Friday night in a meeting with village presidents, mayors and police chiefs of north Cook county.

Officials of 31 other suburbs joined Palatine and Rolling Meadows in supporting the plan.

Lohman's proposals are:

1—Establishment of a central record system, maintained by the sheriff's office, so suburban police may know if a juvenile has been in trouble in any other suburb.

2—Representation at Family court by a sheriff's deputy who will follow up each case, thus freeing suburban police for more pressing work.

3—Establishment of a school for juvenile officers to provide suburban police with specialized training.

4—Organization of local advisory councils to assist the sheriff in fighting delinquency.

A COMMITTEE of representatives from 11 towns was organized to maintain contact with Lohman and act as liaison between the sheriff and the suburbs. Villages represented are Palatine, Rolling Meadows, Barrington, Elmwood Park, Lincolnwood, River Forest, Niles, Franklin Park, Wilmette, and Northbrook.

Attending the meeting in St. Matthew's Lutheran school, Des Plaines, were Mayor Howard Olsen, Chief Francis X. Meyer, and Lt. Donald Foxworthy of Palatine, and Mayor John Northcote and Chief Tom Ullock of Rolling Meadows.

Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect were not represented.

"It is time," said Lohman, "that we look into what can be done to prevent juvenile delinquency rather than wait until the problem overwhelms us."

Mrs. Julia Luczak CL 3-6346

Forest View School

Minnesota Visitor

A teacher and nurse conference was held at the school Wednesday afternoon. Those present were the teachers, Mrs. Conkling, Mrs. Lawson and principal, Mrs. Miller; county nurse, Miss Reuhrdanz; and health chairman, Mrs. Westberg.

Mrs. Eunice Hutchings, representative of the Forest View school board, attended a meeting held at the county assessor's office on Tuesday. The county assessor's office has called a series of meetings with the representatives of all the school boards in each township, to present a proposal for a more effective method of assessments. There will be more information given as the plan is put into effect.

Regular monthly meeting of the Forest View mother's club will be held Tuesday, Oct. 4 at 7:30 p.m. A health movie, "Preface to a Life," will be shown by the county nurse, Miss Ruehrdanz, and a discussion will follow. Mothers, please bring records for the children's collection. We urge all members to attend.

Just a Reminder

Keep in mind the Christmas and gadget party, scheduled for Thurs- Minn., mother of Mrs. R. J. Walerius, is a guest at the Walerius home and plans to spend one week with the family.

Mrs. Jane Benevich was a Wednesday afternoon coffee guest at Mrs. Bob Keelys.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jevne and sons, David and Ricky, spent all day Saturday at the Powerama.

Attend Weddings

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Roland Koenig attended the wedding reception of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Parrish of Chicago at the Bensenville firemen's hall, Bensenville, Saturday.

Saturday, September 24, Ms. Stan Luczak, Sharon and Bonnie and Mrs. John Phol attended the wedding nuptials of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Paice at the Maryville chapel, Des Plaines. The Luczaks attended the reception held at Fred's Place, Mt. Prospect in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ignatius, Norwood Park, celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary on Sunday by entertaining relatives and friends with dinner and dancing at their home. Among those participating were the Fred Gorrs of Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Bob Keely attended a family reunion Sunday afternoon at her cousins, Mrs. Coy Wooldridge, Morton Grove.

Friends and neighbors wish to extend their deepest sympathy to Mrs. Michael Scussel, upon the recent death of her father, Harry Wilson, who resided in Chicago with her brother, Harry, Mrs. Arlington Heights, now a Florida Scussel, formerly of Seegers rd., resident, flew in on Sunday to attend the funeral which was held on Wednesday.

Friday evening dinner guests at the Bob Keely home of Golf rd. Prospect Heights

Sorry to hear you were ill, Mrs. Fred Gorr. Your friends wish you a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Grismer Sr. had the following friends for Sunday dinner: Misses Louise Becker, Anna Becker, Emma Schmidt, Mamie Hagemann and Ella Johannes, all from Chicago.

Sunday dinner guests at the Charles (Chuck) Jevne home were Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Garry and children, Crystal Lake.

Weekend guests for the past 2 weeks at the James Burton home were Mr. and Mrs. Victor Siegel and son, Milwaukee, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Padgett and son, Cicero, Mrs. Gina Hinsrud and Miss Ida Erickson, Danville, Ill.

Towns Short On Cash Missed The Boat In June

If Palatine, Arlington Heights, and Mount Prospect had been collecting a one-half cent sales tax in June, they would be richer by $23,551.72 for that 1 month.

Only Arlington Heights is not levying the optional tax at present. Both Palatine and Mount Prospect are now collecting it.

FIGURES for the 2 per cent sales tax collection for June, payable in July, were issued this week by Richard J. Lyons, state director of revenue.

Northbrook with $20,712 collected, jumped to 26th place among Cook county suburbs, compared to 38th place in June, 1954, when $11,700 was collected.

Palatine reported $19,553 placing in 29th compared to $17,753 a year ago when it ranked 30th. The one-half cent tax for that month would have netted the village $4,596.72.

MOUNT PROSPECT, with a collection of $19,607, would have received $4,607.64 as its share of the half cent levy.

And Arlington Heights which collected $38,158 in June, would have received $8,955.85. This collection was barely above the $38,110 a year earlier but the village placed 17th among suburbs this year compared to 20th in the preceding fiscal year.

Tryouts For 'Waltz Dream' Operetta October 16

"A Waltz Dream" by Oscar Straus will be the 1956 Prospect Heights community musical presentation. Director, as for last spring's "Mikado" performances, will be Fedor Kabalin.

Dates set for the performances are March 10 and 11, with both a matinee and evening performance scheduled for the second date.

So that practice may begin promptly, tryouts for the lead parts will be held October 16 at the Prospect Heights schoolhouse, 3:30 p.m.

Parts available are Maximilian X, baritone; Princess Helene, soprano; Lieutenant Niki, tenor or baritone; Kay Robinson, soprano; Princess Matilda, alto; Louisa, soprano; Bertram Budgett, medium; Count Lothar, baritone; Count Sigismund, tenor or baritone; Nicholas, baritone; Fifi, alto; Annerl, mezzo. Two speaking parts only are Prince Rupert and Lieutenant Montschi.

Kabalin has asked that those who want to try for leads be prepared to sing a number of their own choosing, either sacred or secular. Lines from the operetta will be read at the tryout session so that the dramatic ability of each of those interested in cast parts may be determined.

Any man or woman who is interested in playing a part in the operetta, either in cast or chorus, and living in any of the surrounding communities, is invited to join the group.

Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. R. H. Dietrich, CL 3-2793.

Concert Will Benefit NW Hospital Fund

Two of Chicago's most promising young artists will donate their talents Nov. 27 for a special concert to benefit the Northwest Community Hospital center.

Plans for the program are still being formulated.

The artists are Willard Straight, concert pianist, and Barbara Leichsenring, dramatic soprano.

Mr. Straight, currently on a midwestern tour, has been hailed as one of the nation's most brilliant young pianists. He has been soloist with the Chicago symphony, Kansas City symphony, the St. Joseph Pops orchestra, and with the Grant Park symphony.

Miss Leichsenring, now studying opera under Maestro Wolfgang Vacano of Indiana university, has been recognized as one of the midwest's outstanding young sopranos. She was soloist last spring with the Northwest Symphony and has done considerable oratorio and concert work in the Chicago area.

EYE-WITNESS REPORT

Arabs Fight for Rights in War Ravaged Palestine Split by UN

(This is another in a series of articles discussing the Israeli-Arab crisis in the Near East. The author, Rev. Birger Dahl of Arlington Heights, recently returned from Palestine and felt that the American public was not being told the real story of the tense situation.

by BIRGER DAHL

What caused the bloodshed of 1700 people in Palestine before Israel became a state?

November 29, 1947, the U.N. voted to partition Palestine. This meant dividing the country between Arab and Jew, a country which had been under Moslem rule since 634 A.D. except for the short Crusade period and the British mandate.

A young Arab Christian, a Cairo medical student, said to me: "What action do you think the people of the United States would take if several world powers gave most of your country back to the Indians?"

THE ARABS fought for the right to keep their property. More than one-half of the entire country, including its most fertile area, was to be put under control of less than one-third of the total population. Palestine had 1,319,000 Arabs and 604,000 Jews.

It is interesting to note that the partitioning of Palestine was the first major issue on which the U. S. and the U. S. S. R. had worked together in closest harmony.

Arab countries poured their meager resources together to oppose political Zionism. During our stay in the Middle East, we did not hear 1 person speak unkindly toward the Jews.

Our impression was that Jew and Arab could live side by side.

Arabs knew that many Jews, including men of great influence, were opposed to Zionism. Why? Because of the conviction that Zionism is morally wrong.

THE LATE ALBERT Einstein said he would rather see reasonable agreement with Arab on the basis of living together in peace than the creation of a Jewish state.

He writes: "To be a Jew, after all, means first of all to acknowledge and follow in practice those fundamentals in humaneness laid down in the Bible — fundamentals without which no sound and happy community of men can exist."

Rabbi Elmer Berger of New York City, executive director of the American Council of Judaism, recently returned from Israel and confirmed the fact that Arabs have never been opposed to the settlement of Jews in the Middle East. What they fear is the Zionist character of the state of Israel. Arabs oppose what State Secretary Dulles called "aggressive expansion" under world Zionist leadership.

The Arabs refused to acknowledge the partitioning of their country. A bloody war followed. Zionists, with foreign subsidies behind them and UN backing, withstood the attack. The Arab legion, however, held Old Jerusalem.

WE SAW THE hell of war in a small country.

On both sides dreadful deeds were committed. In Israel, our guide was very frank and pointed out places where his own people used terrorist tactics. He directed our attention to the south end of King David hotel where a group of Zionists threw a bomb into the British army headquarters. We saw the village at Deir Yassin where 250 Arabs, including women and children, were massacred by Jewish terrorists in April, 1948. This explains why Arabs fled the country and were warned over the radio in that day to "Remember Deir Yassin."

War continued, then armistice, then re-arming, more shooting, and finally a truce. But the prevailing conditions are tense. The countries are still in a state of war.

ISRAEL BECAME a state, May 15, 1948. Almost before it was born, President Truman recognized it. This action was done without due consideration of our State Department. On May 14 it was decided not to inform Secretary of State Marshall, or anyone else in the Department of State, until late in the afternoon to avoid any objection hindering immediate recognition.

At 6 p.m. that evening, General Marshall was instructed not to impart any information at that time because there was a debate in the United Nations on the question of trusteeship.

This scheming action aroused the indignation of many Americans and the peoples of the world, leaving the Arab nations distrusting the United Statees. Mrs. Bertha Spafford Vester, head of the American colony in Palestine for many years, serving regardless of race or creed, raised this question: "How can we as Americans, living in Palestine, vindicate such action?"

Next week: Visiting refugee camps).

Urge Publicity Chairmen To Attend Clinic

Paddock Publications strongly urges all publicity chairmen, together with the president of their respective organization, to attend the ninth annual publicity clinic to be held Thursday, Oct. 6, from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. in the Great hall of the First Methodist church, 1630 Hinmann ave., Evanston.

This will be an unusual opportunity for news writers to meet and hear top educators, journalists and writers who will conduct the clinic. Each person attending will receive a publicity handbook which covers such subjects as how to be a good publicity chairman, establishing good press relations, what is news in your club, what is a feature story, how to prepare good copy, hints on writing interesting copy, how to be professional about pictures, placing good publicity stories and promoting the "special event."

Tickets for the clinic are $3.50 and include admission to all sessions and a coffee break. They may be purchased at the door or secured in advance by calling Mrs. Ronald Cramer, UNiversity 4-7909. The clinic is sponsored by the North Shore chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, national fraternity for women in journalism.

Paddock Publications would like to see all local clubs and organizations include the clinic in their budgets and send various officers and members each year.

New Style Book

Publicity writers are also urged to write, phone or drop in to Paddock's office in Arlington Heights for a free copy of Paddock's new style book which covers the style of capitalization, punctuation, abbreviations and the use of figures as used in Paddock newspapers. This booklet also covers common writing errors usually made by untrained writers. It also covers postal restrictions and the use of photographs.

New Stewardess

Mary Alice Disch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Disch, of Wheeling, is now a stewardess for American Airlines and is currently assigned to flight duty aboard the company's Flagships operating in and out of Chicago Midway airport.

Miss Disch attended Maine high, Des Plaines, and Maryville college, St. Louis, Mo., receiving a B. S. degree in sociology at the latter school. She was a case worker at the Catholic charity bureau before entering stewardess training.

Before winning her stewardess wings, Miss Disch completed a four-week course at American's stewardess training center in Chicago during which she studied the principles of meteorology, flight operations, navigation, radio, airline schedules and other airline activity.

Announce New Teacher For Braille Class

MRS. MILDRED TINS

Mrs. Mildred Tins, who formerly taught second grade at Wheeling school, has been assigned to the special Braille classroom this year.

During the summer she took work at San Francisco State college in preparation for her Braille class this fall. Under the direction of Mrs. Florence Henderson, an authority on exceptional children, Mrs. Tins studied education and methods of teaching the blind, workshop in education of the blind child, and physiology and hygiene of the eye.

Eight blind children now attend the school, although the state maximum is 10.

Meanwhile, announcement was made of the annual "Autumn Sights Benefit" dance sponsored by the Seventh District Juniors to assist the Wheeling Braille school.

It is September 30 at 9 p.m. in Elmhurst country club. George Fanelli and his orchestra will provide music for dancing.

Tickets are available from Mrs. Ralph E. Hauptly or Mrs. John M. Grady.

Meet Your Hospital Board

This is one of a series of personality sketches introducing board members of the Northwest Community Hospital Center that will serve residents living in Wheeling, Elk Grove, Barrington, Palatine and Schaumburg townships.

A recent survey revealed that in the 5 townships in this area, there were 159 accidents in which injured persons had to travel 20 miles or more for emergency treatment.

That is 1 reason, explains Mrs. Albert C. Peters, 403 N. Belmont, Arlington Hts., why she is determined to work for a Northwestern Community Hospital center.

"We have wonderful doctors in the northwest area," she declared, "and we owe them a good hospital close to home."

Mrs. Peters, a registered nurse, became a member of the center's board of trustees through her interest as a representative of the Arlington Heights Nurses' club.

Mother of 5 sons, she is also a board member of the new high school Parent-Teacher council, past president of the Nurses' club, and member of PTA.

"The vast growth of the northwest community has made a general hospital in this area imperative," declares Charles J. Walters, 307 N. Bothwell, Palatine. "Overburdened physicians badly need the hospital. It is our goal to give this community a modern hospital with the latest equipment."

Walters is chairman of the board of trustees of the Northwest Community Hospital center.

A lawyer with offices in Palatine and a former special agent of the FBI, Walters is also chairman of the Northwest Suburban chapter of the American Cancer society.

He is the father of 3 sons, 18, 14, and 11.

Card Party Tonight To Aid NW Hospital

The rustle of playing cards tonight will symbolize financial support for a Northwest Community Hospital center.

The Arlington Heights Newcomers club is giving a benefit card party at 8 p.m. in the VFW club with all proceeds going to the hospital fund.

Bridge, canasta, and pinochle will be played with the public invited to attend, according to co-chairmen Mrs. Allen Patten and Mrs. Raymond Nottoli.

A coffee hour is included in the price of the tickets, which will be available at the door.

Local AAUW Branch To Welcome Delegates

Members of the northwest suburban branch of the American Association of University Women will welcome 300 delegates to a workshop at Maine township high school Saturday. Mrs. C. H. Bentley and Mrs. G. E. Concidine are in charge of arrangements for the workshop. Members of their committee are Mrs. George Bailey of Arlington Heights and Mrs. William Hartman of Mt. Prospect, administrative assistants; Mrs. E. G. Olsen, presiding officer; Miss Joan Shaw, registration; Miss Doris Ward, state directory; Mrs. R. M. Dunlap, exhibits; Mrs. Howard Milleville, coffee hour; Mrs. Vernon T. Brownell of Mt. Prospect, luncheon; Mrs. L. W. Snyder of Mt. Prospect, arts; Mrs. Tony Kuzich, publicity.

Purpose of the workshop is to enable branch leaders and officers to meet with state officers and state study chairmen to discuss ideas and techniques for greater success in branch and community projects.

Mrs. Walter M. Bain, AAUW state president, will preside at the general session assisted by Mrs. E. G. Olsen, president of the northwest suburban branch.

Cardinals Aim To Prove Hinsdale Win Was No Accident

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by Bob Paddock

A CHRONIC RIGHT KNEE injury is not affecting John Eakins in quarterback spot for Carthage college this year, as he calls the plays, hands off the ball beautifully, and passes now and then. That "now and then" was enough to beat Augustana Saturday, 7-6, with John completing 2 of 4 short attempts. A blocked kick by teammate Harry Fisher made John's TD toss all-important.

John Eakins

"It's not his passing or running that make John the best quarterback I've seen at Carthage," said Coach Art Keller, "It's his ability to run the team, call the right plays, and always planning 2 or 3 plays ahead."

John has been a valuable man to have around ever since graduating from Arlington Heights high school in '53, and enrolling in college the following fall. He lettered in football, basketball and baseball as a freshman, repeated in football and basketball his soph year. Last spring he gave up baseball for golf.

THAT BAD KNEE requires a lot of attention, including a special guard. But it hasn't handicapped his signal calling, nor his deception on handoffs. He has come a long way since high school days when he rated honorable mention on all-league grid squad his senior year.

"John has yet to make a bad call," reports his coach. "He's smart, an above average student, and works well with a fast backfield that stays on the ground most of the time."

John's passing needs improvement, but when your ground game is working, who needs an aerial attack? He has played entire offensive game in both contests to date, though may be pushed toward the end of the season by a Mt. Carroll freshman, Dick De Spain, who's coming fast.

THAT CONFERENCE RULE prohibiting any varsity or sophomore squad member competing in a West Suburban league football game Friday or Saturday from playing in frosh or JV game Monday has had a terrific effect at LaGrange and Arlington.

LaGrange has cancelled its JV schedule. Heights used 9 senior and junior reserves, plus 11 soph reserves against Hinsdale Monday, simply to follow through on committment.

It means a school with a small varsity squad is at a disadvantage, but maybe things will change at varsity level at Heights in the future. Frosh schedule at Arlington is now completely accounted for, by the way, with Downers Grove agreeing to Heights' request for all frosh games at home. All Card JV games are traveling affairs.

WHEN ARLINGTON WON its league opener against Hinsdale Friday night it was the second time in 5 years of West Suburban league competition that the Cardinals won conference opener. They beat Downers, 18-15, in '53. A near miss occurred in 1951 in Arlington's first West Suburban loop game which Downers won, 7-6.

1954—Maine 20, Arlington 13.
1953—Arlington 18, Downers 15.
1952—LaGrange 32, Arlington 0.
1951—Downers 7, Arlington 6.

The victory was also the second time Heights has beaten the Red Devils, the other one a 13-12 affair in '53. It was also the seventh West Suburban win for the locals, including 3 in '53 and 1 each of the other four years.

Glenbard has been whitewashed by Arlington twice, 7-0 in 1954 and 6-0 in '51. Riverside lost to Coach Ormbsbee's eleven, 21-6 in '53 and 12-6 in '52. Downers and Hinsdale were the other 2 victims.

This week it'll be a trip to Maine with the Heights eleven keyed for win No. 2. Here's hoping the local gridders can stay on top and possibly provide the student body and athletic teams the lift needed these several years.

LONG AND SHORT of it at Crystal Lake high school is a freshman football candidate 5' 2" and weighing 81, and another frosh hopeful standing 6' 5" and checking in at 281 . . . Globetrotters will open another season of exhibitions at Maine Oct. 14 . . . They'll play at Niles in December.

How good are your memories? . . . We've got a crisp dollar bill we'll give to the first person telling us how many different schools Arlington has met in football since Sept. 30, 1939, when Arlington whipped Crystal Lake, 12-6.

Greg Sloan was back in Arlington Friday night, this time as football referee . . . Sloan coached LaGrange to its recent state basketball title before going to Rich, from whence he now has time to officiate games . . . It will be Proviso East and Proviso West in 1957 . . . Former Arlington high superintendent LeRoy J. Knoeppel has the same job at Proviso.

Marv Berschet has been released by Washington Redskins . . . Marv expected back home in Arlington by the end of this week.

Ever wonder how much "pro" there is in pro football? . . . Each played signed gets 1/12th of his salary in the shower room after each league game . . . No pay is given for exhibitions or training, except room, board and about $2 a day spending money.

ROY KUMNICK of Palatine is a member of Culver cross country team . . . Starting left half at DeKalb college is Tom Skubich of Hinsdale . . . Left halfback prospect at Michigan State is Jim Chidester of Maine . . . No. 2 man at quarterback for Dubuque is Palatine's Norm Stenzel . . . Of 32 men out for Beloit college varsity are 19 Illinois men, including 10 lettermen.

Illini coaches are hoping to spring soph halfback Bob McKown of LaGrange loose against opponents during the next 3 seasons.

Tom Peters, Glenbard's pride and joy at Wisconsin where he is No. 3 left end, was all-league in both football and basketball, and set a state shot put record his final year in high school . . . He and Barrington's Dick Popp won frosh numerals with the Badgers last year . . . On the squad at Carthage are Roy Everson of Glenbard, who won a letter at end as a freshman in '54, and senior Don Wiek of Maine.

Tickets Ready For 'A' Men's Game

Major "A" sports winners of Arlington Heights high school will again be guests at the annual "A" men's game. Cardinals will be host to Downers Grove Friday night, Oct. 7, with the "A" men as guests.

Major "A" winners are asked to contact athletic director Wally Grace by card, phone or in person to receive the complimentary ducats. (SP

Bulldogs Could Be Tough For Palatine Team

Palatine Pirates, riddled by injuries, will be at home Friday night at Community Park to take on the Grant Bulldogs from Fox Lake. Grant lost, 19-0, to Grayslake Saturday after playing Libertyville to a scoreless tie in their non-league opener. Grant has a scrappy team with a very good starting lineup but limited reserves.

Palatine will likely play again without John Dilks, star left halfback; Leonard Rohde, third year veteran tackle; and Jeff Lehmann, a fine end. Dilks suffered an arch injury and Rohde has a bad knee which has not responded well to treatment.

Lehmann's illness was not fully diagnosed at the start of this week but he is definitely out of gridiron picture for the time being. Bill Eich, reserve tackle, suffered a cracked wrist in practice last Saturday to add to the gloom in the Pirate camp. However, Palatine figures to have enough good boys to take the measure of Grant, but it won't be at all easy.

GRANT WAS expected to rank pretty low this season. Palatine coaches hope the varsity game Friday night will be a bit of a breather, for the following 2 weeks very tough Grayslake and Wauconda will be the opponents.

On the basis of past performances Grant will be no soft touch for the Pirates. Too often Grant has been rated below par but upset Palatine.

In the last 13 years Grant has taken 9 decisions, 2 by 7-6 scores. In the 1952 season when Dick Welty directed Palatine to their only gridiron championship the one loss was to Grant at Fox Lake, 7-6. The last 2 years Palatine has been a onesided winner and Coach Feutz hopes the trend will continue.

PALATINE'S frosh-sophs, who tied Barrington 7-7 and beat Glenbrook 13-0, will be up against a team in the preliminary at 6:30 which has beaten Antioch 6-0 and Grayslake 12-7. Palatine's sophs have shown excellent blocking and tackling and that's what it takes to win in football.

If the sophs escape the injury jinx which has hit the varsity they have a chance to have one of the best football records in Palatine gridiron history. It all depends on whether they continue to improve as they have the past few weeks.

There is also a possibility some of the boys might be promoted to the varsity later in the season and after all the purpose of the frosh and the soph teams is to develop boys for the next team in the scale just as the minor leagues serve as feeders for the major leagues in baseball. There is no conference frosh-soph championship in football in the Northwest league for that very reason.

IN OTHER GAMES this coming weekend Glenbrook will travel to Bensenville Friday night to show fans the 32-0 whipping administered to Palatine was an indication of Glenbrook strength rather than Palatine weakness. Fenton high of Bensenville had trouble with Wauconda's passing attack a week ago and will get more of the same with Harms throwing to Boyd, Stodder and Colburn.

Saturday a neighborhood rivalry will be renewed when Ela-Vernon, the under dog, tries to exert the old Indian sign on Wauconda up on the Bulldog's own field. Advantages on paper disappear on the field it seems when next door neighbors meet and this game could go either way though Wauconda appears to have the edge with a superior passing attack.

Saturday night Antioch, winner over Ela 14-0, is host to Grayslake, winner over Grant 19-0, in a single game at 8:00 p.m. Both are undefeated after 2 games and this should be a good one with Grayslake the favorite.

Arlington Harriers Defeat Glenbrook, 23-42

Arlington Heights high school harriers regained victory trail against Glenbrook Tuesday, 23-42, as the Attis-men finished 1-4-5-6-7. Visitors finished 2-3-10-11-16 with Heights counting 13 boys in the first 20. Once again it was Bill Palmer coming in strong to cover the course in 10:11. Chapman of Glenbrook was 3 seconds behind.

Those winning points for Heights: Bill Palmer 1st, Wayne Haemker 4th, Ted Geocaris 5th, Dick Koopman 6th, Tom Jacobsen 7th. Copping points for Glenbrook: Chapman 2nd, Frey 3rd, Ayers 10th, Webster 11th, Clemetson 16th.

Arlington JVs Lose To Hinsdale

Arlington's JV football squad travelled to Hinsdale Monday afternoon and took a 34-0 shellacking. All 20 boys on the Heights squad were used, including 9 varsity reserves and 11 soph reserves. Tom Thackery led the squad at quarterback. Hinsdale tallied 3 times the first half, 2 the second.

End positions for Palatine's varsity football squad are still indefinite. Coach Charley Feutz is still looking for the right combination, with three boys rated 1-2-3 at ends. Catching passes are Jeff Lehmann, Bill McDonald and Ormel Prust. Pirates play host to Grant in a double bill Friday night, Sept. 30. —Staff Photo

Terrier Dads Beat Poodle Pops In Mt. Prospect's Fathers Game

by BETTY KIRCHHOFF

Terrier Dads beat the Poodle Pups, 9-8, in Mt. Prospect Little League's annual dads game Saturday afternoon at Owen street park. There were no casualties, although some of the dads had a rough time moving around Sunday.

Good pitching by Dassonville and Dempsey, and timely hitting accounted for the Terriers' victory. Winners led going into the fourth, 2-1, then added 5 more runs that frame to take a commanding 7-1 margin. They added another score in the fifth, with Kruse tripling in the sixth and scoring winning run on Dempsey's 2-bagger.

THE POODLES kept within striking distance with a trio of runs in both fifth and sixth innings. They made a desperate attempt to even things in the seventh, but were 1 short.

A. No; this is neither required nor expected.

Spartans Heavy Favorites In Fenton Game

Fenton high school's gridiron eleven will come home to meet league champion Glenbrook Friday night. Doubleheader will start at 6:30 under the lights.

Spartans whipped Palatine last week, 32-0, same score by which Wauconda dumped Coach Tom Meneguin's boys. The Bisons had no drive at Wauconda and showed suspicion of having been out the night before.

GENE JASKOT was the key to Wauconda's attack, in spite of Fenton working all week to stop him. Jaskot fooled the Du Page county eleven 3 times, scoring 3 TDs in the process.

Looking acceptable at times, though, were Henriksen, Heinrich, Dierking, Hauschild and Capadogli. This week they'll have to improve if the score is going to be anything but a repeat of last week's affair. Yarke will be out 3 weeks with cracked ribs, Tom Bost will replace him against Spartans.

ALL-TIME SERIES between the 2 schools since '39 shows Glenbrook holding a 6-4 advantage. Last victory for the locals was a 31-20 affair in 1951. Fenton holds a 2 point advantage over the 12 year period.

Arlington Gaining On Maine, Out To Win

Bert Wilson once said of the Cubs after their opponents had scored 5, 4, 3, 2 and 1 runs against them the first five innings, with the score 15-0, "We're catching up to 'em."

The same thing might be said about the Arlington Heights high school football Cardinals who travel to Maine Friday night. The Cardinals are "catchin' up to 'em."

Four years ago Maine beat Arlington, 41-6. Following year it was 35-0, then 7-0. Last year Heights scored 13 against the Blue Demons' 20.

Arlington Upsets Hinsdale To Delight Of Fans, 20-13

Arlington's varsity gridders upset the dope bucket Friday night, to the happines of thousands of fans, by copping a 20-13 first half lead, then hanging onto it. The victory put Heights on top of the West Suburban league.

The running of John Sujack was a big factor in the victory, including a 90-yard touchdown runback of a kickoff in the second quarter. He also ran back the opening kickoff 41 yards to the Hinsdale 49, from whence the Cardinals scored in a series of plays.

THE VICTORY was a result of a combination of many things, including spirt, determination and sharp tackling on the part of all concerned. "The seeing eye" of assistant coach Art Serfling, up in the stands, also helped, with his analysis of needed plays phoned down to head coach "Bus" Ormsbee.

Both squads racked up 9 first downs. Hinsdale led in total yardage, 275-140 but Heights led in punting, an important factor in any high school game. Lew Green's punts averaged 35.3 yards, 7 more than those of Hinsdale. Passing was at a minimum.

THAT OPENING kickoff was grabbed on the 10 by Sujack, and carried to Hinsdale's 49. Jim Summers carried to the 42. Sujack to the 38. A. Summers to Sujack pass brought the ball from the 35 to the 27, from where the pair alternated line plunges 7 times to the 6 yard line. Quarterback Denny Thill then scooted across for the TD, with Lew Green's kick good for the point after.

Hinsdale attempted to come back but a fumble slowed things with Cards taking over on the 36. Arlington was forced to punt and Red Devils moved 57 yards to the 2 in 4 plays as the quarter ended. Yort carried the final 2 yards 2 plays later for Hinsdale with Cortesi kicking the extra point.

THEN CAME the thriller. Cortesi booted the ball in to Sujack's arms, and away he went for his 90 yard touchdown run, his second in the 2 games to date. Soon after Hinsdale fumbled on its 35, from where Sujack carried to the 21, and Summers rushed to the 2. A fumble was recovered and 2 plays later Summers scored.

Red Devils began a determined march from their own 20. A 21-yard pass from Yort to Winkler moved the ball to the Heights 19 but a penalty pushed it back to the 34. Hinsdale, aided by a penalty, hit pay dirt 3 plays later, Stanicek carrying the final 2 yards.

SECOND HALF was a see-saw affair with no scoring, though Hinsdale gained plenty of ground. Arlington's kickoff was run back to the 35 by Stanicek with Cortesi carrying to the Heights 42. Kellum picked up 8, Stanicek 16 to the Card 18. Arlington then held and took over on the 12, with Green punting to the Hinsdale 27.

Red Devils went nowhere with Heights moving from its 41 to Hinsdale's 24. From then on it was simply an exchange of punts and a fumble. Game ended with Heights on its own 33.

NORTHWEST CONFERENCE gridiron season is underway with one week out of seven played. None of the games last weekend expected to be close battles turned out as such with the possible exception of the Antioch-Ela Vernon game. Palatine and Bensenville were thoroughly drubbed in games where they were expected to make a strong bid. Probably both Glenbrook and Wauconda were underrated and Ela-Vernon overrated in our last week's predictions. Some coaches who saw Wauconda play their non-conference game stated they did not have a thing. Gene Jaskot and Bill Weinberg proved that statement to be very much out of line.

Bob Boyd

Palatine played without their best back, John Dilks, and two of their best linemen, Jeff Lehman and Leonard Rohde, at Glenbrook Friday. That hurt plenty but Glenbrook has far too much for any team in the conference this year and, unless they let down badly, will have an undefeated season for the second straight year. Actually Palatine was fortunate the score was not larger. Wauconda's passing attack smothered Bensenville's veteran team as Bill Weinberg threw passes for four touchdowns and two extra points.

GENE JASKOT of Wauconda took a 19-14 lead on defending champ scorer, Bob Boyd of Glenbrook. Strange situation is that all the touchdowns scored by these two stars, playing their third season as varsity regulars, were made on passes. Both have started at a pace far in excess of the league record of 82 points set last year by Boyd.

Palatine and Bensenville got some consolation from their varsity defeats in the fact that their frosh-soph teams were winners. It was the first time a Glenbrook sophomore team had been beaten in the conference in three seasons and Palatine did a convincing job of it, holding the Spartans outside the Palatine 30 yard line.

Antioch appears to us to have the makings of a good team with little Bill Barnstable at half back looking particularly good in his first varsity game. However, we don't think the Sequoits will get by Grayslake Saturday night. Neither do we think Ela-Vernon will get by Wauconda Saturday afternoon. Ela has a fair defensive team which will improve but their offense needs a lot of smoothing out before they can score against a good team. Except for Soos, Ela is rather slow. While Ela has held a jinx over Wauconda in football over the years it looks like the Bulldogs will take the Ela Bears next Saturday.

BENSENVILLE is in for a rough evening Friday when they are host to the power packed Glenbrook Spartans. We would not venture a guess as to the score. Palatine should bounce back against Grant Friday night on the home field and win, even though the injured players are still out of the lineup. Grant appears to be slated for the lower regions of the standings and the Pirates certainly need a breather after Barrington and Glenbrook, and before taking on potent Grayslake and Wauconda.

Talk about breaks in a ball game. Take a case in the Ela-Antioch game Saturday. Ela was back on their own two yard line and, trying to punt out of the hole, kicked one straight up in the air. The ball landed on the six yard line where Antioch fumbled it and Ela recovered to give them four more downs. Eventually Ela fumbled the ball back to Antioch to set up a score. There were nine fumbles in the game and all were recovered by the opposing team.

LAST WEDNESDAY the Northwest conference principals met at Palatine and later had dinner with the coaches of all schools at the Palatine high cafeteria. One of the topics which will be given a good deal of time by the principals who meet every month will be an evaluation and study of the athletic program in the conference. The next principals meeting will be held at Antioch Wednesday, October 12, with music teachers included. At this meeting plans for the spring festival will get under way.

Enrollment in the Northwest Conference ranges from Wauconda's 335 to Glenbrook's 915. The five Lake county schools are smallest. Above Wauconda are Grayslake 346, Ela-Vernon 375, Grant 425, and Antioch 482. Bensenville has 630 and Palatine 680. Differences in enrollment have their greatest effect in football where numbers of players of varsity caliber give an edge to the large school. For the most part the larger schools are not improving in athletics beyond the smaller ones as much as it would be reasonable to expect, but it is not likely to stay that way.

Wauconda Wallops Fenton In Surprise Exhibition, 32-0

by BILL RIPPERGER

Gene Jaskot led his Wauconda teammates to victory as they mauled the visiting Fenton Bisons, 32-0, Saturday afternoon. Jaskot sparked the Bulldogs offensively, as well as defensively, for he caught 4 scoring passes for a total of 19 points.

In the opening minutes of the game, the Bulldogs gave evidence of what was to come, as they pushed to Fenton's 8 yd. line. Quarterback Bill Weinberg passed to Gene Jaskot in the end zone, but Bob Pintoryyi's conversion attempt failed. The quarter ended with the score standing 6-0, Wauconda.

RON CLARK reviewed the Bulldog drive in the second period when he intercepted a Bison pass and scampered 42 yards to Fenton's 22 yd. line. A series of ground plays brought Wauconda to within 2 yds. of the goal line, where Pintozzi carried for the touchdown. A fumble spoiled the try for the conversion.

Following the kickoff the Bisons marched to Wauconda's 26 yd. line but time in the half ran out before they could score. The Bulldogs still led 12-0.

WAUCONDA continued their scoring in the third quarter when Jaskot snared a Weinberg pass for 24 yards and a TD. The conversion attempt was put down by the Bisons. Later in the period, Clark intercepted another Fenton pass and returned it 22 yds. for the Bulldog's fourth touchdown. Bill Weinberg passed to Jaskot for the extra points.

In the fourth period Wauconda pushed downfield to where Weinberg threw his third scoring pass to Jaskot. Weinberg passed to his other end, Ron Clark, for the conversion, making the final score, 32-0, Wauconda.

Ela Out-Fumbles Antioch To Lose NW Opener, 14-0

In a typical early season game marred by frequent fumbles and inconsistent offensive play Antioch took a 14-0 decision from Ela-Vernon Saturday at Lake Zurich in the Northwest opener. Ela fumbled the ball to Antioch four times and had three intercepted passes while Antioch let Ela have the ball five times by fumbling. The Sequoits scored twice in the second half after frequent earlier threats.

Antioch took the opening kickoff and marched from their own 34 to the Ela seven where they fumbled away a scoring chance.

In the same period Ela had first down on Antioch's 15 yard line but lost the ball on a fumble. In the second quarter Ela's Wesner recovered an Antioch fumble on the opponents 32 yard line but two plays later fumbled it back to the Sequoits.

ELA WAS IN the hole all the third quarter until Layton of Antioch scored on a two yard line buck. It started when Antioch intercepted a pass on the Ela 45. Antioch moved to the 18 but was thrown for two losses totaling 25 yards. A punt out on the Ela two really put the Bears on the spot. A bad punt which went straight up in the air for four yards was fumbled by Antioch and recovered by Ela for an unusual break. A little later though Ela fumbled the ball back to Antioch on the 21 and in six plays, featured by a 12 yard run by Barnstable, Layton of Antioch scored and Frank Walsh converted.

Ela was right back in the hole again when Antioch intercepted a pass at midfield and drove to the Ela three before losing the ball. The Bears punted to the 30 but a little later Don Schroeder ran 14 yards to score on an end run. Ela's only second half threat was a march from their own 44 to Antioch's 29 where the ball was lost on downs. Antioch promptly fumbled the ball to Ela but they obligingly fumbled it right back.

Yardage was 163 to 146 and most of the statistics rather even with Antioch enjoying a slight edge. Don Schroeder had a net of 77 and Bill Barnstable 57 for Antioch while Ronnie Soos, quarterback, led Ela-Vernon with 51 yards which included a sprint of 28 yards.

Travelers 1st; Host Saturday To Rockford

Travelers took over undisputed 1st place in the Bi-State Football League Sunday by downing the powerful Racine Raiders in a real slug it out affair on the Bensenville high grid, 13-12. Racine was last year's league champion and already had 3 exhibition game wins under their belts before meeting the Travelers.

The Travelers scored in the first quarter on some fine running by Leon McRae. The try for extra point by Don Busch was wide.

IN THE 3RD quarter the Travelers scored again on a 25 yd. pass from Wally Kirk to Chuck Allen, who made a circus catch in the end zone. Allen's try for extra point was good, Travelers 13, Racine 0.

In the last quarter Racine's fine team caught fire and scored twice but both P.A.T. were blocked, one by Norman Nisson, Traveler linebacker, and the other by Herman Frazer, Travelers all-league end last year.

Racine was knocking on the door in the closing minutes of play when they had the ball on the Travelers 4 yard line and goal to go. Some terrific defensive line play by Elmhurst pushed Racine back to the 11 where they fumbled as the final whistle blew.

This win gives the Travelers 2 wins and no defeats in League play, while Aurora is close behind with a 1 and 1 record. Rockford and Racine have each lost 1 game.

SATURDAY NIGHT at 8 p.m. the Travelers will meet the Rockford Golden Eagles on the Bensenville high gridiron. This should be a real thriller, inasmuch as the Travelers are out for their win of the season and also because they have yet to defeat Rockford. In 6 previous meetings, Rockford has always won.

This week will be spent on improving pass defense and on polishing up running attack. Rockford has a fine passing attack as well as 2 fine runners in Quinten Bullner, formerly with the Delavan Red Devils and also Frank Morris who has just returned from a tryout with the Chicago Bears. Morris is one of the finest runners in the league.

Grayslake Opens With Grant Victory

Grayslake opened the league season with a decidedly optimistic outlook as a result of a 19-0 victory over Grant. The opposing Bulldogs had beaten Grayslake the last three years 14-13, 7-6, and 21-18 so revenge was sweet for the Rams who have been forced to stay in the second division all three years they have been in the Northwest Conference.

Bill Moore, 220 pound fullback, scored two of the three Grayslake touchdowns, both on one yard plunges. The first one in the opening quarter came on the first play after a bad pass from center by Grant was downed by Grayslake on the Bulldog one yard line. The second in the second period followed recovery of a fumble on the Grant 23. In the last quarter Gale Peregrin, Grayslake quarterback, plowed through center two yards to score to culminate a 50 yard march. Peregrin place kicked the point after touchdown.

Palatine Sophs Top Glenbrook

Palatine Pirates' frosh-soph football team, headed by great running by Richard Wisner and pass catching by Jordan Danforth, defeated the Glenbrook frosh-soph team 13-0 at Glenbrook.

The first of Palatine's two touchdowns was a 8 yard pass from Richard Wisner, which deflected off the hand of Jim Elderidge, and into the hands of Jordan Danforth. The other touchdown came on a 32 yard run around end by Richard Wisner. He then ran over for the extra point.

IN THE FIRST quarter Glenbrook couldn't get started. Everytime they got the ball they would fumble and Palatine would recover. Glenbrook finally got a drive started in the third quarter but Jerry Segebrecht and Mike Millay dumped the Glenbrook quarterback for losses on two plays The drive was finally halted when Thomas of Glenbrook went back to kick and Bill Rogers blocked the kick with Jerry Segebrecht recovering the ball.

Palatine got 252 yards running to Glenbrook's 75 yards. Richard Wisner, quarterback for Palatine, got 137 yards running which was 62 yards more than Glenbrook's whole team could get running. Palatine had 9 first downs to Glenbrook's 3 and Palatine's total yardage was 266 to their opponents 87.

OTHER BOYS playing well were Danny Lemanski, Bob Nordin, and Don Teegan for Palatine. For Glenbrook Joe Becker and Don Thomas looked good.

Palatine's coach, Claude Bailey said that teamwork was the important factor in Palatine winning the game.

Bob Boyd Leads Glenbrook In 32-0 Win Over Palatine

BY· TERRY MOORE

Palatine Pirates met the Glenbrook Spartans in their first Northwest conference game of the season at Glenbrook Friday night. Glenbrook, behind the terrific play of Bob Boyd, won easily over Palatine 32-0. Palatine was forced to play without the services of John Dilks, Leonard Rhode, and Jeff Lehmann; all three out with injuries.

Glenbrook displayed a tremendous ground attack, outgaining Palatine 271 yards to 60. In the air the Spartans passed for 97 yards compared to 41 for the Pirates. Glenbrook gained 13 first downs compared to four for the Pirates.

GLENBROOK scored on a 2 yard plunge by quarterback Duane Harms, a 30 yard pass from Harms to Boyd, a 33 yard pass from Harms to Boyd, a short run by halfback Gary Windels, and a two yard run by a substitute halfback, Don Powers.

A Palatine fumble gave Glenbrook the ball on the Palatine 30 early in the first quarter. After an incomplete pass Windels went 28 yards to the Pirate two. On the next play Harms scored on a quarterback sneak. The conversion try by Boyd was missed making the score 6-0.

Gaining possession on the 50 yard line after a Pirate punt, Glenbrook marched 50 yards in five plays for their second touchdown. Fullback Bacon gained six yards and Windels ten for a first down. Two plays later Harms passed 30 yards to Boyd for the touchdown. Boyd kicked the extra point giving Glenbrook a 13 point lead.

AFTER KICK OFF Palatine drove to the Glenbrook 20 only to lose the ball after failing to make a first down. Highlighting the drive were two pass plays from George Beyer to Ormel Prust gaining 26 yards.

After exchanging punts in the second quarter Glenbrook quarterback Harms passed to Boyd for a 33 yard touchdown play. Boyd kicked the extra point making the score 20-0.

Toward the end of the first half, Boyd intercepted a Palatine pass and returned the ball to the Palatine 35 for a 30 yard run. The Spartans, aided by a 41 yard run by Windels after a 15 yard penalty, brought the ball down to the Palatine one yard line when the half ended.

Both teams fumbled five times, indicating the players were tackling hard.

GLENBROOK scored in the third quarter on a sustained drive from the Palatine 46. The longest gains of the drive were a 16 yard run by Boyd and a 16 yard pass from Harms to Windels. Windels scored the touchdown from one yard out. The extra point try was missed making the score 26-0.

In the fourth quarter Glenbrook substitutes scored the last touchdown. A sustained drive from the Palatine 48 ended with a two yard touchdown plunge by Powers. Two pass plays from Rinnella to Reed aided the drive. The conversion try was missed resulting in the final score of 32-0.

Palatine Frosh Lose To Glenbrook

by GEOFFREY JOHN

Palatine frosh played their first conference game of the year and were defeated by Glenbrook, 8-0, at Palatine.

Glenbrook's lone touchdown was set up when Schmadebeck intercepted a pass and four plays later ran over for the touchdown from the two yard line. Their other two points came on a safety in the latter part of the last quarter. The safety was caused when Cort of Glenbrook came from his linebacker position and tackled Joe Fischer behine the goal line.

Palatine never really got started until the second half when Joe Fischer started making runs around end. This offensive drive was halted on Glenbrook's 35 yard line as Palatine was forced to kick.

Q. Is it proper to drink part of the coffee with the spoon, especially if it is very hot?

A. No; the spoon should be used only for stirring, and then it is placed in the saucer and remains there.

Whip Arlington, 44-19

Hinsdale's cross country squad left no doubt as to the outcome in a 44-19 victory over Arlington Heights Wednesday of last week, copping first, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth places. Individual cross country champ Hohl finished 38 seconds ahead of Cards' Bill Palmer.

Taking 4 places in a row, starting with ninth for Heights were Wayne Haemker, Dick Koopman, Ted Geocaris and Tom Jacobsen. First 5 finishing for Hinsdale were Hohl, Olcott, Smith, Holderness and Kusch. Five of the first 7 Red Devils are seniors. (SP

Fenton Sophs Top Wauconda

by MAX ZOLLNER

Sparked by substitute Reeves, Fenton scored a sparking 14-6 victory over Wauconda on the Bulldog's gridiron Saturday afternoon.

Taking possession of the ball late in the first period Wauconda, on a series of ground plays, marched to the Bisons six inch line. At this point the quarter ended.

ON THE FIRST play of the second period Bulldog Freund plowed up the middle into the end zone for the touchdown, giving Wauconda a 6-0 edge.

Retaliating, the Bisons quickly scored on a 25 yard kickoff return by quarterback Don Di Orio and a spectacular 47 yard run by Bill Emory. Bill Emory also carried the ball for the extra point, giving Fenton a 7-6 margin.

AN INJURY to Don Orio, Bison quarterback, in the third stanza brought into the game Reeves. Reeves kept the Bisons alert which resulted into their first conference win.

In the final quarter after a series of fumbles, the Bison eleven found themselves 15 yards from another touchdown. On the next play Fenton's Reeves passed successfully to end Tom Mc Cann for the touchdown. Bill Emory ran the extra point for Fenton making a final score of Fenton 14, Wauconda 6.

Heights Sophomores Lose To Hinsdale

Improved play, but still not good enough to win—that was the situation Friday night at Arlington Heights as Coach Bill Beckman's Heights sophomores fell to Hinsdale, 26-13. Fumbles set up 2 visiting TDs, with a penalty helping on a third.

Two sustained drives for 55 and 65 yards counted for Arlington, the first coming in opening period with Ed Schumacher going the final 5 yards. Schumacher bulled across the final yard on the other drive, too, in the third quarter with Denny Zapp sweeping end for point after.

HINSDALE SCORING started in the second period when Hart caught a pass and crossed the goal line. In the third quarter Hinsdale was hit hard on the Heights 9, the ball rolling into the end zone. Hinsdale end Dunlap fell on the ball for the score. Extra point was kicked.

The visitors again scored in the third period when Wenaas picked up a Heights fumble and raced 45 yards. In the fourth Hinsdale drove to the locals' 30. A penalty moved the ball to the 15 with visitors driving the rest of the way.

ARLINGTON outgained Hinsdale, 177-137. Hinsdale completed 4 of 7 passes, Heights none of 2 attempted. Cards' pass defense was poor, though a lot of tackling was sharp. Punt coverage was good for the Heights sophs, with the ends looking good in covering receivers.

Denny Zapp looked good on both offense and defense, with Tom Kennicott showing well as linebacker. Ed Schumacher ran well with Bill Fischer calling a good game.

Q. What should I do at the dinner table if someone asks me a question just as I am conveying a bite of food towards my mouth?

A. Most certainly don't put the food into your mouth and then attempt to answer the question. It is much better to return the fork to your plate, answer the question, and then resume eating.

Card Frosh Lose To Hinsdale

Monday was a bad day for Arlington's freshman football team, with poor tackling, poor blocking and listless playing bringing on a 14-0 defeat at hands of Hinsdale.

Visitors scored in the first quarter on a pitchout, 20-yard pass and Hinsdale intercepted one of Jeff Heintz' passes on the Arlington 20 in the second period for the other score with Brown again carrying the extra point.

HEIGHTS FAILED to move the ball the first half and looked disinterested. Young Red Devils were one step ahead of the locals on every play, though second half was played between the 30s as action picked up.

Best scoring opportunity for Coach Curtis Larsen's boys was stopped on the Hinsdale 15 when a fumble disrupted things on first down. Heights did manage to outgain Hinsdale, however, 106-98 as the Card defense perked up second half.

ARLINGTON PASSING attack included 4 completed in 10 attempts, with Helmut Lux and Bob Curatti showing well. Hinsdale completed 2 of 4, both teams gaining 30 yards via airways.

Hinsdale punting was superior, averaging 35 yards per kick. Little protection was given Arlington's kicker. Large squad has been divided into 2 groups with Curtis Larsen and Maurice Kellogg handling the "A" group and Bob Baker and student teacher Dave Dean handling the "B" group.

Sizzling On The

College Grid

One of football's sweetest dishes is on the menu for the discriminating gridiron gourmet Saturday, Oct. 1, Michigan vs Michigan State.

The Spartans are certain to be decided underdogs. Michigan anticipates having one of her greatest teams this fall. State is expected to be somewhere on the road back after a calamitous 1954 season in which it won but 3 of 9 games and only one in the conference. Just how far back it rebounds depends largely on the work of a handful of battle-hardened veterans and a host of eager sophs.

State had won 4 in a row over the Wolverines up to last season, bowling over the Ann Arborites 14-7 in 1950; 25-0 in 1951; and 27-13 in 1952; and 14-6 in 1953. The all-time series shows a big Michigan edge, with 34 wins to only 10 for State. Three games ended in ties.

NORTHWESTERN'S Wildcats, victims of a 25-14 setback at the hands of upset-minded Miami (O.) last week, will attempt to rebound against Tulane in an intersectional clash at New Orleans, Saturday, Oct. 1.

It will be the third meeting between the 2 teams since the rivalry began in 1925 with an 18-7 Tulane victory. Northwestern evened the series at one victory apiece with a 14-0 win in 1930.

About the only cheering note Saban observed in his Northwestern debut was an 88-yard drive for the Wildcats' first touchdown. In this sustained thrust, a trio of Wildcat backs, Jim Troglio and Jerry Weber, halfbacks, and Eddie Quinn, fullback, rolled up big chunks of yardage.

Halfbacks Jim Troglio and Jerry Weber spearheaded Northwestern's running attack. The former gained 44 yards in 7 carries for a 6.2 average while the latter rolled up 58 yards in 14 carries for a 4.1 average.

Ollie Lindborg, sophomore halfback, was impressive in his collegiate debut as he gained 36 yards in 11 carries for a 3.2 average. Eddie Quinn, second string fullback, gained 34 yards in 5 carries, a performance which may earn him a starting role against Tulane.

Age, Beauty And Youth In Ice Follies At Stadium, Oct. 18-30

There's 32 years difference in the ages of the youngest star (Billy Henry) and the oldest star (Mr. Frick) with Shipstads and Johnson all-new Ice Follies of 1956. Frick is also twice as old as Richard Dwyer, "The Young Debonair" and 4 times as old as Janet Champion, the little starlet from San Diego. If your algebra is sharp, that makes Billy Henry's age 8 years, Janet Champion, 10 years, Richard Dwyer, 20 years, and Frick, 40 years.

In fact the 20th Anniversary Edition of the Ice Follies coming to Chicago Stadium October 18-30 is composed of youngsters as well as stars who have been in the limelight for several years and have made good with the public and press. "The boys," Oscar Johnson and Eddie and Roy Shipstad have the same theory as major league baseball owners, get their signatures to a contract early, and give them proper instruction and training.

Auto Registrations At Record Level

Motor vehicle registration in Illinois at the end of August had already surpassed last year's record high total, secretary of state Charles F. Carpentier announced today.

For the first 8 months, 3,274,420 motor vehicles of all types were registered, an increase of 73,944 over the entire year of 1954. The 1955 figure is 172,357 more than the comparative 8-month total for 1954, he added.

You and the Show

Many owners of just one dog enjoy the hobby of showing at dog shows just as much as large kennel operators. However, a great many persons who have acquired a purebred registered dog and have a hankering to show it don't always appreciate this fact. Moreover, they don't know the steps to take to enter their dog in the show although it is really very easy and may be a start toward an interesting and absorbing hobby.

First of all, there are two main kinds of shows, the licensed show at which championship points are awarded and the sanction match show where no championship points are entailed and which sometimes are ideal as a starting place for novice exhibitors and novice dogs. These are rather informal affairs held from time to time by regular show-giving clubs where entries may be made on the day of the show. At the regulation licensed shows entries must be made two weeks in advance of the date of the show.

Knowing when and where a dog show is to be held is simply a matter of obtaining a copy of any of the dog magazines which are shown on the newsstands and which have a section in each listing the dates and locations of shows, or you may write to the American Kennel club, New York City requesting information about forthcoming shows. Select the show nearest to your location and write to the secretary for a premium list. This is a pamphlet that gives all the information about the show and includes an entry form that you fill out and return along with the stipulated entry fee.

In exhibiting at your first show it is always wise to remember that there is a ring steward at the ring where your breed is to be judged who can give you advice and help you find your way around. Also, by conversation with owners of the same breed of dog which you have and by observing the methods used by professional handlers in grooming and showing their dogs, a lot can be learned.

A licensed show may be an all-breed show or a specialty show for one breed. In either case, there are separate classes for each sex which are for puppies, usually from six to nine months of age and those from nine to twelve months. Then there is the Novice class for dogs which have never won a blue ribbon in a licensed show (not counting wins in a puppy class), a Bred-By-Exhibitor class and an American-Bred class. The next regular class is the Open class for all dogs of any age. A separate class for Specials is for champions only. An individual should, of course, enter his dog in the class in which it falls, and as the judging proceeds he will be able to observe how a dog moves from its own individual class up through the Best of Breed, Group Winner and then on to "Best of Show." To the fortunate individual who has a dog which some day becomes "Best in Show," he indeed can be proud of owning it.

This has been a short resume as applied to Bench Shows and, of course, a dog which is entered in a Field Trial or an Obedience Trial is handled under different conditions and with different rules applying. They would each require a separate article to cover the classes and procedures involved, which space at this time would not permit.

Ticks

Ticks, once considered only a country problem, are now on the increase in many city and country areas, according to the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York. The brown dog tick is the most widely distributed and though it does not bite humans it is a scourge to dogs. City dwellers are warned to be on the lookout for ticks on their pets and in their homes for they can be carried in by other means than dogs.

Inspect your dog daily, advises the Center. Ticks abound in grassy areas, along paths, in city parks and lots as well as in open country. They attach themselves to dogs, or other animal hosts, and cling, sucking blood. The engorged female tick then drops off, crawls to a hiding place, lays a few thousand eggs and dies. The eggs hatch and there are that many more ticks.

Ticks are quite easy to see and can be picked off by hand. They are tough to kill, which is best done by dropping them into a tin of kerosene or turpentine. There are various commercial shampoos and dips which will eliminate ticks from dogs or an effective wash can be made with four ounces of derris powder containing three percent rotenone and one ounce of flaked soap in a gallon of tepid water. Keep on the watch for ticks around the house. Under rugs, behind picture frames, furniture or room corners are favorite hideouts fo these pests.

Barks and Bays

It is of interest to note that the average age of Retrievers which qualify for the National Retriever Championship is 5½ years.

Also, with school starting and many a mother worried about sending her offspring to school alone for the first time, might consider the case of "Jeff", a dog owned by Ray Lewis, Detroit, Mich., who regularly visits his former neighborhood by traveling alone on street cars.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

The man or woman who deliberately sets out to steal the love of a married man or worman from his partner is as much a criminal as the robber who robs a bank; yet the wife or husband stealer often not only escapes with the loot, but goes scot free as well.

Take George and his wife. Most anyone would think that they would make a go of marriage if anyone would. George, a salesman, was making big money. He and his wife, Anne, built their business up together, she taking care of the secretarial and bookkeeping end, while George got the orders. Their marriage seemed a perfect one. They loved their home, in which they were out of debt, their children, their Cadillac car. If any couple had everything, they did. Now they are separated.

GEORGE MET a blond many years younger than his wife on one of his trips. The affair kept up for several years until a friend of Annes gave her the tip off. Anne did everything under the sun to to save her marriage, the business she and George had built up together, the unity of the home for the sake of the children, but she couldn't get through to George. All the years they had worked together, the sacrifices they had made, the close communion they had in a common endeaver meant nothing.

Apne still hopes to keep her marriage. Whether she can or not remains to be seen, but the pathos of it all, the heartaches, the complete stupidity of it, is a demonstration of a man's inability to control the animal nature within him. There are thousands of similar cases resulting in emotional shocks which leave deep marks on the personalities of those involved and even deeper ones an their children.

What is the solution to such problems? Perhaps more christian morality, a deeper sense of marital responsibility and loyalty, and a less juvenile attitude on the part of partners in marriage.

QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY

Our oldest has been delving into literature lately. This has not been on her own but under the wonderful guidance of her English teacher. It amuses us to hear her comments on some old favorites of ours. Comments of yon daughter, not teacher.

She is going rather strong on Edgar Allan Poe at the moment and thinks that the old boy had a screw loose somewhere. We have hastened to assure her that she is probably right but after all, he is practically the father of the whodunit and that is enough distinction for anybody. We were quite amused that she was shocked at some of his stories.

Her reading of The Tell-Tale Heart threw her into quite a frenzy. What caused us to laugh is that there are those to whom the horror comics were abhorent. Our opinion was the same. Then we reread the Tell-Tale Heart and Poe had a corner on the market way back when.

We wonder what ever happened to those stories, Lena Rivers, who was a beautiful but poor gorgeous redhead in love with a rich and uncaring young man until she got sick with the whole thing which, for some reason or other caused all her gorgeous red tresses to drop off. There was a story with some meat in it and a happy ending to boot.

The other stories by the same author were Dora Deane who was a poor but beautiful gal who was in love with a rich and uncaring young man which made her sick and all her pitch black hair to fall out. It, too, had a happy ending. The only other story we can remember was the English Orphan which was a girl, poor, beautiful, in love with the usual, got as sick as the others, and lost her hair to prove it.

The conclusion that one may draw from these stories is don't fall in love with a rich guy or you are likely to end up bald but if you need the money badly enough it may be worth it.

So much for literature.

Students Asked To Apply Now For NROTC Awards

Chief Fred J. Oehmke of the U.S. Navy recruiting service announced the opening today of the 10th annual competitive examination for high school seniors for the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps. Applications are now available to high school seniors of Arlington Heights high school.

Chief Oehmke, who maintains a navy recruiting station in the Arlington village hall daily except Saturday, said all successful candidates will start their careers in colleges and universities of their choice across the nation in 1956 with substantial assistance from the government. Students enrolled in this program will receive $600 annual retainer pay plus all tuitions, fees and books furnished by the navy.

Male citizens of the United States 17 to 21 years of age, are eligible to apply for the NROTC aptitude test. Persons who attain a qualifying score will be given the navy's rigid midshipman physical examination next February. From the remaining pool of qualified applicants, 1800 young men will be selected for appointment to the NROTC.

Further information can be obtained from Chief Oehmke at the Arlington village hall.

Go Get 'Em, Wives

Some most attractive young and old matrons attracted so much attention from certain young and middle aged executives that it was positively revolting to the less attractive wives of these executives at a recent picnic held at Allison Woods. We wives do not intend to let this go on. If it continues we will be less subtle the next time, glamour girls.

Time Out

Summer is gone—a summer of dribbling faucets, burnt lawns, ruined gardens! Our schools are bursting at the seams, traffic congestion and shopping conditions are chasing folks to neighboring villages to spend their dollars! Should set the plan commission and our village fathers to thinking!

No one wants to throw a block into the wheels of progress, but isn't it about time to stop rolling out the red carpet to eager builders, anxious to make "a quick buck," who buy neighboring farms and then petition to be annexed to our already overburdened facilities?

Let's pause and digest what we've already swallowed, before we develop a worse case of indigestion than we're experiencing now!

More Managers

The number of city managers in Illinois has doubled in the last 2 years, a study shows. A statistical study by the international city manager's association, shows that Illinois now has 36 city or village managers, 18 of them having been appointed since January 1, 1953.

The nation as a whole had 1,275 manager-type local governments, including cities, villages, and a few counties at the end of 1954.

According to one of its recent publications, the council-manager plan is "a far reaching attempt to resolve the apparent conflict between democracy and efficiency.

"Democracy is preserved in the population election of a small council on a short ballot which does not overtax the capacity of the citizen to understand his government," the association said.

"Efficiency is achieved by the employment of a manager, professionally trained, for the technical job of administration.

"The danger of bureaucracy, irresponsible and unresponsive to the will of the community is met by giving the council complete control of the manager's tenure in office."

JUST from Patty McArdle AROUND THE CORNER

Dear Peg:

As you know, I had a little job chauffering children to and from a play class this summer. Well, dear, it went to my head—I have started a nursery school! I should say "we" have started a nursery school—my good friend, Nell McDonald and I became "partners" through the strangest and most wonderful circumstances.

For the past couple of months, I have been toying with the idea of forming a small group of eight or ten children, whose ages were around three and four, and holding a little play class in our apartment in the mornings during the week. I knew Bridget would miss Megan so much—since she was to be gone all day in school—and there are no other little children in our neighborhood to play with. A morning nursery school was the solution.

I HAD GONE so far as to announce the class in our church bulletin, tell all my friends about it and even accept several enrollments when, through objections raised by other tenants in the building (quite understandably as we live on the third floor and do not have wall to wall carpeting—in fact do not have much carpeting of any kind!) I was asked not to have it there. This left me high and dry. I started calling everyone I knew to see if they were interested in renting out a recreation room. Many were interested but found that the increase they would have to take in insurance would be prohibitive—as long as they were just renting for the nominal amount I was willing and able to pay.

I had reached the end of my ideas and was about to go see a "nice, big sunny room—centrally located" that a sweet, soft-voiced lady said I could rent for $60.00 a month. Even though I had explained what I wanted it for and she had agreed that it would be satisfactory with her, I was afraid that somehow it wouldn't work out—again too many people involved (I believe she also kept roomers). Now, here's the startling part of the story: Determined to rent the room, if it were at all satisfactory, I picked up my purse, sweater and keys and, being a little late, hurriedly started for the door. Without thinking, I said to myself, "please let me find a place," and at that moment the phone rang and a voice on the other end said, "Hello, Mrs. McArdle? This is Mrs. McDonald, Nell McDonald, I noticed your announcement about your nursery school and wondered if you needed any help."

"OH YES," I SAID, "I know who you are—your little boy is in Megan's room at school. Why I'm afraid Mrs. McDonald that I don't need any help with the children—I only have four enrolled so far. What I need badly is a place to have the nursery school."

"Well, I thought maybe you'd like some help getting started and then later when the class is larger you'd need help conducting it—I'm a registered nurse, you see. We could use our house for the class, if you're interested."

FROM THAT MOMENT on we became "partners." The McDonalds live in a big Victorian house. Although Nell has five children, only three are at home and two of those are in school all day. So, right now, there is much more house than there is family. Nell thought maybe she'd teach at the YWCA nursery, but when she saw my notice, she thought it would be more fun to work together and thought too that I might appreciate the full use of her large, airy, bright living room for the class! Needless to say, we got together that very day and I couldn't believe my eyes when I went over the following day and saw her living room void of all furniture except the sofa, and already beginning to be filled with kiddie-size furnishings.

We have been having the best time going around to second hand furniture stores and Salvation Army depots to find clean repairable children's toys and furniture. For the story of our first two weeks' adventure—see next week's column.

My love,
Patty.

THE FENCE POST

Letters to the Fence Post should be short and concise. All letters must be signed, though name will be withheld if desired. Address Fence Post, Paddock Publications, Inc., Arlington Heights, Ill.

Regressive Party

Thank you for the big black headline, and the extra editorial box concerning the 2 a.m. coup d'etat. A black border might also have been appropriate commemorating the demise of honest government in Arlington Heights.

"Regressive Party" would be a much better name for the blundering policitians who have taken over our village government in such a high-handed manner. They started out with a campaign of tearing down the status quo without any constructive program of improvement. It was a great shock to us that so many Arlington Heights voters were taken in by those vicious poison pen letters so full of misrepresentation.

OUR HEARTS were heavy when we heard that they had been elected, but we resolved to keep an open mind and judge them by their actions. It didn't take long. The Consumer's fiasco where they made laughingstocks of themselves and the Village, (They got themselves out on that limb by trying to carry out one of their rash campaign promises) the sprinkling mess where they changed the schedule so often that no conscientious person knew from day to day when he could sprinkle. At one time they actually stipulated the peak hours of water usage as a proper time for sprinkling.

The reports of every board meeting (and the reporters are to be praised for their restraint and objectivity) are filled with fence sitting and procrastination. Every controversial matter was promptly referred to someone for further study and usually heard of no more. The only action I can remember was negative, lowering the lot size requirements in one subdivision so that we could become even more overcrowded.

AND NOW this surreptitious scuttling of the city manager, whose efficiency is surely a threat to their way of administering government.

We pay higher taxes than Chicago, and many other suburbs, but have always until now, been proud to point out that we got our money's worth in good municipal service. One point of pride has been the employment of a competent professional to spend our money to the best advantage. I'm sure hardworking Mr. Buechner has saved us many times his salary.

This type of sneaky political maneuvering is one reason many of us left Chicago. Please let's not allow it here! Let's have a referendum! Let's show them that we want trustees we can trust in Arlington Heights!

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bulinski
Arlington Heights

Want Referendum

This is an article of protest — plain and simple protest, signed by a few citizens of Arlington Heights who, having no personal, political ambitions, remain sufficiently interested in their community to strongly object to the high-handed methods used by our Board of Trustees at their last meeting to oust the Village Manager. We have a few questions to ask and want them answered!

1. Why don't we have a referendum vote of the people to decide this question of village manager? We remember that at the time of the last election the Civic Service Party stated they favored a referendum vote of the people to decide whether or not a village manager be hired.

2. Why not retain the present village manager until a referendum is held, or does his presence interfere with the plans of the Majority Four of the board to run the village in their own way?

3. Finally, why was an issue as important as this left to the ungodly hour of 2 a.m., or was it just coincidence that action was deferred until most of the citizens and especially, a prominent president of one of the home owners' associations had left the meeting?

Death Trap

There are many anxious moments when I see the disregard of highway regulations pertaining to the passing of school buses while loading and unloading school children.

Just this morning (Sept. 22) the school bus proceeding southeast on Rand rd. had stopped to take on some children. Several cars slowed down and stopped, but one car coming at a high rate of speed was unable to stop in time and in his endeavor to stop, his car skidded sideways on a dry pavement, then veered into the center northbound lane head-on toward an oncoming semi-trailer truck which also was passing the school bus.

A tragic catastrophy was narrowly averted. Unfortunately, I was not close enough to see license numbers and too excited to note the name of the trucking company. My young son was on that school bus.

Had a head-on collision occurred, the school bus most certainly would have been involved and the lives of those children endangered. According to the Sept. 22 issue of the local newspaper which carried a picture of a serious accident, Rand rd. has been labeled a "death trap."

When are the driving public and the truck lines going to observe laws regarding the passing of school buses? Are we to wait until my son, and your son or daughter, is crushed to death or maimed before action is taken to stop violators?

Concerted action by an aroused citizenry supported by the press seems to be necessary. There apparently is no patrol of this highway by state, county, or local police during the time school buses are in operation.

Juvenile Delinquency

We have heard so much of the problems of the youth of today, and it is a $64 question what to do about it. It has grown to such proportions it is no longer the families of the children, alone, who are involved. It is society's problem. Of course, one realizes when you even attempt to point out a logical reason or a reasonable solution you are laying yourself wide open to "the big stick" of human opinions.

It seems funny, all the progress that has been made, through research, mechanical inventions and natural discoveries, that we have adjusted our ideas above primitive methods of our most rapid changing environments.

However, to solve the problems of petty destructiveness, gang wars and other exploits of some of our teenagers, one must understand that the whole of human civilization are the repressive instincts, the suppression of which develops into tension.

A WORKING understanding of child psychology has taught us that this tension leads to some outlandish demonstrations of devilry, and that anything which leads to relaxation is a mental tonic. We also have learned that amateur theater groups, scout activities, baseball, in fact all competitive sports, are good substitutes for the excitement of gangland activities. These diversions are a healthy outlet for pent-up psychic steam, which quickly increases during the critical period of a child's life when they are going through unusual physical and psychological changes.

These conditions are intensified because as a social unit, many have refused any discussion or mental diagnosis of the problem that confronts us. In most every city and many towns we have child welfare clinics and family counselors open and free for advice and counsel, learning most recent methods of controlling and eliminating what now seems to be most serious problem of juvenile delinquency.

We know many of these children come from fine homes, good parents and can no longer believe that "because the fathers have eaten sour grapes the children's teeth should be on edge." We have also learned even though we did not "spare the rod and spoil the child," there is still the problem of serious misconduct and misbehavior and it is well for us to learn how to cope with it.

Mrs. Ruth J. Ross,
Chicago

Backward Step

Other Chicago suburbs progress. Arlington makes lineage in the Chicago newspapers by a backward step.

The same night our 4 new trustees voted to oust the village manager in a surprise move, Mt. Prospect's board instructed the village attorney to prepare an ordinance creating the new office of village manager. At the Mt. Prospect meeting it was brought out that a village manager can be employed either under the state statute or by ordinance. Under the statute method the board tends to become a mere rubber stamp, the manager having great authority even to the appointment of village officers such as attorney, treasurer, etc.

UNDER ORDINANCE the village board remains in control with the manager working under the direction of the board. Outstanding villages in the state operate under the ordinance method.

This is the method under which the manager of Arlington Heights has been operating. It seems the only people objecting to our efficient manager are the village officials who have been forced to work a little harder and the 4 new board members.

Better Government

All over our nation the managerial system of municipal government has increasingly become the one the voters choose. Why?

It places the many and complex functions of village administration under the supervision of a single full-time official who is trained and non-political. In keeping with American representative democracy, it places the responsibility for determining the general policies of the village with the elected board of trustees, delegating the administrative function to the manager, an appointed official who works under the board.

In municipalities that are ridden with political favoritism, it offers a path to better government since the manager is a professionally trained, non-political official. Village managers have a record for not having been involved in political scandals.

Leaders in business and government, as well as many civic groups such as the Illinois Chamber of Commerce heartily endorse it.

We urge that the voters of Arlington Heights stand with the other forward-looking citizens of our state and nation by wholeheartedly working for, voting for, and enacting into law, the managerial system of municipal government for Arlington Heights.

New High School

It is being rumored that certain merchants in Arlington Heights are opposed to the proposed new high school building on Foundry rd. Certainly these few must have overlooked the fact that the school supplies, food and clothing we buy for our children; the payments we make on our homes; and the furnishings and appliances we buy for these homes: as well as the doctor and dentist bills we pay for our families are the reasons these same people are in business.

Good public relations and increased business would surely result from a positive approach to this critical situation. A new high school is desperately needed.

Need For Manager

The need for a village manager in this town surely must be obvious to every thinking person.

With a manager, village management is placed in the hands of a trained professional administrator, whereas the leading vote-getter in any community (the mayor) may or may not be an able, trained administrator.

Further, the manager is more or less permanently in the job---thus, is not subject to the whims of the voters and comparatively free from political pressure---whereas any mayor must keep the voter in mind, and his decisions may tend to be guided by what will please the voters, rather than what is best for the community.

THE DEGREE of need for such trained management will of course vary with the community. In the case of Arlington Heights, surely the need can be termed desperate.

With the many complications of rapid expansion, this community needs the maximum of experience, resourcefulness and skill of personnel, and of efficiency in system, or a chaotic condition will result.

To watch one trustees meeting, and see these harassed individuals try to cope with endless routine problems, would impress anyone with the hopelessness of the present system. It is like trying to run a first-class department store with six part-time clerks.

Look at the record, for further proof. Water shortages, inadequate parking, lack of tangible plans for shopping centers, industry admissions, and over-all civic development. Last year's problems still this year's problems. An off-the-cuff, play-it-by-ear, week-by-week handling of matters, some of which should have been settled by long-range planning three years ago.

ONE CANNOT live in this town long without developing great admiration for how capably community activities are handled---the PTA, the dance clubs, bridge groups, theater groups, the churches, etc.---which makes some of the fumbling in village administration all the more shocking in contrast.

Then, last year a step was taken to provide some solution when a professional, experienced, dispassionate executive was brought in to take over business management.

But as soon as he began to operate, knifing began. Not having gone to high school with anyone concerned, free from old ties, not depending upon votes, he could impersonally suggest the changes and improvements which any businessman would make.

This meant some changes in system, some tightening of loose ends, re-examination of old-time arrangements for professional services, some retirements--for the good of the town.

IT SEEMS apparent that forces are present which do not want such changes made. A new political party was quickly formed, which elected a new majority to the board of trustees, elected on various voiced issues but really committed, some charged at the time, to the primary issue of ousting the village manager and restoring the old order.

This has now come to pass, in what looks like a sneak action at 2:00 o'clock in the morning.

Whether there are plums involved, whether this represents simply a jealous guarding of personal prestige and privilege, or whether other reasons are responsible is something on which the ordinary citizen can only conjecture.

But it seems a reasonable guess that the purpose is to keep out any "outsider" who might militate too strongly for efficient government and disturb a cozy condition.

THIS GUESS is given strength by vague personal attacks on the manager himself, whereas anyone who bothers to investigate will quickly identify him as a man of high caliber, character, and ability.

In any event, it seems obvious this attempt to return to vest-pocket government confronts the people of Arlington Heights with a clear-cut issue.

They can either allow this progressive community to be run like a cross-roads village, with more and more of Chicago-type politics assuming control. or they can take vigorous action now to erase the cheap politics from our village government and put its administration on a level commensurate with the cultural level and the needs of the community.

This town, with its basically sound character, the warm spirit and the intelligence of its people, offers a rare opportunity to bring up our kids in a clean, progressive, constructive environment. But it can get away from us---and quickly—unless we are willing to get our feet wet now in civic matters, and let the will of the real majority of our population be felt emphatically at the Village Hall, right now.

Dark Of The Noon

The heartiest laugh I have had this week occurred when I read the statement credited to Mayor. Goedke that he knew nothing of the plan to oust the village manager.

I did not laugh, however, about the manner in which the village manager was "fired", after 2 o'ed by James Millay, after 2 o'clock in the morning and in the presence of only one spectator. Action of this sort is an outrage to the people of Arlington Heights. Ramming through such a motion without debate, and in the dark of the moon, can only reflect utter contempt for the wishes of the great majority of people in this community.

The community has grown too The community has grown too large to be administered on a part time basis. We need a village manager and Mr. Buehner has been a good one.

DOWN ON THE FARM

with Your Farm Adviser
CARL F. MEES

If you attended the outlook meeting Monday evening, September 26, at the farm bureau building, Arlington Heights, here are some of the things you heard.

More money may be spent for food in '56. — Consumer spending for food is likely to increase moderately until next summer.

Consumers' income and spending have given unusual support to economic progress during the past two years. Consumer income and spending usually move up and down with changes in industrial output. During the 1954 recession, however, disposable personal income actually increased, for the first time in the records of business cycles.

Professor Bassie, University of Illinois believes that expenditures for food are likely to maintain a moderate upward trend into the summer of 1956.

1955 PIG CROP equals record for peacetime — Hog production is increasing more than was expected earlier. This year will be near the record for peacetime.

The supply of pork when compared with our population is not excessive. For 1955 the supply will total 66 to 67 pounds per person. This is only about equal to the average consumption since the war. But supplies of competing beef and poultry are much larger than average, and pork has been losing favor and consumers. In five years the share of family money spent for pork has dropped about one-fifth.

The supply of pork in prospect for 1956 is 66 to 68 pounds per person, depending on the size of the next spring pig crop. Meat-type hogs will top markets.

BEEF OUTPUT will hold near peak level through next year. — Prospects are good for making average profits in cattle feeding in the next year. The beef cattle industry has shown unusual stability during the past two years and only moderate changes are expected in the next year.

Beef supply this year is expected to be about 79 pounds per person — equal to last year's record, and 24 pounds more than four years ago.

In 1956 the supply will probably be around 77 to 81 pounds per person. The larger amount could easily be produced by a moderate selling-off of cows and heifers.

Consumer demand through most of next year is expected to stay at least as strong as it is now.

BROILER OUTPUT reaches new high — Broiler growers seem to be building for trouble again. They expanded too fast in 1954 and sold their birds as low as 17 and 18 cents a pound last December.

With smaller supplies, prices climbed to 28 and 30 cents by March. Then replacements rolled up to 10 per cent over year before levels. With bigger supplies coming to market, the trade had no alternative but to drop prices.

Prices may recover some by midwinter, but probably not to the levels of last spring.

HIGHER PRICES for eggs — Prices of eggs this fall and during the first half of 1956 will continue well above those of a year earlier, and will be good during the last half of 1956. So believes Elmer Broadbent of the agricultural marketing division of the University of Illinois.

Better prices for turkeys expected — The turkey situation has improved considerably over what seemed likely earlier. About 3 per cent fewer heavy-breed turkeys are being raised than last year. Output of light breeds is being reduced by around 30 per cent. Demand for turkey will be strong again this fall. Prices seem higher than in 1954.

GREATER USE of milk products cuts surplus — The dairy situation has cleared up considerably in the last year. The rapid increase in milk production has been stopped. Consumption of dairy products has increased. Surplus stocks have been reduced. And prices to farmers have been stabilized.

Production leveling off — Milk production this year will be about equal to the 123.5 billion pounds produced in 1954. This compares with 115 billion pounds in 1951 and 1952.

Consumption is higher — Consumption of fluid milk and butter during the early part of this year was 4 to 5 per cent higher than a year earlier. Sales of cheese were up about 8 per cent.

Hot Weather Ripens Corn And Beans Rapidly

Continued extremely hot weather in mid-September has ripened corn and beans very rapidly. Several days of 90 degree temperatures with good breezes dropped moisture percentages in corn and soy beans quite rapidly. Very little moisture fell in the Corn Belt states until around September 20, when scattered showers spread from Nebraska eastward affecting a good many sections. This rain was too late to affect corn yields at all.

Both corn picking and bean combining are well ahead of normal. Practically all beans will be combined by September 30 and much corn harvested. Soybeans will come more nearly being a normal crop than corn as they can stand drouth better. The big soybean producing region in central Illinois in the Tuscola, Decatur, and Champaign area report yields of 26 to 27 bushels on large acreages with some fields making 40 bushels. Other areas will not be so fortunate, but a big national acreage insures a big crop.

NEARLY ALL areas suffered from a considerable deficiency of August rainfall. This lack of moisture shortened corn kernels and corn ears and was particularly hard on late planted and late maturing corn. The western half of the Corn Belt will have quite disappointing yields. Midwestern agriculture is again in the position of needing heavy fall rains to build up a supply of subsoil moisture in most areas.

The second brood of corn borers seems to be quite heavy in northern Illinois, Iowa and Minnesota. This generation has a liking for eating on ear shanks, causing considerable ear dropping, especially in fall winds and storms. Farmers are advised to pick as early as possible to avoid ear dropping due to the second brood of borers, and stalk breakage due to the interior tunneling of the first brood.

Healthy Animals

The University of Illinois veterinary medicine clinic treats 15,000 animals a year.

Leptospirosis Circular Available

A circular on "Leptospirosis in Cattle and Swine," believed to be the first published by an agricultural experiment station in the United States, has been printed at the University of Illinois.

It was written by Dr. H. S. Bryan of the college of veterinary medicine, says Carl F. Mees, Cook county farm adviser. You can get one at your farm adviser's office, by asking for Circular 750.

Dr. Bryan says that leptospirosis has become a major problem in the nation's livestock industry; it was first identified in Illinois in 1947. In the past three years, blood tests made at the college showed that 77 counties had infected herds.

ABORTION is the main symptom of the disease, and in swine it may be the only symptom you see. Cattle and swine infected with the severe form may die rapidly. In addition to causing losses in livestock and livestock production, it may affect humans.

Caused by spiral-shaped bacteria, leptospirosis is spread through the urine of infected animals. In acute form the germs are present in blood and many tissues of the diseased animal. In the chronic form, the bacteria are localized in the kidneys.

OTHER SYMPTOMS occurring primarily in cattle are depression, loss of appetite, high temperature and loss of weight. Blood is often passed in the urine. In dairy animals, milk production may drop sharply, and the udder secretes a thick, yellow, blood-tinged fluid.

To control leptospirosis, the circular says to consult a veterinarian for accurate diagnosis, isolate acute cases, pasteurize milk, use blood tests to detect the disease, and prevent urine contamination of feed and water supplies. (Fm

Tell Simple Provisions Of State Egg Law On Farms

With renewed interest in enforcing the Illinois egg law, many farmers are wondering what it means. According to farm adviser Carl F. Mees, compliance with the law will not be difficult so far as the producer is concerned.

Here are some common questions that are being asked, along with answers supplied by J. R. Roush, poultry marketing specialist at the University of Illinois:

Q. Do I need a license to sell the eggs I produce?

A. No, not as long as you sell only the eggs you produce on your own farm.

Q. Does the law require that my egg buyer buy eggs on a graded basis?

A. No. It does require that he candle all the eggs he buys from you and that he refuse to pay you for any eggs that are not fit for people to eat.

Q. WHAT IS the difference between candling and grading?

A. Grading goes further than candling. Candling means looking at the inside of the egg by means of a light in a fairly dark room. When eggs are candled, the inedible eggs are taken out. Before eggs are graded, they are candled. The graded eggs are divided according to the interior quality. All graded eggs are good eggs; some are just better than others. After being candled, graded eggs are usually sorted for size.

Q. If I sell directly to a housewife, do I have to candle the eggs?

A. If you produce them on your own farm, you do not. The housewife knows where they came from and whom to blame if she isn't satisfied.

Q. WHERE CAN I get more information on the Illinois Egg Laws.

A. Write to the Division of Markets, Illinois Department of Agriculture, Springfield, Illinois.

Q. How will enforcement of the Illinois Egg Law benefit the poultry business?

A. It should help in several ways. First, it will raise the reputation of Illinois eggs within the state. If the housewife knows that she can get 12 good eggs when she buys a dozen, she'll be likely to use more eggs.

Second, it will raise the reputation of Illinois eggs in out-of-state markets. If out-of-state buyers know that Illinois eggs are good, they'll pay more for them. And many Illinois eggs are sold out of state.

Third, it should cut market costs, and that in turn should raise the farm price of eggs. If inedible eggs are thrown out by the first man to handle them, the cost of handling and transporting worthless eggs will be saved. Also when worthless eggs are bought, some way must be found to pay for them. The result has been lower prices and an unfair advantage to the farmer who sold good eggs.

Chilean Visitors Visit Farms For Tips On Farming

by JOHN H. BICKET
ASSIST. FARM ADVISER

Aperson often wishes he could speak more than one language and last Friday I caught myself in that position.

Mario A. Bertassi, agricultural engineer for the agricultural economics department of the Chile ministry of agriculture, and Humberto Markowicz, coffee farmer from Brazil were in the county to observe agriculture and methods used by American farmers.

Both of these men have spent considerable time in the United States and were on their way to the conclusion of a year and one-half of collecting information, ideas and knowledge of American farming in order that they might take it to their respective Countries to improve the quality of farming operations there.

AS YOU MIGHT readily, understand, farming and farm problems in Chile and Brazil are quite different from what they are here. Their problem is to increase production while ours is to cope with the surplus already produced. Mr. Bertassi of Chile pointed out the government has a program in effect whereby they will pay a difference of 20 per cent over market prices if farmers in his country follow the approved practices as outlined by the ministry of agriculture.

Their main problem is that of soil conservation and increased yields. He said, in fact, it is now necessary for farmers in their country to plant two trees for every tree cut down. Chile has just gone through the worst drought in the history of the country. Eighty per cent of farm produce was lost through drought including crops and livestock. Mr. Markowicz of Brazil stated that the main problem there was to increase yields and bring under cultivation vast areas of Western Brazil that are now mostly forest areas.

I TOOK THESE men on a tour of dairy, poultry and vegetable farms observing dairy installations on the farm of Wm. and Wilmer Rohlwing which included first hand observing of a bulk tank dairy installation.

On the farm of Weidner Bros. they saw a poultry operation of some 7500 laying hens. They were most interested in the grading machine and candling of the eggs in preparation of high quality produce for market.

Feeder Cattle Prices Level

Feeder cattle prices this fall will be about the same or slightly lower than last year reports National Live Stock Producer, the nation's leading live stock magazine.

A seasonal movement of grass cattle is expected with peak volume hitting late September or October. The potential supply of stockers and feeders is about the same as a year ago.

Feeder buyers are advised to watch market reports closely and take advantage of any temporary price weakness.

TWO FACTORS point toward a weak demand for feeder cattle this fall. The expected supply of slaughter cattle along with larger pork supplies will probably keep fed cattle prices slightly below late 1954 price levels, and the narrow margins realized by many cattle feeders this past season will make them more cautious buyers.

Factors tending to stimulate demand for feeders are:

A NEAR - RECORD supply of feeds and concentrates are in prospect for the 1955-56 season.

Lower support prices on feed grains will lend encouragement to cattle feeders.

The severe drouth which prevailed for three years throughout the central and southern great plains was broken during May and June. If improved range conditions extend into the fall, the demand for feeder cattle will be much stronger than last year.

Fete Fire Prevention On Farm TV Show

Fire prevention on the farm and in the home will be discussed on the "Farmtown, USA" television show Sunday, Oct. 2 at 2 p.m. (D ST) over WBBM-TV, channel 2.

James E. Collins, division marshall in charge of the Chicago fire prevention bureau, will demonstrate the use of the correct type of fire extinguisher for various kinds of fires. Collins has been a fire fighter for 39 years.

Also appearing as guests of George Menard, "Farmtown" master of ceremonies, will be: Ward Cross, assistant general manager of Country Mutual Fire Insurance Company; Art Henderson, safety director for IAA insurance service; and Bob Rogers, assistant to Henderson.

Handy Jim's FIXIN-UP TIPS For the Home

Marble-Pattern Bath

FOR a bathroom decor that is attractively different, walls may be covered with distinctive marble-pattern paneling of hardboard with baked plastic finish. Marlite paneling offers a choice of five imported marble patterns in authentic reproductions that provide the beauty of the luxurious stone at a fraction of its cost.

Large four-foot-wide panels cover walls more quickly than do materials fabricated in small units. The paneling's smooth, hard baked surfaces, resistant to moisture and soiling, is easily wiped clean. It has a durable and serviceable base of Masonite tempered hardboard. Matching moldings are available for the panels, as are waterproof adhesive and joint-sealing compounds.

The paneling also is made in plain colors and wood grain patterns.

Glass Jugs

Break glass jugs after you've used them, and you'll lessen the chances of an accident with gasoline.

Record Cow

Ray E. Meyer of Roselle has a record cow, Florem Pearl, who was milked 2 times daily for 365 days, giving 16,748 lbs. milk and 657 lbs. butterfat. She averaged 21 quarts daily, was 3 years, 7 months old when milking began.

'55 Cost Sharing Still Available For Soil Saving

Farmers who are interested in carrying out soil conservation practices this fall and need cost-sharing assistance should consider signing up under the AC program, advised, Carl M. Bormet, chairman of the local ASC office.

As a result of additional funds and authorizations, we are now in a position to offer more assistance to farmers than was originally thought possible, explained Mr. Bormet. Therefore, farmers who have need for such practices as limestone, rock phosphate, and tile outlets are invited to stop at our office located at 201 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, to discuss the program.

IT SHOULD BE clearly understood, continued Mr. Bormet, that farmers are eligible for the AC program even though they do not comply with the corn and wheat allotment programs. Such a restriction was in effect at the beginning of the year but it was removed last spring by congressional action.

All farmers desiring to participate in the AC program must file a request for assistance before the practice is started. Such requests can be filled out at our office and they will be accepted as long as funds are available.

Although it is the purpose to concentrate on obtaining increased conservation work during the remainder of the 1955 calendar year, farmers who desire to make advance plans for projects to be carried out in 1956 may sign up for the 1956 program beginning October 1.

Sudan Grass

Tests at the Dixon Spring experiment station show that Sudan grass is strictly a dry-weather emergency pasture that won't produce high cattle gains.

Home Nurses

The Red Cross last year awarded a certificate every 2 minutes to persons completing the home nursing courses.

Keep It Gay

High-producing dairy cows are less likely to go off feed when you include a bulky feed like oats or wheat bran in the grain mix than when you feed more of the heavy grains.

To Exhibit Cows At Dairy Show

Two Cook county dairy herds will have exhibits at the coming International Dairy Show Oct. 8 through 15 in the Amphitheatre of the Chicago stock yards.

Gertrude McNaught, Elgin, owner of Rolling Acres Farm, has listed eight Guernsey females for showing in the classes for heifers and cofs. W. H. Odlum, Roselle, will show a Guernsey bull calf and three females.

A colorful parade on downtown State st. will spotlight milk and dairy foods on Saturday, Oct. 8. During the eight-day event top show strings of dairy purebreds from 22 states and Canada will compete for $40,000 in premiums.

Daily demonstrations of cookery featuring dairy products will be held where winners in the $25,000 Golden Dairy recipe contest will show their prize recipes.

Dairy Show To Open October 8

Purebred dairy cattle from many states and Canada have been listed for the 3rd annual International Dairy show, scheduled for the International Amphitheater October 8-15, the management reports.

Owners of the continent's finest dairy animals will compete for over $40,000 in cash prizes that will be offered in the competitions featureing six breeds — Ayrshires, Brown Swiss, Guernseys, Jerseys, Holsteins and Milking Shorthorns. The management anticipates an entry of over 2,000 animals.

One of the feature attractions at this year's event is the international Golden Dairy recipe contest in which more than 5,000 women have submitted their favorite dairy recipes. The contest will be conducted by Ruth Fisher Holbrook, noted Chicago food consultant. She will conduct a twice daily food forum during the 8-day run of the show in a specially installed "Dream Kitchen."

PRIZES VALUED at $25,000 will be awarded to winners in this event—the grand prize winner to receive an all-expense trip to Europe. Other winning entrants will receive refrigerators, washers, stoves, and varied other useful household appliances.

Cowboys and Cowgirls from all parts of the United States and Canada are making their entries to compete for the $20,000 that will be offered in cash awards in a series of dangerous events that will assure spectators thrills and spills at each performance.

North Cook Rural Youth Plans Bowling League At Arlington

North Cook rural youth held its monthly meeting Wednesday evening, September 21 in the meeting room of the farm bureau building.

Plans for a bowling league were discussed and bowling will begin Tuesday, September 27, at 7 p.m. at the Arlington Heights Bowling Lanes.

The group also decided to attend the International dairy show and championship rodeo October 12.

Other items discussed were the receipts from the 4-H fair and plans for a membership drive.

After the meeting adjourned recreation was enjoyed with Alfred Goebbert and Loraine Plote in charge.

Refreshments were served by Harriet and Leroy Moellenkamp.

Record Cows

The publication of a list of all-time state production leader holsteins milked under the official herd improvement registry program has been released by the Holstein-Friesian association of America.

Among state leaders is Martin Loeber of Palatine, ranking first through efforts of Winlane Princess Ty Vic, who gave 22,810 pounds milk, 1,015 pounds butterfat.

Another winner was Dorothy Hammerstein of Roselle, gaining a second, through efforts of Gay-jean Montvic Inka Star, who gave 20,505 pounds milk and 993 pounds butterfat.

Well-Planned Farmstead Can Pay Off In Big Dividends

A good farmstead arrangement keeps paying off in efficiency, safety and attractiveness, says, Carl F. Mees, Cook county farm adviser.

If you plan to change your farmstead, you probably won't be able to do it all at once, he explains. But with careful planning you can organize the changes and make them one at a time.

A UNIVERSITY of Illinois circular entitled "Planning Your Farmstead" will give you a good basis for making decisions for organizing your farmstead, whether you are planning a completely new arrangement or just improving your old one.

According to Circular 732, you must work with nature in planning your farmstead, not against it Mees says. Natural influences usually can't be changed, but their effects can sometimes be modified.

AMONG POINTS discussed are good drainage from the service area away from the house, proper grading where necessary, and consideration or prevailing winds and direction of sunlight when making the plans.

The circular also covers many other points. After you finish reading it, you should be better able to do a good job of revamping your old farmstead or planning a new one, says Mees.

FOUR COLLEGE of agriculture departments cooperated in writing this circular. The authors are Keith H. Hinchcliff, agricultural engineering; Lawson B. Culver, forestry; Leonard R. Kyle, agricultural economics; and Harleigh R. Kemmerer, horticulture.

You can get a copy at your farm adviser's office, 201 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, or from the college of agriculture at Urbana.

Announce Exams For 3 U.S. Academies

Representative Marguerite Stitt Church (R), 13th district, announces that her competitive examination for all candidates for appointment to the naval academy and the military academy and nomination for admission to the air force academy in 1956 will be held under the auspices of the civil service commission Monday, November 14. The examination will be held at Chicago, Des Plaines, Evanston, and Waukegan.

Representative Church will have three vacancies at the naval academy and one at the military academy in 1956. In addition, she will be allowed to nominate ten candidates for possible admission to the air force academy in 1956, with the final selection of air cadets being made by the air force academy appointment branch on a state-wide basis. State of Illinois will be allowed 17 cadets.

All candidates must be actual residents of the 13th district, of sound physical health and good moral character, and must be not less than 17 nor more than 22 years of age on July 1, 1956. The 13th congressional district is composed of the townships of Barrington, Elk Grove, Evanston, Hanover, Leyden, Maine, New Trier, Niles, Northfield, Palatine, Schaumburg, Wheeling, and that part of Norwood Park township west of the center line of Canfield road in Cook county, and all of Lake county.

The applicant should designate the order of preference of Academies and where it would be most convenient for him to take the examination.

Coast Guard Exams

Representative Marguerite Stitt Church, (R) 13th district, has announced competitive examinations for entrance to the coast guard academy at New London, Conn., in 1956 will be held February 27 and 28.

Interested young men should write immediately to the coast guard, Washington 25, D. C., for full information. Deadline for submitting applications is January 15, 1956.

Dog Barks, Forces Police To Release Master From Jail

by BILL DILLINGHAM

For effecting the release of his master from jail, a dog has received the Silver Medal from a Protuguese society for animal protection. The medal was the highest award the society can give.

Pilot, the honored canine, posted himself outside of a town jail in the locality of Cartaxo and commenced to bark without interruption. His master, a local shoemaker, was inside and under arrest for drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

THE INTOXICATED shoemaker was taken into custody at ten o'clock in the evening, and by eleven thirty, after ninety minutes of nonstop barking, the police offical sent out two of his agents to cappure the animal.

Returning without success, they finally led the shoemaker into the street in hopes of luring the faithful animal into the hands of the law. But Pilot kept himself at a safe distance in spite of his master's involuntary calling.

BY THIS TIME several irate citizens had telephoned the police station complaining about the noise. Eight angry citizens banded together and chased Pilot through the surrounding area. Later account indicated that the unfortunate animal had received over a dozen direct hits from stones that left their marks.

But Pilot remained adamant in his demands, and at two-thirty in the morning, after four and a half hours of verbal protest, his master was released.

The police later admitted they had no other alternative because the dog catcher was away on vacation.

DOG LOVERS from the entire province have sent in word, and in some cases donations, praising the stand of Pilot. Even a man's wife, one dog owner said, would not scream and cry during four and a half hours.

The animal protective society responded to public pressure and arranged a special party for the animal. He was dined on a huge steak, and given a meaty bone to take home.

A case of dog biscuits was presented to the master for "discretional distribution." The association's highest award, The Silver Medal, was not hung around Pilot's neck as planned because he was chewing on his bone and nobody could get near him, but handed to the shoemaker instead.

Arabian Horses In Show This Weekend

Arabian registry lists some 7,000 purebred Arabian horses in America today of which over 175 of the finest are entered in the fifth annual All-Arabian horse show at the International Amphitheater, September 30 and October 1.

These fabulous Arabians are all of championship caliber and are eligible for the championship in all classes such as English, Western, harness and costumes, ingaited, pleasure, parade, weaving, driving, trail ride, stock horse and cattle cutting. In addition, two sensational acts will be featured—Donna West of Barrington, Wis., with her trained Arabian stallion, DARYAN, and Lin Gray with his beautiful trick Arabian stallion that will have as his pal and companion the only trained bear ever to ride a horse.

In North Carolina

Private Richard E. Kohler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Gustafson of Bensenville is ready to make his qualifying jump with the famed 82d airborne division at Fort Bragg, N. C. He wears his main parachute on his back, his reserve parachute and combat pack (front), and his individual weapon in a canvas container (left). The jump is his fifth from a C-119 aircraft, marking the end of five weeks of intensive physical and technical training, qualifying him as a paratrooper and member of "America's Guard of Honor."

Pvt. Kohler is a squad leader in A company, 325th airborne infantry regiment, a unit of the famed airborne division, "America's Guard of Honor."

Soprano To Sing

Soprano Lotte Lehmann will make her first appearance in the Chicago area since 1950 at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Oct. 3, in Lutkin hall Northwestern University, Evanston. Subsequent performances will be from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. on Oct. 5, 7, 10, 12 and 14 in Lutkin hall. Series tickets may be obtained by writing to the Concert Manager, Northwestern university music school, Evanston.

NEEDLE in the GROOVE

by PAUL LITTLE

You jazz fans have a wonderful treat in the form of four 12-inch platters from Atlantic, one of America's most progressive jazz disc firms and headed by the gifted Nesuhi Ertegun, whom we remember as the original mentor of Good Time Jazz on the West Coast. This cross-country transfer has not one whit lessened Ertegun's sterling ambition to give us the finest sound and artistry which can be set down on wax and grooves, and you'll hear why once you set your turntable to spinning and let the wide-range pickup track those grooves!

"Jazz & Romantic Places" is the title of the first Atlantic waxing, starring the Dave Pell octet. Dave's tenor sax is one of the smoothest virtuoso styles in all modern jazz, as a listen to "Paris in the Spring" and "Flying Down to Rio" will at once convince you. With boys like baritone saxist Bob Gordon, trumpeteer Don Fagerquist, trombonist Ray Sims, guitarist Tony Rizzi, bassist Buddy Clark, drummer Bill Richmond and Don Trenner sparkling at piano and celeste, this combo makes jazz meant for intent listening. Try the appealing pace of "Memphis in June" or "Sunday in Savannah," just to mention a few of the many great tunes on this entertaining platter. Sound is stunningly vivid and exciting. A hi-fi delight!

THEN THERE's Mabel Mercer singing Cole Porter classics on another 12-incher, backed by Cy Walter and Stan Freeman at the pianos and Frank Carroll on bass. She has an intimate style exactly right for songs like "It's Delovely," "So in Love," and "Ours"—incidentally, the thirteen songs on this disc are relatively new and that's a wonderful thing, because Cole Porter's melodies and lyrics are wonderfully diversified. Miss Mercer has the rare gift of flawless diction, which makes the song all that much more enjoyable. A standout disc, not to be missed!

If you're hungry for some genuine New Orleans jazz, we recommend heartily Atlantic's 12-incher by Paul Barbarin, that great drummer from the town of Mardi Gras who played in the immortal King Oliver, Sidney Bechet and Louis Armstrong bands. The combo on this disc is made up of trumpet, clarinet, trombone, piano, banjo, bass and drums: perfectly balanced and just right for the true New Orleans style. You'll rave about the way this group does "Eh La Bas," with its mambo-like rhythms. "Someday Sweetheart" has a sentimental side to it.

BARBARIN RECORDED it thirty years ago with King Oliver, and this 1955 version follows the Oliver arrangement to the spirit. "Crescent Blues" is a number improvised in nine minutes and waxed at the first take, a telling indication of the imaginative style of the Barbarin combo; another gem is Barbarin's own composition, "Bourbon Street Parade," with its rhythmic flourishes and jaunty pace. Again, hi-fi sound to make this a terrific listening experience!

Fourth Atlantic platter will bring back memories to us "oldsters" who remember the great Chicago school of jazz. It's called "Big Jazz," and it was originally recorded fifteen years ago. One side of it is devoted to Jack Teagarden's "Big Eight," with names like Ben Webster, one of the greatest tenor saxmen of all time; Barney Bigard, who could make a clarinet talk sweet; and Dave Tough, who pioneered a brand-new way of playing drums.

Love of the Indian girl, Sacajawea, for explorer William Clark, is told in "The Far Horizons," which opens Sunday for 3 nights at Catlow theater, Barrington. Charlton Heston is cast as Clark and Donna Reed as the girl, with Fred MacMurray and Barbara Hale co-starred.

Des Plaines Theatre Guild Opens Ninth Season Sept. 30

"The Caine Mutiny Court Martial" by Herman Wouk will be presented by the Theatre Guild of Des Plaines September 30 at Rand Park field house, Des Plaines. It will also be presented October 1, 6, 7 and 8.

"The Caine Mutiny" introduces the 9th season for the Theatre Guild, which started from a handful of people acting in church plays into an organization of 100 producing shows to capacity audiences.

Taken from the best-selling novel, "The Caine Mutiny," the play is the story of a neurotic mine-sweeper captain operating under the stress of a typhoon, an executive officer who risks his career to save the ship, and the resourceful attorney who defends him. The play was originally produced on Broadway by Paul Gregory and later as a movie starring Humphrey Bogart, Van Johnson, Fred MacMurray and Jose Ferrer.

Northwest Symphony Begins Season With Patron Drive

The annual drive for patron and associate members is the first major item of business for the 1955-56 season of the Northwest Symphony Orchestra association. The month of October was designated for this effort by the board of directors of the association at its meeting September 17.

Associate members contribute $10 per year; patrons $25 or more. Associate members and patrons receive 2 tickets for each concert during the season; names of associate members and patrons are printed on the programs for the concerts.

Last year 113 families in the northwest side communities lent support to this community enterprise by subscribing for non-playing memberships. The board was greatly heartened by this fine backing from the community, and hopes that this year's response will further increase the membership of the symphony association.

Season tickets for the orchestra's 3 public concerts will go on sale November 1. Concert dates are November 29, March 4 and May 20, all at Maine township high school auditorium.

There are still openings for new players in the violin, viola, string bass and percussion sections. Those interested may call Mrs. Dale Taylor at Vanderbilt 4-4431. Rehearsals are Tuesday evenings at Maine township high school at 7:45 p.m. (B5

'Caine Mutiny'

"The Caine Mutiny Court Martial" by Herman Wouk will be presented by the Theatre Guild of Des Plaines beginning September 30 at Rand Park field house, 2025 Miner Street, Des Plaines.

DESIGN FOR LIVING
Building - Remodeling - Improving

Begin Final Phase of Refiners' Terminal At Oakton And 83

Construction has been started on a new Sinclair Refining company terminal at the intersection of Route 83 and Oakton st., 2½ miles south of Mt. Prospect, W. D. Cross Jr., vice president and central district manager, has announced.

He said the facility, officially designated as the Des Plaines terminal, will provide a pipe line link between the company's important gasoline and fuel oil marketing area in the surrounding northwest communities, and its refinery in East Chicago, Ind.

Cross said this marks another phase of Sinclair's continuing program to expand terminal operations where the need for them is indicated, and to speed distribution of products.

THE PROJECT includes an office building, truck racks to handle an average of 150 vehicles a day, and facilities to service trucks plus other equipment. It is located on a 16 acre tract of land which allows for ample room for future expansion.

The outer dimensions of the building will be 60 by 104 feet, of which 5,040 square feet have been allocated to office space. The remainder of the structure will be used for servicing dquipment. The modern, one story building will be of face brick and air-conditioned throughout. Plans call for appropriate landscaping and fencing.

THREE FUEL storage tanks already have been constructed on the site and connected to a section of the Badger pipe line system previously installed. Badger is owned jointly by Sinclair and three other major oil companies. Three more tanks are scheduled for completion in November at which time distribution of gasoline and fuel oil from the terminal will be started. Completion of the entire project is expected by mid-January.

Each tank has capacity of 54,000 barrels of fuel. Three will be used for gasoline, the other three for fuel oil. The Des Plaines terminal is 47½ miles from the East Chicago refinery, via the Badger Line, and the line fill, or amount of product from point of origin to the terminal, totals 38,152 barrels. The pumping rate from East Chicago to the Des Plaines Terminal varies from 1,500 to 2,200 barrels an hour.

Face Record Jam Of Backlog Legal Cases

Eighty judges this week started to hack away at 80,000 legal cases which had accumulated in Cook county during a summer recess in local courts.

In most cases, this was a record backlog in the county's cumbersome judicial system and included Circuit, Superior, County, Probate, Appellate, and Federal courts.

To assist speeding up the legal process--if possible--Cook county taxpayers were paying 15 downstate judges $40 a day plus traveling expenses.

Suits filed against 55 suburban towns and villages in the county were being squeezed into the Circuit and Superior court dockets. Among the villages involved are Berwyn, Oak Park, Cicero, Park Ridge, Skokie, Franklin Park, Des Plaines, and Niles.

Police Unable to Patrol Route During 8 to 9 a.m. Rush Hours

by CHARLES HAYES

Protests to state and county officials continued to mount this week as northwest citizens demanded that something be done to curtail madcap speeding on U.S. 12 between Lake Zurich and Des Plaines.

The 16-mile stretch of 4-lane pavement, known as Rand rd., has an accident rate 9 times greater than other rural primary highways in Illinois.

Despite the tumult, however, state highway officials were "doubltful" that a 45-mph speed limit could be imposed on the roadway.

Such action, apparently, must come from the state.

COOK COUNTY Sheriff Joseph D. Lohman, alarmed at zooming accident and death rates on U. S. 12, has urged a 45-mph limit from the Lake-Cook county line to U. S. 45 (Mannheim rd.)

Explaining that the highway is presenting a threat to the life of residents along the route, Lohman pointed out that the area — once farmland — is now more than 50 per cent residential.

He assured residents that he was investigating statutes to find out what, if any, action he can take as sheriff.

Althouh Gov. Stratton has demanded speed limits for certain highways in unincorporated areas, his district highway engineer told Paddock Publications that the state will not post speed signs in such areas because "there is no one to enforce them."

The state police usually are responsible for such enforcement.

J. P. TUTHILL, district engineer, said the state will post speeds only within municipalities — thus admitting that Rand rd. is wide open territory for the gas pedal.

Also pessimistic about speed control was H. H. Harrison, state engineer of traffic, who said Monday he would nevertheless urge Tuthill to make a speed study of Rand rd.

Such studies are made at public request.

"I am doubtful about a 45-mph limit," explained Harrison. "I would hate for the state or this department to appear ridiculous if no one complied with it — and how can you enforce 45-mph if not even half the motorists abide by it?"

He added that there would just be a "multiplicity of violators."

MEANWHILE, RAND rd. residents continued to be "up in arms."

In a letter to the Fence Post this week, Charles G. Gray of Mt. Prospect describes a hair-raising experience last Thursday involving a Feehanville school bus loaded with children. The bus, stopped on Rand rd. to pick up a pupil, nearly missed being rammed by a careening auto traveling so fast it skidded sideways on dry pavement and nearly plunged headlong into an oncomir., semi-trailer truck.

"Something must be done," exclaimed Gray, "to not only control speed but also enforce regulations about passing school buses loading and unloading children."

He said the state police refused a request from parents that Rand rd. be patrolled during the morning rush hour traffic when school buses travel the route. State police said they are changing shifts at that hour.

REPORTS MRS. George Price of Mt. Prospect: "We're afraid to drive on Rand rd. Whenever possible, we use other roads and my husband drives on Northwest hwy."

A Palatine businessman, whose trade has been affected by motorists' fear of Rand rd., said he has written Sheriff Lohman to encourage him in his campaign to make the highway safer.

"Rand rd. has become even more dangerous in recent years," said R. C. Knupper, a nursery owner. "Drivers ignore side roads, travel at frightening speeds, and think they have the right of way all the time. Hazardous driving conditions has affected our business because too many people are afraid to drive out here

An Editorial

HUMAN LIFE IS AT STAKE

The hazard of Rand rd. is "old stuff" to residents of the northwest towns.

A typical home-owner on U. S. 12 said recently that she doesn't even bother going to the window any more when she hears the whine of ambulance sirens. "You get used to it—like the noise of jets."

Even the most blase have become alarmed, however, at the soaring accident and fatality rate on Cook county's highway death trap. Last year 11 persons were killed and 287 injured. This year it may be more.

Sheriff Lohman, who instructed his traffic bureau to make a study of Rand rd., has recommended a 45-mph speed limit for U. S. 12 from Lake Zurich to Des Plaines. He pointed out that such a limit is necessary since Rand rd. is now more than 50 per cent residential and dissected with innumerable side roads, intersections, and driveways which make speeds of 60 to 80-mph treacherous.

The state highway department, in whose hands the decision must rest, is dubious about speed control for Rand.

This skepticism is based upon an admission that state highways are not patrolled—in spite of the state police—and enforcement is "almost impossible."

Readers of Paddock Publications are urged to write J. P. Tuthill, district engineer, 160 N. LaSalle, Chicago, and demand a speed study of Rand rd.

If the state police are unable to enforce safety regulation on a state highway, then the taxpayers of Cook county will have to make sure that roads are patrolled by a police force capable of keeping them sfe.

At present, the Committee on Help of the Judges of the Circuit court of Cook county is considering the need for expanding traffic personnel and facilities of the county sheriff's police.

Apparently the need—here, at least—is painfully obvious.

New Ideas In Homes

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. C-329

DESIGN C-329. The floor plan for this house shows three bedfooms grouped in one end of the house, a bathroom, comfortable living room, and combination kitchen-dinette. There is an attached garage and a full basement, except under the garage.

Folding doors connect the living and dining rooms, which can be combined into one large room. There is a liberal amount of closet space provided in the numerous bedroom and hall closets.

The exterior finish of the house includes wide bevel and vertical siding, plywood gable end, asphalt shingles.

The ground area is 1194 square feet and cubage is 23,522 cubic feet, not including the garage.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS
836 N. Mitchell

Just what would you give to have a separate TV Room where the children could watch their own programs? This home has an exceptionally large 15'4"x21'4" living room with fireplace; 2 full baths; 3 bedrooms and Den. 1st Floor laundry adjacent to a lovely kitchen. Large 87'x145' corner lot. Alum. storms and screens; 2 car garage. It's a perfect setting for antique furniture and reminiscent of the New England Colonials. Priced for quick sale at only $26,900.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS
1206 E. Oakton

This 5 year old 3 bedroom brick ranch on 2½ acres within the Village Limits could very well be the buy of the year. Without a doubt the extra land offered will materially reduce the investment when the extra lots are sold. In the meantime enjoy the 44 tree orchard and a beautiful landscaped front lawn with circular drive. Full basement — birch formica kitchen — 2 fireplaces — 2 car garage — priced at $28,900 and WORTH IT!

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS
511 Mayfair (Scarsdale)

A very substantial Brick Home featuring a living room 15'6"x24' with fireplace and formal dining room 12'x 14'. 3 twin size bedrooms—1½ baths. Recreation Room. Porch—2 car garage—a top location—a TOP VALUE! $32,500.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS
413 North Douglas Street

A charming 3 Bedroom Cape Cod with 2 Full Baths in an excellent North Side Location is offered here. It is only 5 years old and has many extras — such as carpeting — water softener—storms & screens. 1½ car garage—beautifully landscaped. Only $23,500—$7,500 Down.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS
1107 Wilke
Virginia Terrace

This 3 bedroom contemporary has a living room 13'x20' with picture window overlooking the rear garden. Many extras included such as GE washer, dryer, dishwasher, range; storms and screens. Only $18,900—GI financing.

PROSPECT HEIGHTS
204 South Park

A long low rambling hip roof—3 bedroom ranch flanked by a spectacular weeping willow. Attached 2 car garage and 26' porch. Beautifully landscaped 123'x186' lot. Add a living room 12'7"x24'6" and 1½ baths and here at the reduced price of $21,900 is a BARGAIN! $4,200 Down.

PROSPECT HEIGHTS
304 Clarendon

A 3 Bedroom Cape Cod offering an unusual double size living room with huge fireplace. Full dining room—modern kitchen and 1st floor laundry —2 full baths. Thermopane picture window overlooks attractive shaded garden. It's a real value at ONLY $22,500, $4,500 Down.

MOUNT PROSPECT
118 S. WaPella

A 3 bedroom brick and stone tri-level of excellent quality offered for quick sale by transferred owner. This home features a large family room and 2 full baths — formica counters, birch cabinets in kitchen—check the price and you will agree at $25,900 it's the best TRI-LEVEL BUY in Town. $17,600 mortgage available.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS
540 S. Highland

An older but immaculate brick English Tudor home offering the most space per dollar invested. New Gas Hot Water Heating System—Newly remodeled kitchen — birch cabinets — newly decorated; carpeting and many extras. Recreation room with powder room. Sure you would prefer a new house, we all would, but $10,000.00 more invested to get the same livable space in a new house is approximately $80.00 per month more in payments and then it's doubtful if you would have the convenience of this location. THINK IT OVER! Only $22,500. $16,000 Mtg. available.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS
1 S. Mitchell

A trim center entrance 3 bedroom Colonial with 1½ baths and screened porch opening from living room. Gas warm air heat, carpeting included. Garage. Just reduced by out of town owner to only $20,750. Approx. $3,900 Down—FHA Financing.

Money Paid For Condemned Land, Must Be Reinvested To Avoid Tax

In the past year over 4,000 acres of land in Illinois were taken by condemnation or sold under threat of condemnation. It is estimated that new highways and municipal lakes alone will take 6,000 acres in the coming year. The estimated cost is over $4,000,000.

When private property is taken or purchased for such purposes, the income tax law calls it an involuntary conversion. In other words, the property is converted to another use without the consent of the owner.

USUALLY the owner is paid more than the market price for the land — to reduce resistance caused by the feeling that the public should pay more than individuals for property and that moving against one's will is worth something extra. Since the amount received is generally above cost, the farmer has a profit (gain) for income tax. If he places the money in the bank or uses it to buy property that is not similar to farm land, he must pay a capital-gains tax on the profit.

However, the income tax law contains special relief provisions that a farmer may use. If he buys other acreage or another farm, his profit is postponed until such time as he sells the new acreage or farm. There are limitations, of course:

1. HE MUST PAY the same or a higher price for the new property. If he pays a lower price than he received, he must report the difference as capital gain in the next income tax return.
2. He must reinvest the money (identical funds need not be used) before the end of year following the year in which he received the money.
3. The new property must be similar to that condemned or sold under threat of condemnation.

If a farmer decides to sell under threat of condemnation and not reinvest, it is advisable for him to use an installment contract so that his gain may be reported over a period of years. In such cases, not over 30 per cent of the purchase price can be paid in the year of sale.

Garage of the Week

Two Mt. Prospect men, Robert J. Carlson 1100 W. Lincoln st. and Joseph B. Gatts, 321 S. George st., of the Prudential Insurance Co. attended the company's 3-day "80th Anniversary" conference of management representatives at Newark, N. J. last week. (BB

Jewel Sales Up

Jewel Tea Co., Inc. sales for the four weeks ended September 10, 1955, were 12.9% over a year ago. Sales in that period totaled $22,884,555 or $2,611,339 more than in corresponding weeks a year ago.

Accumulated sales for the thirty-six weeks ended September 10, 1955 totaled $206,213,775, a gain of 11.4% over sales of $185,085,218 a year ago. (BB

Wide Optimism On Business Front Here

Widespread optimism characterizes the U. S. economy in late summer, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reports, as the nation's business continues to pick up strength. Behind the current boom and the rosy outlook for the period immediately ahead, the bank points out in its monthly review, "Business Conditions," is upward pressure from both consumers and business.

Consumers have been spending freely, and the most recent survey of buying intentions indicates that they are in a broadly optimistic frame of mind.

BUSINESS OUTLAYS for new plant and equipment are climbing at an "impressive" rate. Moreover, many firms appear to be contemplating further additions to inventory. Manufacturers' new orders — rising in anticipation of the good business ahead — have jumped 27 per cent from year-ago levels, and order backlogs are again on the upswing.

In view of these buoyant forces the scheduled production cutbacks for automobile model changeovers do not loom as a major brake on the economy. Nor are the recent reductions in housing starts expected to put a damper on business, since total construction awards are continuing well above year-ago levels.

THE SHARP GAIN in business activity over the past year has occurred without appreciably higher prices. But upward price pressure is currently gaining strength. Selective increases in a number of lines, including steel, aluminum, copper, tires, TV sets and farm machinery, have boosted the index of wholesale prices for industrial materials and products by about 1 per cent since mid-June.

Tightening money in recent weeks, however, gives promise of helping to keep the boom within bounds. Demands for borrowed funds have been very strong with mortgage lending at record volume and consumer and business loans expanding much more than seasonally. As a result of the strong demand for funds and a somewhat more restrictive monetary policy, interest rates have firmed, especially for shorter-term credit.

OTHER SIGNS which indicate that credit may become less readily available include the increase in Federal Reserve rediscount rates and the tighter reserve position of commercial banks. The recent moderate tightening of FHA and VA mortgage terms also will be felt in the coming months. Already many lenders have voluntarily stiffened their requirements on such loans. (BB

To Announce New Dodge October 6

Selection of a record number of newspapers to be used in launching the 1956 Dodge advertising program has been announced by Jack W. Minor, Dodge sales manager in charge of advertising and merchandising.

"Every important newspaper across the nation will carry the 1956 Dodge model announcement advertisements beginning Oct. 6," Minor said. "More than 1,000 of these will be in major market areas."

A highly diversified use of all advertising media is planned for the new car announcement phase. Heavy newspaper lineage throughout the first three weeks of the announcement period will be accompanied by full-color magazine display emphasizing the 1956 Dodge theme: "Born of Success To Challenge the Future."

"We're picking up right where we left off on the 1955 models," Minor said. "1955 was a great year for Dodge, and 1956 promises to be even better. The push-button era of mororing is here at last, and this new '56 Dodge feature already has captured the imagination of millions of American car owners. (BB

Hails 91st Year

Lyon-Healy, Chicago's oldest and largest music store, will celebrate its 91st year beginning October 1 and continuing all through the month. The store, which has since grown to a chain of ten from coast to coast, was founded in Chicago on October 16, 1864.

One of the events planned is a special "91st anniversary music value festival" promotion, the largest sales event of the year. The Lyon-Healy Chicagoland music student contest and the Lyon-Healy young artist's recitals are two more anniversary attractions. (BB

Bits O' Business

Steel production in August, at 9,583,000 tons, was the highest for any August in history . . . Department store sales in New York increased 17 per cent in the September 10 week over the like week of 1954 . . . Total sales of retail stores in August were $15.4 billion.

Medical Conference

New Manager Of Palatine Motors

A business based on friendship — that's the goal of Mickey Keifer, new general manager of Palatine Motors, 42 W. Chicago ave., Palatine.

"I'm most anxious for people to be our friends," said Keifer, whose interest in autos started as a hobby. "A steady business nourished with friendly relations — that's how I want to continue doing business with the residents of this community."

He is enthusiastic about the service he can offer Palatine motorists. "There is a continuing need for convenient, modern automobile sales and service facilities offering a quality product," said Keifer. "I am happy to be able to help meet this need for Palatine."

Palatine Motors, Palatine's largest new car dealer, has Dodge and Plymouth cars and Dodge trucks.

Before assuming his new duties here, Keifer was manager of the builder department of General Electric Supply co. and sales manager of Lorel Rug co. (BB

National Sales Up

National Tea Co. continues to pour on sales increases at the rate of nearly a million dollars a week, according to H. V. McNamara, president, who reported a 34 million dollar increase in sales for 36 weeks of operatons. Sales for the year to date, ending September 10th, total $385,019,828 as compared to $351,293,166 for the same period of a year ago, for an increase of 9.60 per cent.

National Tea Co.'s consolidated sales for the four week period ending September 10, 1955, were $42,595,825 as compared with $39,192,224 for the same period of 1954—an increase of 8.68 per cent. (BB

DESIGN FOR LIVING

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

During the calendar year 1955 more men will graduate from military service in the armed forces than will graduate from all of the high schools and colleges and universities of our nation put together. In 1919, there were 4 million veterans; in 1946, there were 20 million; and in 1956, there will be 40 million.

These figures are from notes on an address by Chaplain Frederick Brink of the navy to the Presbyterian General Assembly, last spring.

YOUNG MEN are entering military service at the most formative period of their lives — in their late teens. This is the time when they make decisions which will shape their whole future. These decisions are made in this formative period without the usual social restraints. No parent will be around to note whether a boy comes home at midnight or five in the morning. Decisions will be made without the normal restraints and helps of the home situation.

Decisions are made in a moral climate of good and bad in the extreme. All too often decisions will be made solely on the basis of experience. Chaplain Brink estimates that 2 out of 5 assigned to the Far East will meet young women who will welcome their attention, that one of these is quite likely to establish living arrangements without thought of marriage, that some will certainly want to marry and bring their wives back to the states. The cold sober fact is that such marriage has little chance of success because of environmental factors.

THESE FIGURES might well have been true of European assignments a few years ago. As European recovery progresses, the moral laxity decreases.

This places tremendous responsibilities upon home and church preparations for military service. Too many of us who live in "normal, respectable" communities hesitate to discuss with young men the hard facts of the social side of military service. We know that such young men may drink foolishly, but most of us really do not think they are likely to use narcotics — not even when in the Far East it is possible to obtain 98 per cent heroin at only a quarter a shot.

The services are aware that the moral situation has changed drastically from pre-World War 2 conditions. But they are still not in a position to maintain moral supervision of servicemen off the base. Further, as home and church must recognize, it is true of moral struggles just as it is true of armies and football teams and prizefighters, that conditioning for the battle is a great part of coming through the struggle triumphantly.

'Fast Buck' Builders Breed Slums, Charges Commissioner

Slums have been planted in the suburbs.

So charged Charles F. Chaplin, county commissioner from Northbrook, who listed 3 reasons for the condition:

1-improper building and the lack of adequate inspection while the buildings were under construction;
2- poor zoning; and
3- a deplorable school situation.

CHAPLIN DID not single out any 1 suburb as a festering spot for future slums.

But he did blame "fast buck" builders for most of the faulty building construction in recent years as well as praising "career" builders who have proven generally reliable.

Poor zoning, said the commissioner, former mayor of Northbrook, has resulted in some areas with homes hugging one another and surrounded by vast stretches of unused land.

A poor school situation afflicts many communities because of an inadequate tax base, he said, caused by poor distribution of industrial and commercial properties. These villages need older homes and industry to tap badly needed tax revenues.

HE SUGGESTED a state school tax for property owners with the money allocated according to need.

Insufficient sanitation is still another reason for the growing slum menace in the suburbs, declared Chaplin. Specifically, he cited septic tanks, charging that many of them don't work at all and others only sporadically.

United Schedules 20 Flights Daily From O'Hare Field

More schedules will be shifted from Midway to O'Hare Field by United Air Lines than by any other carrier, according to plans announced by Morgan Nickell, district sales manager. Commercial flights are slated to begin at O'Hare October 30.

First schedules call for 10 departing and an equal number of arriving flights each day. They will be operated with four-engine 50-passenger first class and 72-passenger air coach DC-6 Mainliners as well as with twin-engine 44-passenger Mainliner Convairs. All are pressurized and carry air mail, freight and express as well as passengers.

"THE SCHEDULES, worked out in conjunction with the other airlines, were designed to enable through passengers whenever possible to change planes without changing airports," Nickell said. "United's flights were set up to provide the best possible initial service for Chicagoans and suburbanites who live closer to O'Hare than Midway."

The airline's ticket counter and office space will occupy 1,900 square feet on the second floor of the O'Hare terminal building, its crew quarters, communications, cargo, load planning and dispatch offices, 10,400 square feet on the ground level. Approximately 70 United ground employees will be transferred to O'Hare.

First Aid Classes

A Red Cross First Aid instructors clinic will open Monday evening, October 3, Roy D. Day, Chicago Red Cross first aid chairman, announces. The clinic will meet each Monday evening throughout October.

Volunteer instructors are urgently needed to teach classes in industries. Last year, 29,632 persons were trained in first aid in 916 classes.

Ike, Scout, Religious Leaders Endorse New Boy Scout Program

President Eisenhower, international scout officials and religious leaders endorsed the new 4-year program known as "Onward for God and My Country" that the Boy Scouts of America will launch January 1, 1956, it was announced by scout executive Stanley H. Huntington who returned recently to Park Ridge from the tenth national training conference of the organization held at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

The 4-year program will help prepare America's boyhood to live in today's world and to prepare themselves to carry their full share in the days ahead.

HUNTINGTON was accompanied by four other members of the Northwest Suburban council staff. They are: assistant scout executive Jordan A. Minerva of Des Plaines and district executives Randolph Falvey of Palatine, Thomas W. James of Arlington Heights and Warren A. White of Skokie.

The week-long conference attracted 2,754 boy scout executives, full-time professional leader of the organization, from all parts of the United States and its territories.

President Eisenhower, honorary president of the boy scouts and member of its national executive board, in a message read by Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, chief scout executive, and chairman of the conference, said:

"This conference should be of great value to the launching of the new 4-year Scouting program with the theme, "Onward for God and My Country." I congratulate all of you on your accomplishments in the first 2 programs. And I wish you success in the effort which the organization now undertakes to provide an increasingly better program for an increasing number of young people, and thereby to fortify in them physical, mental, and moral qualities that will enable them to discharge well their obligations as citizens of a free and democratic society."

THE FIRST of the 2 Scouting programs mentioned in President Eisenhower's message was the crusade to "Strengthen the Arm of Liberty" launched in Jan. 1949 and whose dramatic results demonstrated the appeal and vitality of Scouting. The second program, "Forward on Liberty's Team" launched in 1952 and concluding this Dec. 31 was "to make the boy — our movement — our nation — physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight."

Dr. Herold C. Hunt, Harvard professor of education, newly-designated under secretary of health, education and welfare, told the scout executives that the new program is "filled with magnificent promise for our nation for it is built upon a recognition of the current needs of our times and is geared specifically to youth of scout age." He also said that "youth in vastly increasing numbers have accepted the scout oath and law as their ideal and have become affiliated with the group of youth pledged to God and Country."

Barrington Votes Nov. Fall Months Time To Move Any Trees

September means it's tree transplanting time again.

The transplanting season for evergreens is in full swing and deciduous trees will move nicely after October 1st. With due allowance for sub-zero weather the transplanting season continues until early spring.

But all too often small trees are injured or killed in the planting process, advises R. J. McWilliams, field supervisor for Davey Tree Expert Co.

Main reason for the high mortality rate often is carelessness on the part of the property owner. If trees are freshly dug and proper precautions are taken in planting, they should survive. Good drainage is a must. Trees planted in heavy clay soils will drown before spring unless drainage is provided.

The young tree should be planted in a hole at least 18 inches deep and wider than the roots, to allow for root spread. Then the hole should be filled with a mixture of earth and peat moss — not earth alone. Three parts soil and one part peat moss thoroughly premixed makes a good planting medium.

Pruning is another important step. All damaged or broken branches and a portion of the good ones should be trimmed. Broken or injured roots also should be cut before the tree is placed in the earth-peat moss mixture.

When the hole is three-fourths full, water is poured to the top. The fill is completed after the water settles. (DL

Domestic Employees Should Check On Social Security

Domestic employees are urged to act now to assure the timely crediting of earnings to their social security account. Julius Berman, Northwest District Manager of the Social Security Administration believes there may be some household workers whose earnings for the calendar quarter ending September 30, will not be reported by their employers because of misunderstanding or ignorance of the law.

Any household worker who is paid at least $50 in a calendar quarter by one employer should receive credit for the earnings on his or her Social Security account. The employer is required by law to withhold 2 per cent of the worker's gross earnings as the employee's share of the Social Security tax and the employer pays the same amount. Earnings for the quarter ending this month should be reported in October.

For their own protection, domestic workers who are not sure whether their earnings are being reported, should ask their employers.

To Dedicate Medical Building At NW Insurance Session

Northwestern university will dedicate the new Chicago campus Morton medical research building and celebrate the 98th founders day of the medical school on Tuesday, Sept. 27.

Dedication ceremonies for the seven-story building for clinical research will take place at 10:30 a.m. at Superior st. and Fairbanks ct.

Stop The Press!

A hot job, particularly in summer, is that of plating pages from mats at Paddock Publications. Metal is kept at 700 degrees while plating is in process from the 2-ton metal pot. Almost 80 plates are cast weekly, each weighing about 30 pounds, better than a ton in weight.

Try this on a day when the mercury is lounging in the 90's, with room temperature pushing 120. If you feel you can still handle it, you may be hired when this man succumbs.

Death Notices

IN MEMORIAM

Gaitsch—Ida Gaitsch. In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, who passed away on October 1, 1954:
You were a friend to truth of soul sincere,
In action faithful, and in honor clear.
The souls of the righteous are in the hand of God,
And there shall be no torment to touch them,
Our wife and mother rests in heavenly peace.
Loving husband and daughters,
Charles, Norma and Nancy (*

IN MEMORIAM

Carolyn Voelker — In loving memory of our mother, who passed away 10 years ago, Sept. 29, 1945.
Memories are treasures no one can steal,
Death leaves a wound no one can heal,
She lives with us in memories still
Not yesterday but always will.
Loving son and daughters-in-law
Charles, Frieda and Ida (*

CARD OF THANKS

We want to sincerely thank all our relatives, friends and neighbors who were so thoughtful and sympathetic during our recent period of bereavement.
Family of
R. M. Firnbach
